OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF MARSHFIELD.

INEXCUSABLE WRECKS.

NOTHER steamship ashore and another group of lives wiped out. The record is becoming congested on this coast with fatalities of this sort. The wreck of the Santa Rosa does not seem to be any more excusable than the rest of the examples which have been furnished on this coast for the past three years. It would look as if the Civil Service system and rules would have to be employed pretty soon if the passenger traffic of the western sea is to be put upon any bigh grade of efficiency and security.

SUPER SUPREME JUDGES.

HE COKE recall ought to be dropped. To press it is to do injustice to the recall. The way to make the Oregon system stable is to use it wisely.

Comparison of the instructions in the McClallen case with those in the Morey case shows that on vital points . HAYNES INLET ITEMS. they were identical. In the McClai- . . len case in Roseburg the jury acquitted. In the Morey case in Portland, the jury convicted.

In both cases, the jury was pres- and school will start July 17. ent and heard the testimony. In both, the jury was present and heard the instructions by the judge. Since been hard on the strawberry growone jury convicted and the other ac- ers of late though the Vega is makquitted, where can reason be found ing daily trips to take out berries and Coke?

Since one jury convicted and the other acquitted, must it not have been on the testimony, rather than . on the instructions that each verdict was based?

Under the recall, the people would place Judge Coke on trial. They would also have to try the McClallen case in full. They would have to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Barkdoll, a son. know all the facts in detail to pass an intelligent opinion. They would have to have the law points explain- Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stout, of McKinley, ed. They would have to hear the instructions. They would have to study the decisions and precedents.

They would also have to try the supreme court of Oregon, for the supreme court, in the Morey case, affirmed, in effect, the vital instructions given by Judge Coke. They would have to pass on the question of whether the supreme court was right of wrong. In short, they would have to supersede the supreme court and perform the functions of super supreme justices. In exercisciency Was Good Celebration Attraction.

> Manager F. P. Norton of the Coos Bay Racing association today issued a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the two days racing meet during the celebration. Mr. Norton as one of the chief financial backers of the meet says that while the statement shows a deficit of $119.80 his horses won about enough in purses to cover it and he is well pleased to work for glory if it added to the attractions of the big Fourth of July celebration. The following is the statement:
