Move Office.—F. S. Dow will move his office from the present quarters on Front street to a new office suite that he has just completed at Ocean Dock on North Front street about November 1.

Loses Sight.—C. O. Gosney has received word from Mrs. Gosney that their little son, whom she recently took to Portland for medical treatment, has lost the sight of one eye. He will be operated on there next Wednesday.

Decisive Fight.—Earl Henderson has returned from Bandon where he was arranging for a twenty round of a fight to a finish or a decision with Roughhouse Charley Burns. It probably will be pulled off about November 25 if Henderson is an easy victor over Danny O'Brien here November 11.

Ships Specimens.—Dr. Haydon, who has been collecting specimens of Coos Bay flora for the Field Museum, will ship about 210 fine ones tomorrow. He has gathered some excellent specimens in compliance with the wishes of Mr. Smith, the Field Museum representative who was here a few months ago getting specimens of the woods of this section.

Is Married.—Mrs. T. Moon of West Marshfield has received word that her brother-in-law, Newman Moon, was recently married in Southern Oregon and will shortly return here with his bride. No other particulars has been given. Newman Moon has been foreman of construction for Contractor Perham. He plans to erect a fine home on his property in South Marshfield soon after his return.

Leg Broken.—Frank Bowron sustained a broken leg night before last night when he fell off the wharf and nearly drowned. This was determined by physicians yesterday. He is being cared for at his town home in South Marshfield. It is now stated that both he and Alec Wilson might have drowned had not Bill Smith of Coos River happened along and aided the Java Coffee House night cook in removing them from the Bay.

Likes Coos Bay.—Z. T. Thomas, the well-known Allegany citizen, arrived home yesterday from a visit at his old home near Kansas City. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Dave Cowan and the Cowan children. It has been twenty-one years since they left there and not until he had seen it again did Mr. Thomas realize how fond he had grown of Coos Bay. He has resolved never to leave here again. They visited at many points of interest during their trip.

An Old Offender.—Frank Smith, who was sentenced to a term of one year in the state penitentiary from Douglas about three years ago, is again in trouble. He languishes in a jail in Coos County at present. At the time of Smith's arrest and conviction in Douglas county he was accused of assaulting a Camas valley resident by the name of Martindale. He alleged that he was intoxicated, but notwithstanding, he was convicted by a jury and later sent to the penitentiary.—Roseburg News.

Who Is Watts?—A check on the First National bank for $80 by Watts, Engineer in Charge, has gone to protest because no such man has an account there and no railroad survey company can be found who will admit it belongs to them. The check was cashed by J. C. Frye of Camas Valley and was forwarded here by the Douglas County National of Roseburg. It may be that another railroad that no one here has heard about is being surveyed through Camas valley.
