

MARSDEN CASE IS STILL ON

Trial May Not Be Concluded Today — Several Receive Sentences For Crimes.

(Special to The Times.)
 COQUILLE, Ore., Sept. 14.—The case of the State of Oregon vs. Jack Marsden, who was indicted on the charge of assaulting J. W. Bennett in Marshfield with intent to kill, is still on and it is doubtful if it will be completed today. The evidence against Marsden is considered strong. One thing that the defense has been trying particularly to offset is the contention of the prosecution that the attack was premeditated. One witness by whom the state intended to prove that Marsden had made threats against J. W. Bennett previous to the assault denied it on the stand. Justice Holden of Coquille was called and proved by his records that this witness at the preliminary hearing did testify that he heard Marsden make threats against Mr. Bennett.

Three Are Punished.
 Andrew Olson of Lakeside pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the liquor law. He was fined $200 by Judge Coke and Chas. Thom paid the fine. Olson claimed that he was unaware of the change in the liquor law. He is now applying for a license to sell liquor at Ten Mile.

Pasco, an Italian who has been in the county jail three or four months on the charge of illegally selling liquor at Coaledo, was convicted. Judge Coke imposed a fine of $200 and then suspended the sentence during good behavior. Pasco would probably have to serve it out in the county jail and as this was his first offense and in view of the fact that he had already served a stiff term, Judge Coke decided clemency should be shown him.

Alvin Pierce, who was convicted of shoplifting in Coquille, was given an indeterminate sentence of one to seven years.

There are several other criminal cases to come up aside from others that may result from the grand jury investigations now in progress.

Sunday Sermons.—Rev. Hall will speak next Sunday morning on "The Price of Redeeming Power." Evening, "Addition by Subtraction."

Sells Property.—Mrs. M. Murphy left today for Portland. She disposed of her property at the southwest corner of Second and Golden to Chas. I. Reigard.

Fine Fruit.—Geo. Beale has presented the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce with some fine gravenstein apples and early Crosby peaches to be placed on exhibit there.

Buy Property.—M. C. Horton and I. S. Kaufman have bought ten lots on South Fourth street, just south of the C. H. Walter home, from Mr. Sanderson of Los Angeles through Jas Watt.

Dr. Straw Ill.—Dr. E. E. Straw is quite ill at his home. He suffered an attack of ptomaine poisoning and stomach trouble a few days ago and an attack of pneumonia has developed. He was reported a little better this morning.

Many Hunting.—A large number of duck hunters left today for the Sand Hills to get in on the first day's shooting tomorrow. It is reported that there are a large number of ducks in the Sand Hill lakes. Good shooting is also anticipated at other points.

Hail Storm.—Manager Schetter of the Western Union reports that a severe hail storm swept the Willamette valley and the section north of Roseburg the night before last. It did considerable damage and put the Western Union's wires out of commission for several hours.

Major Kinney Back.—Major L. D. Kinney, who has spent the last few months in a San Francisco sanitarium for the benefit of his health, arrived home last night, coming via Bandon on the Field. He is said to be much improved in health. It is expected that Mrs. Kinney's application to be appointed guardian of his property will now be dismissed. It was set for hearing September 20.

Postpones Visit.—P. M. Hall-Lewis this morning received word from F. A. Sikes of Milton, Oregon, state secretary of the National Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union that he would have to postpone his trip here about six weeks owing to the illness of Mrs. Sikes. He was to have been here next Saturday to address a meeting in Marshfield and to visit other sections of Coos county. Now, he plans to visit here about November 1.

Fruit is Good.—Fruit Inspector P. M. Hall-Lewis returned last evening from a trip through the Coquille valley. He reports that the quality of fruit this year is better than usual. Out of three hundred boxes inspected, only twelve defective ones were found and most of these were due to carelessness in sorting or packing. They were sent back to the growers with instructions how to overcome the defect. However, Mr. Hall-Lewis found some California oranges on the market over there that were badly infected with the oyster shell scale and other fruits with the citrus peel scale, two very bad fruit diseases. He reports that as high as $10 per ton is being paid for apples at Myrtle Point.

Students to Leave.—Dr. Schenck and the fifty students of the Biltmore Forest school who have spent the last month here studying forestry will leave Saturday for North Carolina and will go from there to Germany to spend the winter, studying reforestation in the famous Black forests. Dr. Schenck is elated over this action and plans to spend more time here with his students next year.

Big Men Here.—J. F. Luse, head of the Luse Land company, and W. E. St. John, manager of that company, arrived here today with Frank B. Waite. Mr. Luse is interested near Sutherlin. The Luse Land company is probably the largest real estate operator in the country and while nothing has been given out concerning their visit, it is intimated that they may become interested in this section. For a long time, Mr. Waite, who is a close personal friend of Mr. Luse, has been telling him of the wonders of the Coos Bay country and its great prospects and it is presumed that Mr. Luse could no longer resist the temptation to come and see for himself.

Believing in the future growth of the community, and having already 23 pupils to begin with, Prof. Clovice A. Davidson is now located permanently on Coos Bay. He is a pupil of Sherwood and of the New School of Methods, Chicago, and is a thorough teacher of piano and voice. Appointments may be arranged personally or by phone at Hotel Palace, North Bend. Phone 53 North Bend.

NOTICE TO FIREMEN.
 The Marshfield Fire Department will drill Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. All members are requested to be out.
