Lockhart-Parsons Drug Co.

In drugs, just as in dry goods and clothing, some dealers run to cheap stuff at low prices, some to medium prices, while others try to carry all grades. We lean decidedly toward quality goods. In drugs, quality is more important than in other lines. When we hand out a bottle of medicine, prepared according to some physician's prescription, we want to know that that medicine bears the stamp of quality. Otherwise we won't be satisfied. If you like quality drugs you will like our store.

ENJOYS 79TH BIRTHDAY.

Father of C. S. Winsor of North Bend Celebrates at Gold Beach.

The Gold Beach Globe contains the following concerning the father of C. S. Winsor, cashier of the Bank of Oregon at North Bend:

"Last Wednesday, September 6, was Wm. S. Winsor's seventy-ninth birthday. The occasion was fittingly celebrated by his daughters, Mesdames Anna and Mary Gauntlett, preparing and serving a sumptuous dinner. The repast came as a surprise to the old gentleman, as he was so actively engaged in finishing up the interior of the hotel annex, he had forgotten he had been running borrowed time so long. However, the delicious birthday cake and other sweet viands were none the less appreciated by Mr. Winsor. The high proficiency in the culinary art that the Gauntlett (nee Winsor) women have long been noted for, no doubt has a great deal to do with Mr. Winsor's robust health of today. Despite the snowy white beard and hoary locks of hair Mr. Winsor stands erect as a youth and moves around sprier than many men forty years younger. He has just completed some articles of furniture, made from the raw material, Oregon oak and birds eye maple, for workmanship and exquisite beauty cannot be excelled in any country. We congratulate Mr. Winsor upon his good health, and may he live to enjoy many more birthday dinners."
