Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Everson are expected here soon from their honeymoon trip. They will reside in West Marshfield, in a residence which the groom recently bought and furnished and where they will be at home to friends after November 1. Concerning the wedding, the Roseburg Reviews prints the following: "A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. De S. Pearce, at Edenbower, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Miss Frances M. George, of Port Huron, Mich. became the bride of Carl Everson of Marshfield, Ore., Rev. The impressive ring service was used before a prettily improvised altar, banked with pampas plumes and festooned with vines and blossoms, the bridal party standing beneath an arch of asparagus ferns, and roses, from which was suspended a golden horseshoe. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Pearce. Miss Isabelle Munn, at the piano, played sweet music during the ceremony. The bride was attired in a dainty dress of white marquisette over white silk, with Irish crochet inserts and pearl garniture, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. Mrs. Pierce wore a lingerie gown of white organdie, with pearl trimmings and carried a cluster of pink and white sweet peas. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at a table handsomely decorated in pink and white, candies being used effectively. Later Mr. and Mrs. Everson left by automobile for a wedding tour and will be at home to their friends after November 1st in Marshfield, where the groom has a home in readiness. He is a prominent business man of that city."

Director Fenton had the band rehearse especially for the occasion and they did themselves proud. It is planned to give other dancing parties for the band during the fall and winter months. The committee in charge of last night's event consisted of C. F. Ellerbeck, Hays Howard, R. F. Fenton, Thomas Batchelor, F. E. Wilson and Vince Pratt.

THE TOGGERY

Preferred Stock Tomatoes
come out whole—can be served as stewed tomatoes, or any way, at less cost than fresh ones though equally as good.
Notice the ordinary kind—more like soup than tomatoes; then open a can of Preferred Stock—the kind you would pick from the vine if you had your choice.

Preferred Stock Canned Goods
Packed Wherever the Best are Grown

For our tomatoes we go to the famous Santa Clara Valley in California. These tomatoes are firmer, with more meat and less water. Only the best of these are selected for Preferred Stock use; they must be just a red, firm ripeness.

We pay more for our tomatoes than most canners do, and we insist on having the first pick, accept only the best fruit, of uniform, medium size, and have it put up right where the tomatoes are grown, by one of the nearest, most expert canners in all California. Tomatoes are a staple necessity in every household. Even the United States Government regards them as an important food from an hygienic and nutritive point of view. Preferred Stock Tomatoes may cost a trifle more than some kinds, but look at the way they come out of the can—and mostly meat; observe the quality and flavor—and the quantity.
