ORGANIZER TO CAMPAIGN

F. B. Tichenor of Women of Woodcraft Now Here.

F. B. Tichenor, organizer for the Women of Woodcraft, has been in this county since last Monday in the interest of the order. Shortly after the first of the week it is expected that Organizer Tichenor will launch out upon a membership campaign.

Monday evening there will be a banquet of the local lodge at the Chandler hotel at which will be present Mrs. Van Orsdale the head of the order. It is thought that at the meeting there will be some definite plan outlined upon which to start the work.

A LEAF FROM DAYS LONG AGO

Story of Discovery of Coal in Coos—Trouble With Indians.

The following interesting clipping was furnished The Times by A. G. Aiken. The James Aiken mentioned was his brother and with whom he was associated at the time. The items were published in the Gazette, printed by D. J. Lyons at Scottsburg, in 1854:

Empire City, June 4, 1854.
Editor of the Umpqua Gazette:—
I notice in your late issue that two superior coal claims have been discovered lately at Coos Bay—one belonging to Dr. Coffin, the other to

D. Boatman. This is true, but it is not the whole truth. There is here an extent of coal lands which would surprise even a Pennsylvania collier. In addition to what is reported in your paper, we would say that John Henderson, B. F. Ross, M. M. Learn, Calvin Hinch, Thomas Flanagan & Brother, Sigmond Ettinger, Henry Sanford, Chas. Pearce, James Aiken, Dr. Overbeck, W. H. Jackson, Samuel Hendricks, Dr. Gaddes, W. W. McAllister, N. Foley, David Rohrer, Jas. Harkison, Geo. Miller & Brothers, all have taken claims in the same region, and upon the same coal veins, and have found the stratum, I believe, on almost every claim. As yet these claims have not been worked, but we expect to see them soon put under way. The experiment made by P. B. Marple on his banks has proved successful; they are now in an active process of working, and the coals are delivered at Empire City. The above list does not include the nineteen Coos Bay Company claims, in most of which, if indeed not all, coal is known to exist.

It is due to James Aiken to say that he has the honor of being the discoverer of these new banks.

More Trouble With the Indians on the Coquille.

From a Randolph City letter, dated May 15, we learn that the Indians are congregating in great numbers at the forks of the Coquille River. Many consider this movement hostile, and preparatory to an attack on the whites.

The gold claims on the beach are beginning to pay well. A number of them are yielding from $12 to $40 per day. Provisions can be had at Randolph City at moderate rates.

C. O. VAN DUYN and wife will leave on the steamer Breakwater next Wednesday for Portland where they will spend a two weeks' vacation.

F. J. FEENEY, an attorney of Bandon, is registered at the Hotel Chandler.

TRAIN ROBBER MAY BE HERE

Man Who Helped Rob Shasta Limited Probably In Hills.

From a reliable source it was learned last evening that the detectives who were working on the case of the two men who held up the Shasta Limited near Drain a couple of weeks ago have decided that one of the men are in hiding near this city. It is the opinion of the minions of the law that the man is fighting out an existence in some cabin in the hills close to Marshfield. It is thought that he secured a goodly supply of provisions and is living upon them and what fish he can angle from the neighboring streams.

It could not be learned whether there were any men still in this vicinity who are searching for the bandit but it is highly probable that there are. It is thought that they are making a systematic search with guides for deserted cabins in the neighboring hills in an effort to locate the bandit.

WATERFRONT ITEMS.

The steamer Redondo which left San Francisco at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, will arrive here tomorrow morning.

C. F. McGeorge had his new speed boat "Get There" out on the bay this morning for her maiden trip. After the run the owner stated that he was highly pleased with the showing made by the craft. Again this afternoon he took a party of friends out upon the bay.
