Test Electricity.—Most of the equipment for the electrical logging engines to be tried out by the Smith-Powers Logging company, has arrived and it is expected that the first trials will be made within a week or so. The first tests will be made near the Smith mill. While most of the men who have studied it believe it will be a success, it is expected that it will take several months to perfect it so that it can be adopted for general use.

SCHOOL BOYS UNLUCKY DAY

Four Pupils of Central Building Sustain Minor Injuries Yesterday.

Yesterday was hondo day for the pupils of the Central school building, four of them sustaining minor injuries during the day. One resulted from a plank in the scaffold which R. A. Cortbell had erected for some repair work on the building falling and striking two of the pupils. They were Walter Carlisle and Claude Moon, both sustaining injuries to their feet. A young lad named Olson, a son of Capt. Olson of Ferndale, fell, striking a rock and sustaining a bad flesh wound on the head. Edgar Farley while playing with some other lads on the trapeze fell, his head striking the floor with an awful thud. He was forced to go home by the pain and is out of school.

REV. H. D. CHAMBERS, Archdeacon of the diocese of Portland, is visiting Rev. R. E. Browning. He will preach in Emmanuel church on Sunday at 11 a. m. and E:30 p. m. and in the afternoon he will preach in the Episcopal church, North Bend.
