

PLAIN TALK ON HOUSEFURNISHING

We ask you to compare what we have with what other stores have for sale.

Take our Comforters and Blankets. Examine the quality, the size, the beauty and the low prices we ask. Compare anywhere you like, and buy where you can do the best.

Then again take our Arm Rockers. If it's only a $2.50 arm rocker or a $3.00 one, or a $30.00 one, just compare and see how much better you can do at our store.

If you want a Rug, and really want the most for your money, want the latest weaves and colorings, or special sizes, just compare what you find here with what others have for sale, that's fair, and fairness is one of our business principles.

Use this store for your standard in basing your values.

Girl Sick—The little daughter of C. O. Langworthy is reported quite ill at their home. Mr. Langworthy is expected home from Gardiner today.

Bulkheading Begun—Work was commenced yesterday on the bulkhead for the filling of North Front street. The work is in charge of George Noy.

Redondo to Sail—The Redondo will leave tomorrow for San Francisco with a cargo of lumber from the Smith mill. Every available berth has been reserved.

Broke Arm—Geo. B. Campbell while taking the hurdles that everyone has to take on North Front street, tripped on the high curbing in front of Dow's old office and was thrown down with such violence as to break his right arm. The fracture is a severe one and will lay him up for some time.

Good Roads Movement—Bandon boosters are urging the construction of an automobile road from the business district to the beach for the convenience of travelers, townspeople and the farmers of that vicinity. The sidewalk recently built to the beach has proven very popular and the need for the road is evident.

Wedding Tonight—The marriage of Warner Ogren and Miss Pearl Senter Craig will take place this evening at the home of the bride's parents. Only a few friends will be present. The happy couple will leave on the Redondo tomorrow for San Francisco where they will spend their honeymoon and will later go to Southern California before returning to make their home in Marshfield where the groom has a cottage in readiness for his bride on West Central avenue.

Bicycle Accident—F. E. Allen is of the opinion that bronco busting and cowboy riding is tame sport compared with coasting on a bicycle. The other day he was gliding down the Tenth street hill near Golden on his bicycle to the bridge and musing on the easy method of travel when suddenly he realized the wheel was running away. He was carrying a package at the time and instead of throwing it away and regaining control of the wheel he stuck to the package and soon the whole outfit was scattered while F. E. tried to cut a hole in the road with his face with more or less disastrous results. He was bruised and scratched but sustained no serious injuries.

Don't forget the Turkish Baths.
