

Pantaloons or Harem Skirts Shown At The Myers' Store Tomorrow

Friday and Saturday of This Week We Will Show and Demonstrate Several Styles of the New Pantaloons Skirt

The much discussed Pantaloons skirt is now in Marshfield,—and at The Myers Store, and will be shown Friday and Saturday of this week.

Pursuant with our established policy to bring to Marshfield promptly such styles or fads that show indications of receiving a big run in the Eastern cities, we have had our New York office select and send us several of the best styles of the Trousers Skirt. Every one visiting The Myers Store tomorrow or Saturday may view these much talked-of women's garments.

Trousers Skirt Popular

While not advocating the universal acceptance of the Trousers Skirt, yet we believe that these garments have a practical place to fill among women's apparel, and to this extent at least they have come to stay. Notwithstanding the severe criticism, they are neat and sensibly made, and to the casual observer are not detected from the ordinary tailored skirt.

Allows Free Body Movement

To a very great extent the Trousers Skirt is distinctly more decent than the tight hobble. A strong point in its favor is that it is eminently sanitary, and gives to the wearer comfort as well as warmth. It is also hygienic from the point of view that it allows freer movement of the body.

For Stormy Weather

As a type of skirt to be worn in windy or wet climates, it cannot be surpassed. It does away entirely with the necessity for underskirts, and from this point of view, it is a modest skirt, decent to a degree which is not possible where skirts are apt to be lifted or fly or swing about.

Harem Skirt Unpopular

As to the Harem Skirt, it can by no possibility be endorsed by even the most devout followers of the whims of fashion. As its name implies, it is designed directly from the costumes worn in the Orient, and cannot in any way be associated with the Trousers Skirt.

Are Really Bloomers

The Harem Skirt is nothing more nor less than very full, loose bloomers, caught in around the ankles—they are really bloomers exaggerated. Many of the styles presented are quite loose and draped, and made with an over-drapery which, however, in no way conceals, but in many cases emphasizes the form.

A Retrograde in Fashions

Unlike the Pantaloons or Trousers Skirt, the Harem is a retrograde movement in fashion. It may even be said to form a degree of degeneracy in clothes which should be strongly condemned, as it is pandering to a vulgar eccentricity of fashions. In short, the Harem garment is unfeminine: It is immodest.

Incidentally with this showing of the Trousers Skirts, we are also showing an entirely new line of the regular tailored Dress Skirts, in beautiful styles and materials. All are exceptional values and priced from $4.50 to $12.50. Plain and figured fabrics.

PLANS BRANCH HUMANE SOCIETY

Harry Winkler Takes Preliminary Steps for Organization Here.

Harry Winkler has taken preliminary steps for the organization of a Humane Society on Coos Bay. A number of other Coos Bay people are interested and it is likely that something definite will be done in the very near future.

Mr. Winkler has taken the matter up with R. A. Dunmire of Portland, special agent of the Oregon Humane Society, and secured information as to organizations, etc.

The object of the Humane Society, which was first organized in England nearly a century ago, is for the prevention of cruelty to any living being, animal, bird or human being. Of its accomplishments along this line, nearly every one knows.

Promenade Social.—The Ladies of St. Monica's church are making arrangements to give a promenade social in Eagle's hall on June 2.

Amos Corson's Residence There Destroyed By Fire.

The residence owned by Amos Corson and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Strauhal was totally destroyed by fire Sunday night. The fire was no doubt of incendiary origin, as it started in an old part of the house which was never used by Mr. and Mrs. Strauhal, and consequently

Another thing that looks very suspicious was the fact that the house had been ransacked Saturday and some things taken while the family was away.

Mr. and Mrs. Strauhal lost all of their household goods, including many valuable articles of family relics and a very fine library.—Bandon Recorder.
