

IN SOCIETY

PERSONAL notices of visitors in the city, or of Coos Bay people who visit in other cities, together with notices of social affairs, are gladly received in the social department. Telephone 133. Notices of club meetings will be published and secretaries are kindly requested to furnish same.

THE HOUSE BEAUTIFUL.

A NAKED house, a naked moor, A shivering pool before the door,
A garden bare of flowers and fruit
And poplars at the garden foot—
Such is the place that I live in,
Bleak without and bare within.

Yet shall your rugged moors receive
The incomparable pomp of eve
And the cold glories of the dawn
Behind your shivering trees be drawn.
And when the wind from place to place
Doth the unmoored cloud galleons chase
Your garden blooms and gleams again
With leaping sun and glancing rain.
Here shall the wizard moon ascend
The heavens in the crimson end
Of day's declining splendor; here
The army of the stars appear.
The neighbor hollows, dry or wet,
Spring shall with tender flowers beset,
And oft the morning muses see
Larks rising from the broomy lea
And every fairy wheel and thread
Of cobweb dew bediamonded.
When daisies go shall winter time
Silver the simple grass with rime,
Autumnal frosts enchant the pool
And make the cart ruts beautiful.
And when snow bright the moor expands
How shall your children clap their hands!
To make this earth our heritage,
A cheerful and a changeful page,
God's intricate and bright device
Of days and seasons doth suffice.
—Robert Louis Stevenson.

"THERE are two heavens, friend—both made of love. The one is inconceivable even by the other, so divine it is—the other far on this side of the stars, by men called Home," said Leigh Hunt.

Home—the soul's earthly sanctuary—the most sacred place in all the world. The place wherein men and women should receive spiritual and physical strength. The holy of holies of this life and the supreme interest of the human family.

When the prophets and seers of old—when the Great Teacher and His disciples and when the preceptors and their followers have sought to impress upon the minds of men the character of Heaven they have painted it as a Home. No other simile has been thought of sufficient strength or pictorial effect to put before the minds of men the idea of what eternity is to be like.

Other similes may have been used, but when any of the great teachers sought to bring directly to the minds of their congregations, of their pupils or the great mass of humanity a description of Heaven the simple, effective word Home was used.

Therefore the responsibility resting upon each of us to keep the home as a sanctuary is almost infinite. We are taught the sacredness of the home almost from the beginning. Men forgive almost everything else except offenses against the home and the family. These are all but unpardonable.

Considering home in this light then why carry anger, or ugly disposition into it? Why take the cares of the outside world across its threshold? Why allow serpents of any kind to come near its hearthstone?

A home is primarily founded by two persons—a man and a woman—who from out all the rest of the world have selected each other to do the work of erecting what was originally intended to be an earthly paradise. Out of the best that is in each must come the material from which the home is built, and this material is made up of a variety of elements—confidence, love, faith, patience, forbearance and an entire mutuality of interest. Leave any of these out and the home loses its proportion.

Far too many people, conceive home as four walls with a roof holding them together—a house filled with the necessary equipment of housekeeping. Such a place without the spirit of home making would not be a home in a thousand years. The very spirit of sanctity must be there or the home is wanting.

Keep out the unkind experiences of life. Make home the place where you show the best that is in you and where you gather strength and courage for the world tasks that are ever before you and home will come as near being heaven as anything you can experience in this life.

Miss Lilabel Johnson, who has been spending the summer with Mrs. Carl Smedberg and other friends on the Bay, left this week for her home in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lefeef will leave next week for San Francisco and California points for a week or ten days' visit.

E. W. Nevers and wife plan to leave shortly for San Francisco where they will remain some time. Mr. Nevers' business in connection with the Coos Bay and Eastern Electric Railway taking him there.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Marshfield Presbyterian church is arranging to conduct another of their special cooked food sales next Saturday.

W. S. Chandler and wife may spend the greater part of the winter on Coos Bay instead of returning to San Francisco early this fall as they originally planned. Mr. Chandler's business interests will require his attention on the Bay most of the time and thence their plans to stay here.

Mrs. J. C. Roberts, who has been spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Chas Van Duyen, in Marshfield, left today for her home in Oklahoma.

Mrs. W. F. Miller left on the Breakwater today for Portland where she will visit for several weeks.

A special meeting of Western Star Rebekah Lodge was held last Saturday evening when the State President of the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon Miss Belle Blecher, reviewed the work of the lodge. At the conclusion of the evening light refreshments were served.

Thursday evening, Mrs. T. R. Sheridan of Roseburg, who is visiting relatives here, gave a special salmon and clam bake at Empire for the members of the Flanagan family and a few other friends. Jack D. Flanagan was master of ceremonies and the manner in which he dished up the salmon, clams, crabs and roasting ears was something those participating will never forget. Among those present were Mrs. T. R. Sheridan, George Sheridan, Misses Minnie and Grace Sheridan, T. H. Barry and wife and children, Geo Flanagan, Pat Flanagan, Evelyn Flanagan, C. F. McCollum and wife, Miss Mary Mullin, Jack Flanagan and family, Claude Nasburg and Jack Meehan.

The A. N. W. club was entertained last Thursday afternoon by Mrs. F. E. Allen at her home in South Marshfield. Owing to the absence of so many members of the club from town, the attendance is not large at the meetings. Last Thursday, a roster was called and the answers showed the following were absent:

Mrs. John Bear, who is at her ranch home on Kentuck Inlet.

Mrs. Olivia Edmon, who is visiting in Chicago.

Mrs. F. M. Friedberg, who is in San Francisco with Mr. Friedberg where he is receiving medical aid.

Mrs. Fannie Hazard and Mrs. Mary McKnight, who are visiting at the Geo W. Loggie home in Bellingham, Wash.

Mrs. J. T. McCormac, who is visiting at Portland and other northern points.

Mrs. Rose Preuss, who is now at San Diego after spending the summer in Alaska.

Mrs. L. M. Noble, who is spending a few weeks in Portland.

Mrs. Eugene O'Connell, who is visiting relatives in Vancouver, B.C.

Mrs. Reed, who is visiting in California and Nevada.

Mrs. C. S. Kaiser, who is visiting at Port Orford.

No business was taken up by the club Thursday, the afternoon being spent in social diversions. Next Thursday afternoon, the club will be entertained by Mrs. G. A. Bennett.

The teachers of the South Marshfield school building are today enjoying a picnic at Charleston, a special launch being chartered to take them there for the day's outing.

Mrs. L. J. Simpson was unable to entertain the Bridge club at her summer home, "Shore Acres," last Wednesday as was anticipated, the date being postponed until next Wednesday.

Miss Lillian McCann entertained in honor of Miss Florence Jennings of Portland Tuesday evening at her home in North Bend. The evening was spent with games and music, Miss Lillian McCann gave a few instrumental solos, and Miss Florence Jennings rendered some vocal solos which were enjoyed very much as were numbers by a quintet consisting of Miss Ellen Anderson, Lillian McCann, Florence Jennings, Marion Reynolds and Ralph Coke.
