

GIRL KILLED IN CALIFORNIA

dition at the St. Francis hospital, as the result of an unusual accident which occurred on the long railroad bridge at Gaviota.

"The girls were in the middle of the long bridge and made a futile attempt to reach safety upon the approach of the south bound coast train.

As there were no eye witnesses it is not certain just what happened. But as near as can be ascertained the girls crouched far to the edge of the narrow bridge in the hope that the train would pass them by. Miss Frazee was probably struck by the steps of the first car, and dropped to the bottom of the arroyo, a distance of eighty feet. It is believed that Miss Smith jumped.

As soon as the engineer observed the predicament of the girls he set his brakes, but by this time he was close to them and the speed was only partially slackened.

The train crew, assisted by Frank Talford and Ralph McNeely, of Gaviota, assisted in carrying the injured girl up from the bottom of the arroyo, and they were hurried to this city.

Miss Smith expired forty-five minutes after being brought to the Cottage hospital and after heroic measures had been resorted to in the effort to restore her. Miss Frazee is at the St. Francis hospital, and the outcome is uncertain. She has two severe injuries about the head although there are no fractures. She is also suffering severely from shock.

Miss Smith, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, 131 Nopal street, had been passing part of her vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLoughlin, at Alcatraz. It was there that she became acquainted with Miss Frazee, who lived there with her mother and three brothers. This family moved to Alcatraz three months ago from Oceanside, Cal.

The two girls went to the beach to gather star fish. They were returning home when the accident occurred.

The Gaviota bridge is 810 feet long and along it are three extensions to the sides as a safety precaution. The girls were in about the middle of the bridge when the train approached. It is said they first entered a safety extension, and becoming frightened ran and tried to reach the end of the bridge. Seeing they were unable to do this they crouched far to the edge of the bridge.

It is believed that in jumping Miss Smith struck one of the girders, which extends out from the superstructure of the bridge. Marks of a shoe were found on this.

Following the placing of the injured girls on the train a visit was made by Dr. Talford and Dr. McNeely to the center of the bridge, and there a sack filled with star fish was found.

The death of Esther Smith will come as a shock to a large number of friends, as she was popularly known throughout the city. She would have been a senior with next year's class at the high school, and one of the most brilliant among her classmates. She was the author of most of the clever junior farce this year, in which she also acted in one of the merriest roles.

In her class she had always been a leader, this position being given to her as of right because of her versatility and talent. She was a most promising student in pianoforte under Miss Fernald and possessed a voice of wonderful range which it was her ambition to cultivate.

In debating she starred during her sophomore year and was a constant contributor to the school magazine in both prose and verse, being on the staff of the Olive and Gold. The girl's character was of the virile kind, possessing magnetism and warmth and a boundless enthusiasm that endeared countless friends to her.

It is understood that she was to have been chosen the editor of the Olive and Gold for the coming year. Miss Smith was for the last two years the pianist at the Christian church.

The charming personality of Miss Smith is probably best emphasized through the remarkable attachment that existed between her and the elder sister, Miss Hattie Smith. Both were classmates for years and were the closest of companions.

This delightful trait on the part of the sisters is today being referred to by their schoolmates.

Miss Smith was 17 years old and Miss Frazee is 16.

The father of Miss Smith is a foreman in the employ of the Southern Pacific here."

JUDGE HALL HAS A STATEMENT

Judge of County Court Gives Some Figures About Road Improvements.

Editor Times:

I note in your paper of a recent date a statement from Mr. Barnard as to the condition of the Coos Bay wagon road in which he says nothing is being done on this road. Why he makes such statement, I do not know. He omits to state that over one and one-half miles of road has already been planked this year, that contracts have been let for nearly three miles more, that a crew of men are at work grading and blasting a road around the Brewster grade, and that the road is being repaired all along the line.

He states that they are repairing the Myrtle Point road and not the Coos Bay road. The facts are that more work is being done on the Coos Bay road than on the Myrtle Point road.

The following is an estimate of the funds to be spent on the two roads this year:

District Funds, Coos Bay Wagon Road.
District No. 10, Sumner	$1,200
District No. 11, Fairview and Sumner	$3,500
District No. 30, McKinley	$2,000
District No. 12, Brewster	$3,136
Special Tax—
District No. 11, Fairview	$1,000
District No. 12, Brewster	$7,522
District No. 30, McKinley, extended	$3,000
To be appropriated out of General Road Fund	$2,000
Total	$23,358

Myrtle Point Road.

District funds—
District No. 18, Sugar Loaf to county line district No. 18	$2,900
District No. 23, Myrtle Point to Sugar Loaf	$1,500
Special tax, District No. 18	$6,224
To be appropriated out of General Road Fund	$5,000
Total	$15,624

Excess to be spent on Coos Bay wagon road over Myrtle Point road, $7,734.

As to the statement that the money is used in filling up holes, this is all rot. In the Brewster district Mr. Harry has used less than one hundred dollars in filling holes, repairs, etc. In the McKinley district Mr. Stout may have used $50 in repairs, filling holes in Fairview district Mr. Boone has used less than $50 in filling holes. In the Sumner district Mr. Stock has used something like $250 in filling holes. More than half of this sum could have been saved if Mr. Barnard had used common sense tires on his wagons instead of 1 1/2 tires which no road will stand in the winter time.

Barnard speaks of the road near Sumner being bad. This is true, but it is no worse than many places between Sumner and Roseburg. Mr. Barnard starts his team in the winter time with the mail from Roseburg with four horses; at the Nineteen Mile house he puts on six horses to the top of the mountain. (We have no complaint about this) then four horses to Laird's, then three horses to McKinley, from there to Sumner over this dreadful bad road two horses haul the mail, and did so most all the time during the last winter.

$7,000 INSURANCE IS PAID ON BONDS

Medford First National Protected on Cow Creek Canyon Train Robbery.

A recent press dispatch from Medford states that seven thousand dollars was paid to the First National bank of that city by an insurance company to cover the loss of bonds one month ago when train 16 was held up and robbed in the Cow Creek canyon. The bank was shipping the bonds to Washington and after registering them had placed an insurance for their value on them. After their loss a claim was filed with the company, which was paid. It is believed the bonds were burned by the robbers after they had rifled the registered mail pouches. An investment of $2 brought turn of $7,000.

This is the hold up in which C. R. Peck of Marshfield and P. B. Waite were passengers and placed their valuables in cuspidors and waste baskets to conceal them while the robbers were busy in the mail and express cars. The passengers were not molested.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 1.—Standing on the porch of her mother-in-law's home, six miles north of Oakland, watching her daughter, Edna, aged 17, trying to eject a cartridge from a 22-caliber rifle. Mrs. Emma Green, wife of Charles O. Green, was accidentally shot and fatally wounded. The cartridge, which had become jammed in the weapon, was in some manner discharged by the girl, and the bullet, a soft-nosed one, struck Mrs. Green in the abdomen, causing death.
