J. A. Maple, 125 S. 7th St., Steubenville, O., says: "For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foley Kidney Pills and their wonderful cures so I began taking them and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business, expressman, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. Change City's Name.—Some Marshfield men are advocating that the Marshfield city council be asked to change the name of the municipality from Marshfield to Coos Bay, their idea being to have the change in name made before the cities on the Bay are merged. Definite steps in the matter may be taken soon.

ASSAULT CASE FROM BANDON

Fred Lund In Jail at Coquille Charged With Statutory Offense.

COQUILLE, Ore., Sept. 6.—Fred Lund, a middle aged man, was brought here from Bandon last night on a warrant charging a statutory offense. But little particulars could be secured of it today as Sheriff Gage and Deputy Sheriff Gage are both out of town.

It is alleged that Lund picked up a little five-year old girl and started to carry her bodily into a clump of timber in the edge of town. People heard her cries and some men started in pursuit. Lund was knocked down by one of the pursuers but got up and started again but was finally caught. Nothing is known of him and even the name of the child, who was evidently his intended victim, could not be secured.

The old grand jury is in session investigating a number of matters but has not returned any indictments yet. Among the cases brought before it was that of Ralph Jackson and a Miss Ingram of Marshfield who were brought here by Marshall Carter yesterday.

THREE SALOONS CLOSE DOORS

Only Six Left in North Bend—Bert Rush's License Is Revoked For Offense.

Burt Rush, proprietor of the Bank saloon in North Bend, was fined $50 and costs and his license declared forfeited by City Recorder Derbyshire of North Bend this week. This action followed Rush's arrest for allowing a woman to remain in his saloon in violation of the North Bend liquor ordinance.

Rush's place is now closed but it is expected he will make application to the North Bend council at its next meeting, Tuesday, September 12, for a new license. The North Bend council did not meet last night or the application would probably have been made then but possibly not in Rush's name.

Two other saloons in North Bend closed this week because of lack of business. One was Weatherly's Owl saloon and the other Chas. Haarsen's place near Old Town. The proprietors declared that they were not nearly making expenses.

The closing of the three places only leaves six saloons in North Bend operating now.
