TEN ACRES OF OREGON LAND.

OREGON is the region of opportunity for the young man. There is a chance in this state for young men to get good lands and to get them cheaply. That means that the young man who has the will and the foresight will find the means at hand in this Oregon country to lay the foundations, safe and sure, for independence in later years and competency and ease in his old age.

Ten acres of Oregon land, judiciously selected, will help achieve this for any moderate-minded individual. In a farm of that size, located in almost any part of Western Oregon, there is a good living and a bank account for any family of average size, to say nothing of the advanced values that will accrue later on from the growth and industrial development of the community. The young man of this state, whether he be a mechanic, a clerk or a professional man, will do well to take note of these facts and be guided by the suggestions they offer.

Wherein lies the credit and the satisfaction to any man of normal sense and ability to continue the dependent servant of someone else, when he may better serve the state in which he lives as his own master? Why should he continue to toil for others in office and shop or store, for a bare moiety of that which a producer, when, with a little prudent planning and economy, he may work on his own acres in the full enjoyment of Nature's health-giving influence, and receiving for his compensation all that his brain and muscle are able to coax from Nature's bounty?

We need a vigorous propaganda in a state that will direct the attention of young men to the manifold and manifest advantages of an Oregon ten-acre farm. First, there is the cheapness of it; the ease with which one can acquire possession and begin work in the achievement of his own future as an independent citizen. Second, there are facilities at his hand for becoming familiar with and availing himself of the most scientific methods of farming—methods that at the present day make the productive value of one acre equivalent to that of several acres of a generation ago. Third, there is the fact of rapid growth and prodigious development in this state and this section, which insures good demand and good prices for farm products, and at the same time is guaranty of increase upon the original investment in accordance with all these conditions. Finally, there is the fact that the ten-acre Oregon farm of the future is not, as some would have it, an isolated man, an industry and commercial center as these affect the farming of the lines of direct, compact and socially agreeable association. The man of the future on a ten-acre farm will have a desirable chance for intellectual and social gratification that the city man can claim as his. In the majority of instances, the ten-acre farm will be better equipped than his city home. In these regards, for no man his view will be more nearly correct than that of the man who desires more nearly

MOOSE LODGE IS INSTITUTED

Over 100 Members Present at the Ceremony Yesterday.

The local lodge of the local Order of Moose instituted yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock with over 100 members.

The ceremonies incident upon the formal launching of the order here were celebrated in the Odd Fellows hall, with Organizer Moore in charge of the proceedings.

The lodge will henceforth hold its regular meetings in the Odd Fellows hall on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month; the next meeting to take place on July 11.

As the result of a decision arrived at the meeting yesterday it was decided to prepare three decorated automobiles to take part in the parade tomorrow.

The officers instituted yesterday are:

Charles J. Reigard, dictator; F. W. Wood of North Bend, past dictator; George Coleman, prelate; M. A. Sweetman, vice-dictator; G. W. Tribby, outer guard, and J. E. Ford, inner guard. The trustees chosen were O. S. Torrey, G. W. Dungan, Dr. David Vaughan, O. O. Lund, and William Sleep. Mr. George E. Cook was elected secretary and F. E. Wilson, treasurer.

The following are the charter members of the local lodge:

ROADS NOW IN GOOD SHAPE

All Are Reported Passable For Automobiles—Auto-Stage Resumes.

That the roads in and about Marshfield have dried up sufficiently to make them passable for automobile travel is the news brought into the city this morning by chauffeurs who have negotiated the various highways during the last twenty-four hours.

D. L. Foote made the trip to Empire in his machine yesterday and reports the road between here and there to be drying up well.

Three machines with a carrying capacity of twenty passengers will leave here tomorrow morning over the Allegany-Scottsburg road which is now in fine condition for travel. This will be the first trip over the road since the machines were taken off the run following the recent rains.

The roads between here and Myrtle Point, including the roads branching off at Coquille are also in good condition.

BIG RINK WILL BE TAXED TO ACCOMMODATE CROWDS OF PRESENT INDICATIONS ARE KEPT UP—DOORS OPEN SHARP AT 7 O'CLOCK.

Sharp at the hour of seven o'clock tonight, the doors of the rink will be thrown open to admit the crowds to what is promised to be the best scrap ever pulled off in this city. Rough-House Charlie Burns and Guy Lee, both light-weights of the timber that champions are made of, will be the principals and in addition to their bout two local boys will meet in a ten-round preliminary.

O. J. Seecley will be the referee in both bouts.

The seat sale, which has been going on in Ed's Pool Hall today as well as at the Bell Cord bar, has been very heavy, and the ideal seating arrangements of the rink, which permit of a full view from any part of the house, will be taken to their utmost to accommodate the crowds if the present indications keep up.

The following will give some idea of the past performances of the two boys.

Rough-House Charlie Burns is the son of the fighter of the same name who, about twelve years ago, held the welter weight championship of the world. The elder Charlie was a product of Cincinnati, Ohio. After licking everyone with whom he came in contact at home, he went to England and was still undefeated when he returned to this country. When his own fighting days were over, he took his son in hand, with the result that the boy is now looked upon by sporting authorities in this country as a possible successor to Wolgast for the championship title. Young Burns has at different times licked some of the best men in his class, chief among whom were Jack Edwards, Willie Meehan, and Abe Lavell.

Guy Lee, who is better known to local audiences, having fought here last May when he defeated Gene West in the sixth round of their fight, is also a fighter of no mean reputation on the coast. He has had several fights in the northwest but more recently has devoted himself to making a name in the California ring. His last fight was with Tommy McFarland in San Francisco.

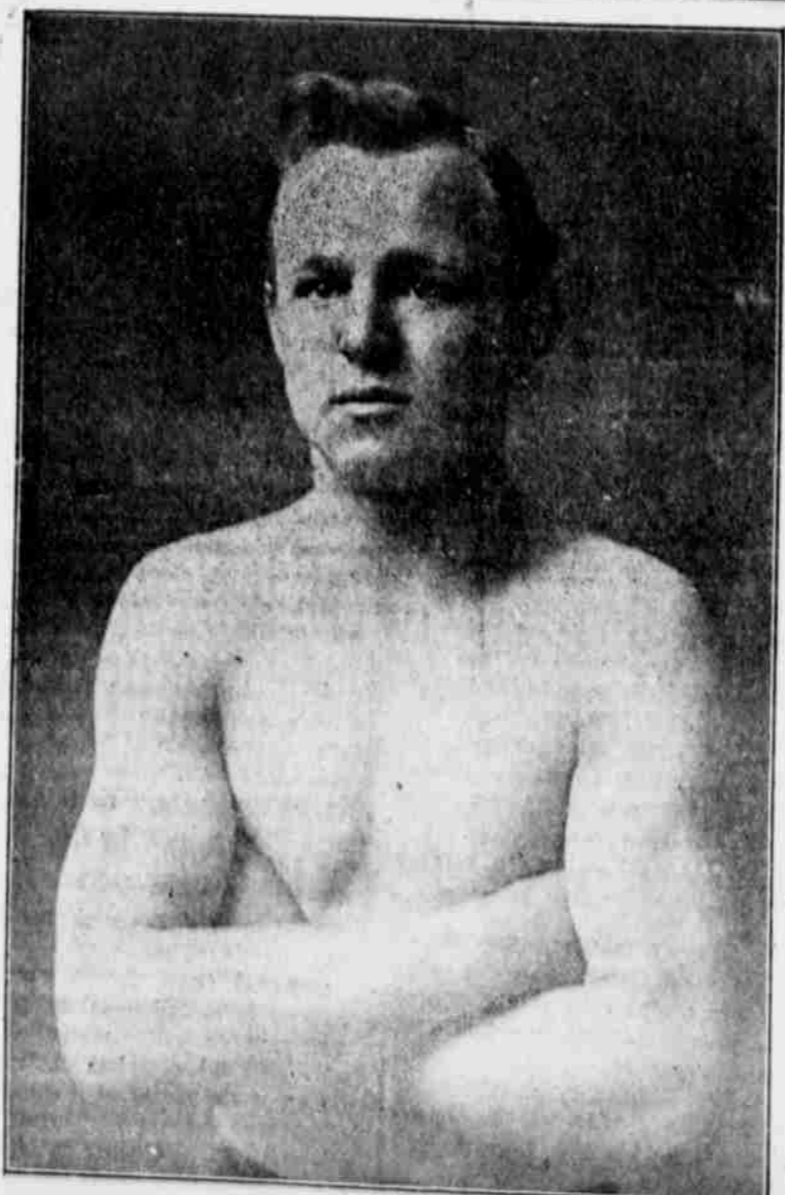

GUY LEE

Light-weight fighter who will meet Burns here Monday night.

FOOLISH ANGER

You fly in a passion and roar in fool fashion when something or other goes wrong, and people who have you regret they are near you wish you would mosey along. I never so foolish, disgusting and foolish as when he is prancing with wrath; and yet, in his snorting and silly cavorting, he thinks he is cutting a swath. I don't mind the color of justified anger—a man has right to be mad when standing a mission of wrong and oppression by men who are spiteful and bad. A man when he is hotter than simmering water he ought to go up in the air and kick out a girder and yell blood murder, and burst a suspender. But he who goes raving and pawing and caving whenever he is upset, deserves a good whack. He shows that he's lacking the sense to come out of the wet.

"ROUGH-HOUSE" CHARLIE BURNS.

California light-weight fighter who is credited with being championship timber. Will fight Lee at Rink here Monday night.

A SUCCESSFUL DEMONSTRATION

Sperry Flour Company Wins Coos County Bread Baking Championship.

One of the most successful demonstrating propositions that has ever been in Marshfield has been carried on in F. S. Dow's office since Saturday noon.

The Sperry Flour Company have sent Mrs. Nagley, one of the most expert bread maker on the coast, to Marshfield, who is to remain over the celebration, and while every woman considered herself somewhat of a bread maker still there are kinks that we always can learn.

Mrs. Nagley has interested our ladies considerable and everyone who has tried her Graham bread pronounces it fine. Mrs. Nagley gives a receipt to any lady who will call, and a fairy book to all children accompanied by their mothers.
