Ruling Power In China Willing to Grant Revolutionists Almost Everything.

REBELS THINK OFFERS ONLY DECEPTIVE TRICKS

Future Fortune of Celestial Empire Will Be Known Soon -Now at Crisis.

(By Associated Press.)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 31 .- A few . days more will tell the future . fortune of China. It is predictdet that unless the Manchu dy-• nasty immediately demonstrates • the sincerity of the imperial • edicts being issued at Pekin. • the slaughter will exceed that . of the Tai Ping rebellion.

Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.

PEKIN, China, Oct. 31.-The tate of terror in the Imperial court was further evidenced today by a long list of edicts supplementing yeserday's remarkable proclamation, and offering further concessions of most radical character. A transfer even of the cabinet offices to the Native Chinese is ordered and the throne swears that "hereafter Manthus and Chinese shall be regarded Today's edicts indicates that even though the dynasty survives, the Manchus rule is at an end.

The edicts are a complete capituation to the demands of the national assembly, and even go so far as to offer an extravagant prize to rebels bringing about great reforms which are promised. The revolutionists are unimpressed by the flood of edicts from the Emperor and declared the dynasty's partial surrender has come this week. too late. Moreover they do not trust fire!

The National Assembly today voics doubtful if the edicts will serve to stay the rebellion.

Merchants There Finally Decide to Sell Goods to Strike-Breakers.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 31 .- The boycott of the Roseburg merchants against the Southern Pacific strikebreakers in this city was called off at a meeting last evening. The meeting of the merchants followed an intimation that the Southern Pacific was planning to change its saops from Roseburg and also change the division point from here and that the hostility of the local business men was partly responsible for it.

Until today, the local business men have refused to sell anything, even tobacco, to the strike breakers. union men had taken it up with the local merchants and secured the blacklisting of the strike breakers. The Southern Pacific has been shipping in supplies for the non-union men working for the company here.

The business men now say that The union leaders are much dis-· pleased as they claim that they have the strike practically won, despite the claim of the railroad company that the strike has been broken .
