Just before they started from here, Mr. Smith had a tooth extracted and he caught cold in his jaw during the trip, causing illness which detracted much from the pleasure of his visit.

LOCAL NOTES

THE WEATHER.
(By Associated Press.)
OREGON, Oct. 4.—Occasional rain tonight and Thursday.

Farewell Party.—The farewell dancing party to be given by Prof. Beggs at I. O. O. F. Hall this evening promises to be largely attended.

Buy Store.—Chas. E. Fox and Geo Cook have purchased the second hand store on North Front street which was formerly conducted by W. A. Ketchum.

Camp Moved.—The removal of the Smith-Powers Logging camp from Cunningham creek to McKnight's landing on South Coos River was completed yesterday.

Reception Tonight.—The congregation of the Marshfield Methodist church and their friends will tender a reception to Rev. H. I. Rutledge and wife in the church parlors this evening and a large attendance is expected.

Teach at Corvallis.—Prof. Applewhite and Prof. Hewitt, who were members of the faculty of the Marshfield high school last year, are instructors in the preparatory school of Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis this year.

Cut Out Hill.—Road Supervisor Taylor Siglin has a force of men cutting through a new road opposite Henryville. The new piece of road is about a half mile long and when completed will eliminate the worst hill on the Coquille-Marshfield road.

Is Bankrupt.—Creditors of Jas. W. Duncan, who formerly conducted a furniture factory in North Bend, have been appraised that he has been adjudged a bankrupt and that the final hearing of creditors will be held in federal court at Portland November 2.

To Roseburg.—L. D. Walrath, of the Oregon Life Insurance Co., accompanied by his family, arrived here Saturday evening to remain permanently. Mr. Walrath has been looking after his company's interests for the past three months, at Marshfield.—Roseburg News.

On New Paper.—Miss Spence Wilson has received word that Miss Fay King of Portland, a close friend of hers, is the cartoonist on "The Bleacher," a new sporting weekly which has been started in Portland. J. J. Richardson who formerly handled the sport news on the Portland Journal. Some copies of the new paper have been received here and have made a very favorable impression.

Engagement Announced.—Friends of Claude Nasburg and Miss Helen Doble have been apprised of their engagement, although no formal announcement has yet been made. The marriage will take place in December, probably. Miss Doble is well-known on the Bay, having visited here a number of times at the W. S. Chandler home. She is prominent in Portland society, her home being in Portland.

Goes to Ten Mile.—Ivy Condron is organizing a hunting and fishing party today to go to Ten Mile for a few days outing. This is Mr. Condron's first trip there and he is arranging to have the event properly celebrated.

I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and found that it cured their coughs and colds, so I keep it in the house all the time." Refuse substitutes.—PREUSS DRUG CO.

Is Ill.—Dave Sneddon of Libby was taken to Mercy hospital last night for treatment. He is suffering from peritonitis and other complications.

To Medford.—Rev. W. T. Goulder, who has been pastor of the Methodist church South, at Coquille the past year, has returned to Medford, Rev. C. H. Cleaves succeeding him at Coquille.

Trouble Brewing.—It was reported today that serious trouble is brewing between some fishermen from the Columbia river and Coos Bay fishermen over the division of the local salmon field and a clash is expected any time.

May Not Meet.—Owing to the opinion of City Attorney Goss that it would not be necessary to hold a primary election in Marshfield owing to the special city charter providing for the nominating of city candidates by a caucus, City Recorder Butler stated today that the special session of the city council called for tonight probably would not be held.

Long Auto Trip.—Mr. Pixley, a tobacco salesman, arrived here yesterday from San Francisco in an auto, having made the trip up the coast with one or two other salesmen. They visited all the principal points along the coast, traveling about 1,000 miles in three weeks. They got through without much difficulty but owing to the rainy weather have decided to ship their auto back by steamer from here. They had a 30-h.p. five passenger car.

Burned Whiskers.—E. E. Johnson, the well-known Coquille lumberman, and Inspector Mohler drove over today in Mr. Johnson's car. Mr. Johnson had a fine Van Dyck beard growing until the other night when he took the generator tank off his auto to clean it, while overhauling the machine. He thought all the gas was out of the tank and lit a match over it to see whether it was clean. There was an explosion and his fine beard, the pride of his many Coquille friends, was a sight to behold. Luckily there wasn't sufficient gas to injure his eyes.

Left All to Wife.—Judge John F. Hall has returned from Coquille where he held the monthly session of probate court, adjourning until next Monday. Some got it confused with the meeting of the county commissioners but the latter will not be held until the first Monday in November. The only matter to come up in probate court was the final settlement of the estate of John Kronenberg, the well known Coquille pioneer who died several months ago. Mr. Kronenberg's estate was appraised at about $34,000 and it was all bequeathed to his widow with the exception of $10 apiece to each of the four children.

Couldn't Find Britt.—Constable Cox went to Empire and to the Life Saving Station today to serve a warrant on Capt. Britt of the U. S. Life Saving crew charging him with assault and battery. The charge was preferred in Justice Penneck's court by T. H. Barry of Empire who alleges Britt attacked his son. Constable Cox was unable to find Mr. Britt today but will return later to serve the warrant. Major Tower of Empire today filed an affidavit before Justice Penneck that he saw Britt kick the Barry boy. It is said the trouble resulted from trouble between the Barry boy and a step-son of Capt. Britt.

Fine Apples.—Chas Stauff has placed on exhibit at the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce a fine box of apples that he secured from the J. D. Benham orchard.

REV. J. T. M. Knox and family of Marshfield and Rev. D. A. McLeod of North Bend will leave Saturday to attend the annual Synod of this Presbytery of the Presbyterian church. They will go via Portland.
