COOSTON CULLINGS.

(Special to The Times.)

Mr. Johnson has just finished picking the potatoes on a three-acre field that yielded 800 bushels.

Hugo and Oscar Stauff, Mr. Victor Stauff's sons, who are attending the college at Corvallis, report an unusually large attendance at that institution this year.

Mr. Wm Lindstrom is finishing a fine new dwelling. The pale field on his ranch is about as fine as one can find anywhere, and the same can be said about his corn.

The fruit inspector recently pronounced Victor Stauff's orchard the finest young orchard in the county. And it certainly is fine. It is planned along up-to-date scientific lines, and it is being well attended. The trees are simply fine.

CURRY COUNTY ACCIDENT.

Last Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Woodruff's youngest son, Lyman, met with an accident that nearly cost the boy both eyes. Lyman, together with his elder brothers, had drawn the loads out of some shot gun shells, and like all boys, left the litter on the floor for their mother to sweep up. Mrs. Woodruff swept the trash into the fire. Lyman saw something in the trash pile he wanted to save from the fire and stooped to pick it up just as the supposed empty shells exploded. Powder and hot embers filled his face and eyes, singeing off his hair above the forehead. The boy was brought to Dr. Schliemann Saturday afternoon who dressed the eyes and discovered they were not out, and says the boy will ultimately recover his vision again though it will be some time before he can bear the rays of light.—Gold Beach Globe.

A number of relatives and friends witnessed the pretty and impressive ceremony and the happy couple were the recipients of many useful wedding gifts. The groom is an industrious and most exemplary young man who has grown to manhood in this community. He is foreman of the bridge crew on the Coos Bay and Eastern railroad.

KENTUCK INLET ITEMS.

(Special to The Times.)

Practically all farmers here are now digging their potatoes. The yield is medium or above the normal.

Mr. E. P. Bribs is building a very fine living house on his place.

Mrs. Hansen is also putting up a home on her ranch.

The surveyors are now nearly through with their work on the proposed county road from Allegany to North Bend. The survey leaves the old road a short distance below Mr. E. P. Bribs' place, and the report is that the average grade will not exceed 6 per cent.

Mr. E. Evenson is getting his place into fine shape, having also nearly finished a living house.

Mr. S. W. Harmon is busy clearing land and planting a fine apple orchard.

The flower garden at Abe Anderson's place is perhaps one of the best in the county.

C. T. Smith's ranch may be said to be a model ranch in many respects. It is evidence of what work, planning and perseverance will do on Coos county land. Mr. Kjelland is also rapidly getting his ranch into first class shape.
