An Appreciation

To my patrons and the people of Marshfield generally:
I wish to announce that I have disposed of my grocery business and property to Herbert Lockhart, and next Saturday night will turn over the keys and charge of the business to Harry Nasburg. This will mark my retirement from business in Marshfield for the time being at least. In connection with this announcement, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation of the business and social courtesies and favors that have been extended me by the people of Coos Bay. In my eighteen years of business experience here, I have tried to merit the confidence and trust of the people and I believe I have enjoyed it in a large measure. Thanking you one and all again, I am, respectfully yours,
F. A. SACCHI.
