(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

NEW YORK, July 17. — The fight to bar cholera from the port of New York was continued today. The 248 persons who arrived here two weeks ago on the steamer Moltke and who are still under observation, will undergo a bacteriological examination and a more rigid quarantine is to be enforced at Swinburne island. There are fifteen cases and five deaths have occurred since the Moltke brought the germ here from Naples to show the reality of the danger the city faces from the epidemic now raging. There was another death from cholera at Swinburne island during the night, making a total of six. Passengers on the steamer Perugia from the Mediterranean are also under surveillance.

CHESSAO, Switzerland, July 17. —The London reports of a number of cholera victims in Palermo, Italy, since May 2 were exaggerated, according to information received here. Although it was given out at first that Floyd was caught red handed, this was evidently falsely stated as the prosecuting attorney could find no evidence to support the contention and ordered the case dismissed.

JULY 29 COOS COUNTY BERRY DAY

On That Rate Berries Will Be Eaten by Nearly Everyone—Extensive Preparations Are to Be Made For the Event.

Saturday, July 29 is Coos County Berry day. Such was the welcome news received this morning. On that date all of Coos county will participate in demonstrating that we have the best county in the entire state for berry producing. Every family, every hotel, every restaurant will serve berries on that date.

Like the California Raisin day, like the Texas Rice day, Coos county will follow with something entirely new in the offering of a berry day. "It is thought by many of the local people," said one of the boosters for the Berry day festival, this morning, "that they are raising enough berries here at the present time. We intend to show them on July 29, that they haven't half enough."

The gentleman referred to has been spending the last couple weeks in touring the county and has visited most every ranch of any importance in Coos county and is in a position to know whereof he speaks.

It is urgently requested that the farmers and people will take hold of the matter in a manner that will mean success. We have the material and all that it needs to make the day a great success is the combined efforts of the residents in materializing something out of the material at hand.

WHAT IS LIFE WITHOUT BOOZE

Drowning Man Curses Rescuer For Not Saving Liquor Also.

Victor Wickman, formerly of the United States Life-Saving Station crew at Coos Bay performed a heroic rescue yesterday when the Coquille baseball crowd was returning from Bandon. A man named Button disembarked from the launch Coquille at Rocky Point, about four miles above Bandon, where it was necessary to walk the logs in order to get ashore, there being no other approach to the landing. He was pretty well intoxicated and encumbered with a suit case full of booze as well and had proceeded but a short distance when he fell between the logs. By frantic efforts he succeeded in keeping his head above water. The launch by this time was some distance from the landing and unable to render him any aid. At this point, Victor Wickman threw off his coat and springing into the water swam the intervening distance and pulled Button out on the logs. He promptly rolled in again and had to be rescued a second time. After taking five minutes to recover his breath Button took the road with only curses to his rescuer for not saving the booze. Wickman swam back to the launch and went on to Coquille.

ATTEMPTS TO ASSAULT GIRL

Cabin Boy on Breakwater Is Arrested on Serious Charge.

P. C. Pineda, a Philippino cabin boy on the Breakwater was arrested by Chief Carter when the steamer docked yesterday morning on the charge of attempted assault on the 14 year old daughter of Mr. McLean, an employe of the C. A. Smith mill. From what could be learned of the affair it seems the Philippino had taken some fruit to the stateroom which was occupied by the little girl and a woman who had her in charge on the way from Portland to Coos Bay where she was to join her father. The woman was out of the stateroom for a few minutes and the Philippino asked the little girl for a kiss. Being refused he closed the door and sought to take it anyway, the little girl screamed and the woman arrived just in time to prevent any further trouble.

The ship's officers were notified and Captain Macgenn promptly notified the father and kept the guilty party under surveillance on ship board until the father arrived accompanied by Officer Carter who placed Pineda under arrest and locked him in the city jail.

Capt. Macgenn was equally indignant with the girl's father and states that the officers want an example made of the offender that no further trouble may be experienced.

This morning Chief Carter wired United States Deputy District Attorney McCord at Portland, informing him of the episode.

It is possible that the preliminary examination will be held in this city before Deputy United States Commissioner Chas. Selby. The balance of the trial will undoubtedly have to be held in Portland.

Legislation Will Require Senators to Make an Accounting.

PROMISES MADE MUST ALSO BE GIVEN PUBLIC

Senator Heyburn of Idaho Opposes But Without Avail.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17. — "A law that simply requires a man to report what money he spent to get into the Senate, virtually endorses his right to buy his election," declared Senator Heyburn of Idaho when the Senate took up the campaign publicity bill today.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts declared that the whole purpose of the publicity law is to let the public know exactly what money is spent and how it is handled. That the theory is that the money if publicly accounted for is properly spent. The bill as it passed the House requires a publicity of campaign expenses not only after the election as at present but also during the fifteen days before the election the Senate committee proposed that amendments would extend the publicity to the primary elections and force the candidate to publish their promises to campaign supporters. Senators Sutherland and Burton secured an adoption of the amendment broadening this paragraph so that the candidate must report all promises made by anyone with the authority of acting for the candidate.
