

Smart Styles

Rarely has there been such an interest in style in shoes. The prevailing skirts have made them as important as hats.

Women who have never been able to endure dress shoes, can put on their Red Cross models and begin wearing them at once.

The Red Cross Shoe has done away with untold cases of foot suffering.

It fits at every point, supports the foot perfectly so as to remove all strain. Its sole bends with your foot, entirely prevents the smarting and burning stiff sole cause.

The Red Cross Shoe never needs "breaking in." You can put it on in our store and wear it home, it is so easy to walk in. Oxford, $3.50 and $4. High shoes $4.50 and $5.

The shoe is named by the Special Red Cross Process. This process prevents all discomforts of the foot and keeps the shoe from becoming stiff and hard. Just like a glove never with your hand.

Get just the style you want and add the Red Cross comfort.

"Shaun Aroon" Not As Well
Attended Here As Production
Deserved.

"Shaun Aroon," an Irish comedy-drama was presented to a rather small audience at the Masonic last night by a home talent company under the direction of Prof. Hepburn as a benefit for the Coos Bay Naval Reserve Band. The attendance was not nearly as large as the production deserved.

A number of pleasing specialties besides some good musical numbers were introduced during the evening. Owing to the moving picture machine at the Opera House not being properly adjusted to permit the showing of the special slides, the views of Honolulu and a talk on them by Dr. J. T. McCormac had to be dispensed with.

The company did well throughout, showing the careful training and direction that Prof. Hepburn had given the local cast.

It is planned to produce the play in North Bend next Wednesday evening.

The cast of characters was as follows:
Shaun Aroon Claud S. Tucker
Lord Hermoy M. W. Byrne
Fergus Riordan Arthur Blanchard
Dan O'Grady L. A. Hepburn
Tom Hugh Long
Hennings Ralph Batchelor
Patrick Vince Pratt
Mrs. O'Grady Mrs. Francis Fenton
Molly Laura Keating
Maggie Miss Jenette Escott
