

FINE TIME AT MODEL MEETING

Large Crowd Participates In Women of Woodcraft Event Here.

"The Model Meeting" held by Coos Bay Circle, No. 164, Women of Woodcraft, at their hall last evening was one of the most largely attended gatherings the Order has ever held here and was one of the most enjoyable. Following the business session and ritualistic work, a sumptuous banquet was served. The hall was handsomely decorated. W. U. Douglas acted as toastmaster and among those responding were Frank B. Tichenor, Mrs. M. E. Hollywood, Annie Hawkins, Mr. C. Hawkins, Mrs. Mabel A. Roberts and Mrs. Mary A. Price and Mrs. Nora Daly.

Aid Berry Fair.
The Coos Bay Circle instructed the clerk to notify the Chamber of Commerce that the membership of Coos Bay Circle would hold themselves in readiness to do whatever they could to make the coming first annual Coos county berry fair a success. All visitors present made it known that they would go back to their homes and let all know that Marshfield would hold a berry fair each year.

Grand Manager Annie Hawkins, one of the founders of the order of the Women of Woodcraft, spoke at length telling of the starting of the order, and of the great work the society is doing at the present time. She informed those present that the order's official paper would give Coos Bay much publicity the next few months, this publication goes into more than 50,000 homes.

She congratulated the officers and guards for their splendid work. A big class of candidates were initiated, several coming from North Bend, Coquille and Myrtle Point.

A vote of thanks was given to the press of Marshfield for the courtesy shown the order during their membership campaign of the past few months.

It was past one o'clock in the morning when the crowd sat down to the elaborate banquet in the beautifully decorated banquet room.

The committees who had the work in charge were praised on all sides for the manner in which they had planned the evening's entertainment.

Special Organizer M. E. Hollywood was given a vote of thanks for her efforts in instructing the officers and guards for the model meeting.
