NO REQUEST TO DREDGE THE BAY

as now seems to be their plan. It is stated that the ferry for the present would be cheaper and would be adequate until the traffic increases greatly and besides, some claim, the Southern Pacific dislikes to stir up the antagonism that is likely to result on the Bay if an attempt is made to bridge the channel.

Land Under Option.
No deeds have yet been filed transferring the tract at the west side of the mouth of Pony Inlet which it is reported that the Southern Pacific has acquired. However, it was reported on pretty good authority today that the tract was under option, either verbal or written, so that the Southern Pacific could take as much of it as it needs. The reason for the option instead of the purchase is said to have been the uncertainty of the Southern Pacific being able to bridge the bay at that point. If they can, they need the land and if they can't, they do not.

Base of Supplies.
Another report today was that the Southern Pacific would soon begin the construction of wharves and docks at Sand Point and make that the base of supplies for the construction work on this end of the road to Eugene. This wharf construction, it is stated, will be rushed to completion so that construction can be pushed from this end simultaneously with construction from the Eugene end.

Little News Today.
There were fewer railroad rumors afloat today than have been in circulation for several days past. In fact there were no particular developments.

Engineer Sumner, who has established his winter camp at Winchester Bay, was reported to have sent to Marshfield for a half a dozen additional men to assist in the survey work there.

The preliminary survey for the Terminal Railway has practically been completed and now they are waiting on the dredge fill and also on the North Bend election.

NEW RAILROAD ROUTE.

Boise and Coos Bay Surveyors Close to Roseburg.

The Roseburg News says: "Mr. George Best was in the city for a few moments yesterday from Looking Glass, and from the gentleman, the News learned of interesting developments in the railroad situation. Discovering a party of men in his orchard the previous evening, Mr. Best went out to learn the reason for invasion of his property, and was surprised to find a party of surveyors, whom he believes to be in the employ of the Boise and Coos Bay company, although they would neither deny or affirm the inquiry, but from them it was learned that the survey will run from the Strickland ranch through the farms of George Marsh and George Best, touching the Crow place and thence to the J. H. Brown farm and from there it is proposed to tunnel the Umpqua range, coming out in the valley in the vicinity of Melrose. From this point the survey will cross the river, run eastward to and through Edenbowser, finding terminals either in North Roseburg or West Roseburg. By following this was more than a success in both the beauty of the decorations and the able management. One of the largest crowds that have assembled for some time filled the hall to overflowing. Many were the expressions of pleasure and enjoyment. For the dancers one entire floor was utilized and the music was excellent. In each intermission the dancers were refreshed with delicious fruit punch. Ustairs, cards and conversation whiled away the time for the chaperons and older guests. In the games of progressive whist, the first and second ladies' prizes were won by Mrs. Lydia Lang and Mrs. W. F. Irish, respectively, and the corresponding gentlemen's prizes by Messrs. W. B. Scott and J. W. Hildenbrand. The games ended near eleven o'clock, when refreshments of coffee and cake were served.

A very unique progressive party was given in North Bend last night, when about forty members of the Wesleyan Bible Class of the Methodist Episcopal Church gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Ballsinger to purchase tickets for a trip "around the world." After getting settled in the train a good deal of difficulty was experienced in side-tracking and collecting the cars, but finally the party was off with a dash, stopping only at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gubser where the baggage was checked. In due time luncheon was served by Mr. and Mrs. Isaacs in the dining car. Continuing the trip stops were made along the line to view the scenery and marvel at the strange customs, the different houses representing different cities. A long stop was made when Mr. and Mrs. Haze presented a marvelous shadow picture representing the daily life of the Oriental, in which a learned doctor, operating upon a Chinaman, forced that inhuman to disgorge several rats, snakes, rabbits, and other like toothsome delicacies which form his daily diet. The plan of the whole party was original with Mr. Ballsinger and a few fellow-workers.

route the company will avoid paralleling the Southern Pacific Co.'s tracks from Happy Valley to the city, and will also eliminate the necessity of buying a lot of high priced right of way, and by coming into West Roseburg will not have to cross the Southern Pacific tracks as formerly planned. If the route should find terminals in North Roseburg the crossing of the Southern Pacific line would occur in Edenbowser, and depot facilities will be sought east of the rock crusher.

ASSET COMPANY SOLD

Report that Eugene Project Has Been Absorbed.

The Eugene Guard says: "There is an unconfirmed report that the Lane County Asset company has sold its interests to either the S. P. Co., or the Pacific Great Western. The officials of the company refuse to confirm or deny it, but say the company was organized primarily to secure the building of a road to the coast, and has always been willing to get out of the way of any company that means business. It is generally believed that the S. P. will absorb the Asset company, although the Pacific Great Western has been carrying on negotiations for the property and rights of the local company. "It is said that the S. P. company will begin work right away if they close a deal with the Asset Co., as they have purchased a continuous right-of-way from Eugene to the mountains, except where it conflicts with the Asset company's holdings. It is thought that definite news will be given out in a day or day. "R. B. Hunt, engineer of the Pacific Great Western Railway company, returned Saturday night from his trip with Engineer Sumner and Mr. Volkman, of the Pacific Coast Line railway, to Florence and Coos Bay."

THE MODERN BLACKSMITH.

Under a costly canopy
The village blacksmith sits;
Before him is a touring car,
Broken to little bits;
And the owner, and the chauffeur,
Too,
Have almost lost their wits.

The village blacksmith smiles with glee
As he lights his fat cigar,
He tells his helpers what to do
To straighten up the car,
And the owner, and the chauffeur,
Too,
Stand humbly where they are.

The village blacksmith puffs his pipe
And smiles a smile of cheer,
The while his helpers pump the tires,
And monkey with the gear,
And the owner, and the chauffeur,
Too,
Stand reverently near.

Behind the village blacksmith is
The portal of his shop;
The shop is very large in size,
With a tiled roof on top—
And the owner, and the chauffeur,
Too,
At it were glad to stop.

The children going home from school
Look in at the open door;
They like to see him make his bills
And hear the owners roar;
And the chauffeurs weep as they declare
They ne'er paid that before.

Ho goes each morning to the bank
And salts away his cash;
A high silk hat and long frock coat
Help him to cut a dash—
But the owner, and the chauffeur,
Too,
Their teeth all vainly gnash.

The chestnut tree long since has died,
The smith does not repine;
His humble shop has grown into
A building big and fine,
And it bears "Garage" above the door,
On a huge electric sign.
