WITH POMP AND PAGEANTRY GEORGE V IS CROWNED KING

Great of the Earth Participate in the Proud Ceremonials of Coronation. VAST CROWDS THROUG LONDON'S GAY STREETS Queen Mother Not Permitted to Witness Her Son's Triumph.

LONDON, England, June 22. — King George the V, eighth of the House of Hanover, was today crowned King of the British Empire, and given the public homage of his world wide subjects. With his consort queen, Mary, his majesty was crowned in the Abbey of Westminster with all the wealth of religious rites, and royal ceremonies described by custom. The picture within the gray-walled abbey was one of medieval splendor. The coronation services were solemn and impressive. The words were handed down from the earlier centuries, and the actors in the principal and secondary roles of today's great function were garbed in reproduction of the multicolored, gold embroidered trappings worn by their ancestors. The latter were made wonderfully effective setting around the central figures. Outside, the usually dull streets had been transformed into a mass of color. The king and queen's progress to the abbey, and the route to Buckingham palace was one of unbroken ovations. Hundreds of thousands of spectators shouted themselves hoarse, and at some points the throngs were so closely packed it would not have been difficult to have walked on the heads of the people. The tumult of thunderous welcome was almost deafening as the king and queen on the outward and home journeys preceded in the first instance and followed on the return by a stately superb cavalcade of eminent princes, many themselves heirs to thrones, statesmen, diplomats, courtiers, soldiers and men of all hues, races and creeds from the four quarters of the globe. The great coronation passed off unmarred by any untoward incidents. It was a proud day in the British Empire, but of all its millions, the one who perhaps had most reason to be proud was denied by court etiquette the joy of witnessing the triumphal event. At Sandringham palace, Queen Mother Alexandra, who 46 years ago this month gave birth to Britain's king, awaited news that her son had taken his place in the long line of English monarchs.

MRS. LENEVE PASSES AWAY

PROMINENT PIONEER OF COQUILLE VALLEY IS FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED THIS MORNING. (Special Long Distance Telephone to The Times.) COQUILLE, Ore., June 22.—Mrs. Noah Leneve, a prominent pioneer of the Coquille Valley, was found dead in bed at Conlogue's Camp at 2 o'clock this morning. She was there visiting her son and complained of being ill. When they went to her room to look after her wants, they found her dead. She leaves three daughters and six sons, all prominent in the community.

ELKS HAVE A BUSY SESSION

Grand Lodge Officer Visits Bay —Elks Will Help Celebration. Marshfield lodge of Elks enjoyed an interesting business and social session last evening. Dr. W. Carlton Smith of Salem, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler was present on a visit of inspection and exchange of social courtesies. At the conclusion of the regular order of business during which the initiatory work was exemplified by the induction of P. N. Reberg of North Bend into the order, a banquet was spread in the Masonic banquet room at which Dr. Smith was guest of honor. During the regular session it was decided that the Elks as a body will participate in the Fourth of July parade and Exalted Ruler C. F. McKnight authorized to appoint a special committee of three that will have charge of the details and arrangements. The banquet which followed was an exemplification of real good fellowship and the brief and brilliant toasts made the mental feast quite as enjoyable as the material. Dr. Smith promptly caught the booster spirit and paid a glowing tribute to Coos Bay's resources and prospects. M. C. Maloney acted as toastmaster and in addition to the principal speech of the evening made by the guest of honor, responses to toasts were made by C. F. McKnight, J. Albert Matson, J. V. Smeaton, A. S. Hammond, E. D. McArthur, J. D. Goss, and P. N. Reberg.

SOUTHERN OREGON CO. CHANGES

Large Corporation Passes Into the Control of C. R. Smith Who Has Been Elected New President—Elijah Smith Is Dropped. NEW OFFICERS OF SOUTHERN OREGON COMPANY. President—C. R. SMITH. Vice-president and treasurer—HERBERT ARMSTRONG. Secretary—C. G. HOCKETT. Assistant secretary and transfer agent—FRANK H. DAMON of Boston. NEW DIRECTORS OF SOUTHERN OREGON COMPANY. CHARLES R. SMITH. WM. H. MINER. HENRY S. SMITH. O. C. SETHER. HERBERT ARMSTRONG. R. E. SHINE. LEE WEBSTER. The above is the result of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Oregon Company which was held in Empire today. It confirms the forecast published in The Times some days ago of the transfer of the control of this big corporation from Elijah Smith to Charles R. Smith, head of the Menasha Wood-ware Company. The above official action of the stockholders is the only matters made public today. No announcement of any kind will be made for the present. C. R. Smith expected to be present but was called east on important business. It is not thought anything was done other than the change in the personnel of the directors and officers. The fact that Elijah Smith was not given a directorship would indicate that his holdings are very small. It is probable no announcement of the purposes of the company will be made until the next regular meeting of the new directors which will be held on Thursday, July 13. The following is the list of the old officers who are succeeded by the names printed above: Former Officers. Elijah Smith, President. James Polhemus, vice-president. R. E. Shine, secretary. F. H. Damon, treasurer.

TWO WOMEN NEARLY KILLED IN RUNAWAY NEAR COQUILLE

CHILD MEETS AWFUL DEATH

GEORGINA CROSBY DIES AS RESULT OF BURNS RECEIVED BY FALLING IN TUB OF BOILING WATER. Last night, after suffering two days from severe burns caused by falling in a tub of boiling water last Monday, Georgina Crosby, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Crosby of Catching Inlet, passed away. The death is the more pathetic as the father is absent in Washington seeking a new home and it is impossible to notify him in time for the funeral which takes place from their home tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. H. I. Rutledge officiating.

Elizabeth Gamble, Nurse in Mercy Hospital, May Be Fatally Injured.

MRS. BEN McMULLEN OF MYRTLE POINT, IS HURT

Thrown Into Rail Fence With Force to Crush Their Bodies. (Special to The Times.) COQUILLE, Ore., June 22.—Miss Gamble, the professional nurse of Coos Bay, received what may prove to be fatal injuries, and Mrs. Ben McMullen of Myrtle Point was seriously injured in a most distressing runaway accident near this city yesterday afternoon. Mrs. McMullen and Miss Gamble started from Myrtle Point for a pleasure drive to Coquille with a one-horse buggy. When near Coquille the animal became frightened at a cow and started to run and kick, smashing the single tree which thrust itself into the animal, further exciting it until it was tearing along the road at terrible speed the buggy, swaying from side to side. In a few minutes it struck some slight obstruction and both ladies were thrown out and hurled into a rail fence at the road side with such awful force that Miss Gamble's skull was fractured, her jaw bone broken, collar bone and several ribs broken. Mrs. McMullen was not so seriously hurt but suffered contusion of the chest, arms and legs. Miss Gamble was knocked unconscious by the fall and Mrs. McMullen screamed for help which soon reached her and brought both the injured women to this city. Mrs. McMullen was taken to the John Sloan home and Miss Gamble to the hotel and medical aid summoned. Dr. Cullin was called and a message also sent to Dr. Dix in Marshfield. Dr. Dix responded promptly and broke the Coquille, Marshfield auto record, making the trip from Front street, Marshfield, to the Coquille hotel in exactly fifty-five minutes. The injured women's wounds were dressed and everything possible done for the alleviation of their suffering. The accident is the more distressing as Mrs. McMullen had returned only a week ago from the Coos Bay hospital where she underwent an operation. Miss Gamble accompanied her to her home in Myrtle Point to nurse her back to health and yesterday was the first day she was able to be out. It was found that it would be necessary to take Miss Gamble to Coos Bay and perform a surgical operation to save her life. Accordingly she was prepared for the journey this morning and left on the ten o'clock train for Coos Bay. The young son of Mrs. McMullen, who accompanied them, escaped with a few slight bruises about the head. Arrives in Marshfield. Miss Elizabeth Gamble, for some years a professional nurse in Mercy hospital, arrived on the noon train from Coquille, carried on a stretcher. She had regained consciousness but was suffering greatly from many broken bones and bruises. She was taken at once to Mercy hospital at North Bend, where at a late hour this afternoon she was reported resting easily with chances in favor of her recovery. Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and lose several days' time, unless you have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance of the disease. CHAOS REIGNS IN THE SENATE

Further Confusion Is Caused When Finance Committee Decides to Throw Woolen Tariff and Farmers' Free List Bills In Open Senate. (By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—An already badly tangled situation in the Senate was still further complicated today when the Senate Finance Committee decided to throw the woolen revision and the so-called farmers' free list bills recently passed by the democratic House into the open Senate and at once to take their changes along with the Canadian reciprocity. Both measures however, received a formal adverse committee report. The committee refused to take the responsibility for reporting in detail on these measures at any given time, and decided to cast the burden of the Senate legislation on the coalition of the democrats and insurgent republicans suddenly brought about last night when the wool bill came from the House. The Finance Committee had been instructed to report the wool bill by July 1. It was reported today that Senator Clapp intended to offer a resolution of instruction as to the free list bill but the committee forestalled such action. "It has been demonstrated that the republicans no longer are in control of the Senate, and the responsibility has been taken from them." This statement from Penrose of Pennsylvania, the chairman of the once all-powerful committee on finance, today reflected the chaotic conditions in the Senate as a result of last night's fight over the House wool bill which brought about a coalition of democrats and progressive republicans by 39 to 18. This coalition instructed the Finance Committee to report the wool bill to the Senate by July 1. Smarting under this unusual action Penrose called a meeting of the Finance Committee for today. "It would schedule, and grant the requested hearings. Anything short by that time will be useless. The bill might just as well be reported today as on July 1," asserted Penrose. All guesses of a possible date for adjournment, it is now admitted, are useless. Some senators believe extra sessions will dovetail into the regular session next December.

In Lovegren Case It Is Contended That Giving Away of Liquor Is Not a Crime.

Before City Recorder Butler, arguments to a demurrer were made by the attorneys yesterday in the case of Charles Lovegren, charged with giving away liquors on Sunday. Lovegren was charged originally with selling liquors on Sunday, but at the suggestion of City Attorney J. Goss at the hearing a week ago, the charge was changed from selling liquors to giving away liquors on Sunday. Thomas Bennett representing the defendant contended that the giving away of liquors was not a crime, and that the charge against the defendant should be dismissed at once. Goss will file a brief today, and Recorder Butler expects to arrive at a decision during the next week. PHONE I. S. KAUFMAN & CO YOUR COAL ORDERS—$1.50 PER TON.
