HAS 'COME BACK'

Our Sister City Is Showing Signs of Renewed Activities.

"North Bend is coming to the front," said an enthusiastic booster of that city this morning to a representative of The Times. It was learned from the afore-mentioned booster that the Menasha Woodenware Company, which recently made extensive purchases in North Bend, have made more purchases and are expected shortly to commence operations on of an old coast village there has a larger scale.

That the company intends to make "stick" of it, is evident from the fact that they have secured a fine suite of offices and have already opened them. The manager of the company has purchased a large new resiblows the farewell blast next trip, dence which is evidence that he is permanently located.

The latest move of the company was the purchase of a large tract of timber land on Pony Slough. Access to this land is said to be easily gained and in a short while timber will he says he will select the site for the be taken from it as well as from the other holdings of the company.

The fact that the Menasha Company has done so much in the last couple weeks to assure the people dents of North Bend are imbued with new hopes and state that they see a much rosler future than they could discern a month ago. It is predicted that North Bend will now launch out upon a steady growth and will continue to grow with Marshfield and the other towns of the county until the railroad arrives and then "Watch

SAY WIRING IS DEFECTIVE

In Fire Limits Investigated.

Chief Traver, of the Marshfield fire department, reported to the city council last evening that the electrician of the department had investigated the electric wiring in the business district within the fire limits and found much of it defective.

were wired in a manner that violated the rules of the Pacific Underwriters association and that these violations were from one to five in from Coos River today and is vis- each instance. This is not only dangerous to property and life but is likely to result in increased insurance rates. The report was referred to the fire and water committee for action. A new wiring ordinance is to be prepared.
