NOT ALL FADS.

A GREAT deal is said of the fads that have been introduced into the public school. Here is one innovation that is not a fad:

Swimming is to be taught in the Chicago public schools as a part of the regular curriculum. Plans were approved by the Chicago board of education for the new Nicholas Senn school building, which is to occupy the block at South Port and Francis avenues and Perry street, and it is there that the first pool will be constructed. Pupils are to get swimming lessons from an expert. Another pool will be built in the new building that is soon to be erected in the Hyde Park district.

Here is another innovation credited to Chicago that is not a fad:

The Nicholas Senn school is unique among the school buildings in the fact that it will be surrounded by ten acres of ground.

We are making progress, at some expense it is true for foolish experiment, but worth all it is costing.

When every school is in a garden of not less than twenty acres devoted to plant, trees, grains, and vegetables and the child is taught to understand and to love nature we shall have made an advance well worth the while.

THE NEIGHBORLY CLUB.

LET US learn from our neighbors. The Neighborly club is an invention from Indiana. It has flourished there for several years.

Its origin was very simple. A new house had been built on a farm, and the neighbors gathered for a surprise party and a house warming. A pleasant evening was spent. Just before leaving some one suggested that those present should organize for a continuation of the work so happily begun. Agreement was made to meet at another home some month ahead. At the meeting the name "The Neighborly Club" was suggested and adopted by unanimous vote. A committee was named to prepare a simple constitution, which was adopted at the third meeting. This constitution has stood the test of experience.

The number of families was limited to twelve, thus making a convenient circuit for a meeting at each home within a year. Programs were prepared for a year ahead, and quite an elaborate booklet was the result. Subjects were assigned of general interest to the home, the farm, and the community. Young people and children have been enthusiastic in carrying out the plans. About one third of the meetings are devoted to purely social entertainment. They have an annual picnic in which other families take part, and all spend together a happy, care-free day in the woods.

The Neighborly club has had a mission. It has supplied refined and instructive entertainment. It is now furnishing for some of the boys scholarships for Purdue university. There are many country districts in Oregon where a simple organization on these lines would be both pleasant and profitable for the neighbors.—Journal.

When a poor man is so warped by a spirit of envy that he hates his more fortunate neighbor and wishes him ill he is no better than the rich snob who looks with contempt upon those he thinks beneath him.

Every man in Oregon who votes to abridge the work and efficacy of the University of Oregon will stultify himself and go on record as an enemy of higher education, than which nothing is of deeper value in this age of progress and enlightenment. We have enough to do to contend against the ineradicable ignorance of the hour without choking the foundations from which we must draw the wisdom and culture and capacity for dealing with the new and vexing problems of our advance. To defeat the appropriation for the U. of O. is to tie a stone about our own necks and lapse back to civic impoverishment.—Astorian.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING.

Children need love and sympathy as much as flowers need air and sunshine.—Daytonite.

You may often think that hard

Is your lot; That with moral wounds you're scarred.

When you're not; But remember, when you doubt

What's ahead That you're never down and out

Till you're dead.

When Fate thumps you on the nose

With a whack, Don't you whimper at her blows;

'Hit her back! Grit your teeth and "go the route."

Till she's fed, For you're never down and out

Till you're dead!

Pull and wealth and all the rest

Help a bit; But the man who stands the test

Has the grit. Keep your heart and courage stout

As you tread, For you're never down and out

Till you're dead!

The eight-hour law for women is regarded as a joke in most kitchens.

Here's a new definition of honeymoon requirements—a hot plate and mother's picture.

UNCLE DUDLEY SAYS: "Give some Coos Bay fellers rope enough and they'll hang themselves, but then they's others fellers that'll rope somebody first closeline they get their hands on."

"What are you doing these days?"

"I'm windin' up my father's estate."

"How much of an estate did he leave?"

"Nothing but a Waterbury watch."

"Some men criticize politicians and others regards them as weeds. It's all a matter of having garden-sense."

LET US BEHOLD.

Behold the little tadpole, Who is always in the swim. Ere long he'll be a bullfrog. With exceeding length of limb. HARRY WRINKLER.

Behold the little kitten, So small and soft and cute, Ere long he'll be a tomcat. At which we hurl the boot. THAYER GRIMES.

Like some politicians, May can do a great deal of blowing in a brief space of time.

"What is harder than naming a baby?" asks the Johnstown Democrat. Well—er—have you ever watched your wife trying to button her own waist down the back?

These suffragettes are quite a bore. They'd make us all believe That Adam wasn't any more Than merely "Mr. Eve."

HEADLINES.

In this the age of Rapid Rise. Becoming great's a simple thing. He who at morn splits railroad ties At eve is the "Great Traction King."

The Chorus Girl put out the light And wakes as "Great Dramatic Star";

A man buys stocks, and over night Becomes the "Great Financial Czar."

One thing, however, still requires The same amount of time and bother

As in the slow days of our sires, And that's to be a Great Grandfather. K.M.S.

"What do I think of Electric Power?"

"I am driving my machinery with a 5-horse-power motor, and find the power highly satisfactory.

"For my purpose I would not consider any other power wherever electric power is available.
