Wind, Northwest; clear.

Very Ill.—Chas. S. Hilborn, the Millco pioneer who has been sick for some time, is reported to be in a rather critical condition today.
Is Released.—Sam Center was released today by City Recorder Butler on the promise of Centers' father that the latter would behave himself.

To Undergo Operation.—Miss Louise Hale of Bandon was brought to Mercy hospital yesterday to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

To Coquille.—Engineer Sumner of the North Coast line, went to Coquille this afternoon to look up some official records relative to the project. He will return tonight.

Show Coming.—Advance Agent Hawley of the Nashville Students arrived here today. The troupe consists of ten Negro singers, musicians and artists who will present a minstrel show at the Royal November 1 and 2. The company will make the Coos county circuit and Mr. Hawley says they are the best negro entertainers on the Coast.

Wins Contest.—John Herron has been advised that the Interior Department has decided in his favor the Fall Creek homestead contest. Parties who endeavored to secure it with North Pacific scrip instituted the proceedings. This is thought to finally decide the case and F. E. Hagne, Addison Cook, Tip Cordes, J. Schapers, Earl Wenner, Jas Winne, Jack Farley, Alton Sengstacken, Hugh Suddon and Watt Short expect similar decisions in their homestead contests. Geo Herron, Tom Smith and Roy Moore previously won favorable decisions.

Hold Social.—A very enjoyable evening was spent last night by the members of Coos Bay Camp No. 3408, Modern Woodmen of America, at the Finnish hall. It was the regular meeting of the camp, and after the regular routine business had been transacted, a light lunch and impromptu speeches were enjoyed by those present. M. McLain of Grand Marais, Michigan, has been appointed deputy head counsel for Marshfield and the Camp has started an active campaign for new members. Seven newly elected members will be adopted at the next meeting of the Camp which will be held on Tuesday evening, November 14.

Logger Injured.—A logger named Davis sustained severe injuries to his leg in an accident at Smith-Powers Camp No. 2 on Isthmus Inlet yesterday. He was taken to his home in Coquille.
Boat Maybe Lost.—According to a rumor afloat here today, the Hunter, formerly the Gardiner tug, but which was later taken to Puget Sound and converted into a passenger boat, was lost there recently.
Grows Big Corn.—Stalks of corn, twelve feet high, with large ears are on exhibit at the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce. They were brought down by Mrs. Dyer of Daniels Creek who says they are some that were raised on their ranch by their little daughter, Catherine.
Clear $160.—As a result of their social at the Odd Fellows hall last Friday evening, the ladies of St. Monica's Catholic church cleared about $160. The total receipts were about $210. The ladies are very much gratified over the success of it in a financial as well as a social way.
Ed Weider Hurt.—Ed. Weider of Marshfield while playing on the Columbia University football team sustained a broken rib and other injuries in a recent game. He is now in the college infirmary but is getting along nicely, which will be gratifying news to his many friends here.
Finishes Dam.—E. E. Dyer was in Marshfield today preparing to go to Pistol River to assist in completing the big steel bridge which Contractor Perham is putting in there. Mr. Dyer has just completed a big dam that was constructed for the reclamation of the Fat Elk Drainage District on the Coquille.
Find Oysters.—Capt. J. A. O'Kelly yesterday morning took his old friend Fish Warden Gorr down the Bay to the place where Mr. O'Kelly and members of the Rod and Gun Club planted some oysters a few years ago. A number were found and they were fine specimens of the bivalve, demonstrating that with a little care and attention an oyster bed could be made a success here.
Move to Eugene.—L. S. Doble, wife and daughter, Miss Helen of Portland, have decided to make Eugene their future home. Mr. Doble is the popular traveling representative of Fleishner, Mayer & Co., of Portland. He has been "making" Eugene for a number of years past and is one of the most popular drummers on the road. Mrs. Doble and Miss Helen were here for some time during the summer.—Eugene Guard.
Go To Empire.—C. R. Smith and his sons, went to Empire today to inspect the Southern Oregon property and cannery there. Mr. Smith expects to spend a week or as much longer on the Bay as business here requires. His sons may remain longer and enjoy an outing here. Mr. Smith as yet has not definitely determined on the date for beginning any active development of his Coos county property, waiting on the railroad development and also on the outcome of the Southern Oregon company's suit.

WARD RESIGNS IN NORTH BEND

Councilman Retires on Account of Removal From City—Council Meets.

At the regular meeting of the North Bend city council last evening, J. A. Ward presented his resignation as a member of that body. He stated that he had moved to his ranch near the Coos Bay creamery and had opened an office in Marshfield so that he could not very well attend to the duties of councilman in North Bend. The resignation was accepted.

As there are but four regular meetings of the North Bend council scheduled for the balance of the year, it is not likely that a successor will be appointed, as his successor can be elected at the December election.

This will make four councilmen to elect in North Bend, the terms of Messrs. Falkenstein, McDaniel and Jacobson expiring.

The date of the city caucus to nominate candidates for election will be fixed at the first meeting in November. It will probably be the last of November or the first of December.

No other business of importance was taken up, discussion of the water report being deferred until the special committee considers it.

limits, it is not expected that this will interfere with his duties as fire chief.

J. E. SCHILLING who has been spending a few days here left on this morning's stage for Gardiner.
