

SOCIETY AND WOMAN'S WORLD

PERSONAL notices of visitors in the city, or of Coos Bay people who visit in other cities, together with notices of social affairs, are gladly received in the social department. Telephone 1331. Notices of club meetings will be published and secretaries are kindly requested to furnish same.

SONGS OF NIGHT.

The moon swings low in the sky above and the twinkling stars shine bright,
And a mother sings to her baby those wonderful songs of night;
Those wonderful songs of sugar plum trees and fields where the fairies play;
Of cockle shell boats on golden seas that never are seen by day.

It is by-low time and she sweetly hums those wonderful songs of night;
Of the blare of trumpets and sound of drums when the little tin soldiers fight.
She sings of the comical candy dog and the gingerbread man who stands
By the side of a blinking cooky frog without my arms or hands.

And the moonbeams dance on the parlor floor, and a ship sets out to sea,
And a baby sails for the golden shore in search of the sugar plum tree,
She's off to the cave of Teddy Bear, and the haunts of the fairies kind,
Where never an ache or a pain or care shall trouble her baby mind.

Oh, sweet is the smile on the baby's face as she softly sings to rest,
For where in the world is so fine a place to sleep as a mother's breast?
And if ever a song can reach the skies the angels must find delight
When a mother sings to her baby those wonderful songs of night.

COOS BAY has witnessed the annual exodus of society folk to the various nearby resorts this week and society in town is dull as a consequence, while Ten Mile, Coos River and the beaches are the scenes of many informal dances, picnics and frolics.

Among the visitors at the Lakeside resort are Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Byler and family, Mrs. J. W. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Montgomery and children, Mrs. Browning, Miss Browning, Mrs. J. M. Russell and children of Portland, Mrs. Flanagan and daughters.

At the Maze, South Coos River are Mr. and Mrs. E. O'Connell, Rosemary Richardson, Mrs. E. K. Jones, Eugene Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hague, Miss Anna Russell, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wernick, Katherine Wernick, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McKeown, Joey and Grace McKeown, Dr. and Mrs. McCormac are at Deer Lodge, their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Freidberg have opened their picturesque bungalow as have the C. W. Towers, Major Tower, the Lockhart's, Chandler's and Matson's. The Barrys are in camp at Drummond and the Bartles will soon occupy Camp Kilkare. The Goodwill place has had many visitors this summer and nearly every available spot on the river banks will soon be taken by the campers.

Mrs. W. E. Dungan and Mrs. Nellie Owen are camping at Al Owen's cottage, Crow's Nest on South Coos River.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson expect to open Shore Acres for a large house-party soon. The J. C. Merchants have opened their bungalow at Bastendorf's beach and their are large numbers of campers from Charleston bay to the Prouss ranch at Bullards. Bon fires are popular and no evening picnic to the beach is complete without the burning beacon of driftwood.

Mr. and Mrs. William Craig have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Pearl Senter Craig, to Warren Victor Ogren Thursday evening, July 27, 1911, at their home at 975 Seventh street.

These popular young people will be the recipients of hearty congratulations from many friends.

First Showing of Fall Styles Women's Man-Tailored Coats

Strikingly Beautiful Garments, Clearly Depicting the Pretty New

Fall Style Tendencies and Materials

THE East Indian Empire, England's proud, est possession, will furnish inspiration for many of the new fashions for the forthcoming season. The splendor of the days of the Grand Moghuls will be recalled in the modern costumes emanating from Paris as Autumn and Winter novelties.

There is absolutely nothing modern or Occidental in the forthcoming fashions. In form, coloring and ornamentation the new costumes and wraps, and many of the accessories of dress trace their origin to the Far East. The clever and practical use that is being made of these seemingly impossible ideas, and the beautiful way in which the subtle charm of the Oriental women's dress have been merged with the practical and sensible features of modern requirements, are a tribute to the ingenuity and never failing resourcefulness of the Parisian dressmaker and modified by the New York designers to meet the less extreme tastes of the American women.

Express Consignments Weekly From New York

New Tailored Coats for Women and Misses

Sizes 16 to 48. Prices $10.00 to $47.50. Advance Fall Styles and Materials

A comprehensive showing of early fall and winter styles, made up expressly for us, and received in the last express from New York City. Many of the garments presented show many variations in the new velvety broadcloths. The new caraculs as well as the Ratine or the Vedours de laine are shown in many charming style ideas. The latter come in one and two-tone colors of more or less subdued tones.

English Suitings, Scotch Tweeds, fancy mixtures and cosmo cloths in neutral but dark tones, melanges in heather gray, Havana brown, mode, tan, taupe, Oxford grey and navy are strongly represented. The new coats are close fitting about the hips and hold to the straight line form with slightly raised waist line, thus giving the slender silhouette effect, so graceful and becoming to all women.

Buttons and silk braids are extensively used in the new coats. One of the characteristic features of the new buttons employed is their immense size. And yet there is a most extensive use of very small buttons. The sleeves generally are made along mannish lines, and trimmed with set-on or turn-back cuffs, to match the large collar and revers.

These garments, excepting those selling below $15.00, are all strictly man-tailored throughout, and are priced attractively low at from..... $10 to $47.50
