

GAME FASTEST IN LONG TIME

Marshfield's Victory Over North Bend Not As Easy as 21 to 0 Indicated.

In one of the fastest and most hotly contested football games seen in Marshfield in many years, the Marshfield High school Saturday defeated North Bend by a score of 21 to 0. Despite the one-sided score, the game, from a spectator's standpoint, was one of the best ever seen here. Fast, sensational plays, and long runs, abounded while the defensive work of both teams kept the crowd continually on edge.

Marshfield had the visitors on the defensive most of the time. The different plays went off the clockwork, and the interference given the runner with the ball was nearly perfect. Time and again the halfbacks, behind a solid screen of interference, made gains of from 5 to 15 yards around the ends, while series of criss-crosses and tackle plays seemed to have North Bend completely bewildered.

At no time during the contest was Marshfield's goal in danger. North Bend seemed to have trouble in getting their plays started, and when they did get off, the formations were generally broken up behind the line of scrimmage. The only plays that the visitors seemed able to gain on were line bucks, and these gains were not consistent.

At the beginning of the first quarter, Marshfield kicked off to North Bend. North Bend got the ball on her 20-yard line and ran it back several yards before the runner was downed. Marshfield held them for downs and then by a rapid series of end runs and tackle plays, carried the ball down the field and over the goal line. Stutsman finally making the touchdown in less than five minutes from the time the play started. No goal was kicked.

Marshfield again kicked off to North Bend. The ball see-sawed back and forth between the two teams for a few minutes, and then Stutsman, capturing one of the visitor's forward passes, made a forty-yard run for the second touchdown of the game. Stutsman again failed at goal. Marshfield kicked off to North Bend a third time, but time was called before the quarter ended with the ball on North Bend's forty-yard line.

Marshfield started off with a rush in the second quarter and inside of a few minutes made their third touchdown, Stutsman slipping through the line and over the goal on a quarter-back play. He then kicked the only goal of the game.

At this period of the game North Bend seemed to take a brace, and made yardage several times by means of line bucks toward the last of the quarter. The home team's defense braced up and held the visitor for downs. The half ended with the ball in North Bend's territory.

Second Half.
The second half started with Marshfield again kicking off to North Bend. The latter continued their line bucking tactics but Marshfield seemed to have solved their offense and held them for downs.

The ball then see-sawed back and forth. Marshfield was within a short distance of their opponent's goal several times but the visitors always managed to hold them for downs at the last minute and punt out to safety. Toward the last of the quarter Marshfield worked a triple pass ending in a punt which Right End Johnson captured and carried the ball across the goal line for the last touchdown. The rest of the quarter was a repetition of the first.

Marshfield had all the better of the game in the last quarter, making good gains repeatedly around the end and through tackle and guard. North Bend, however, fought stubbornly and succeeded in keeping Marshfield from scoring again.

There were no particular stars for Marshfield, every man playing a good game.

Stutsman and Chauncey Clark, however, played an especially brilliant offensive game, while Walters and Larson showed up strong on the defense. This was Walter's first real game, and from his showing he will make a valuable addition to the team.

There was a large attendance from North Bend as well as Marshfield.

The lineups were as follows:

Marshfield	Pos.	No Bend.
Seaman	c.	Davis
Carlson	r g	Winsor, Hunt
Kruse	l g	Clinkinbeard
Walters	r t	Weir
Curtis	l t	Golder
Johnson,		Convo.
C. Clarke	r e	Simpson, Smith
Jensen	l e	Dewey
Stutsman	q b	Shepherd
Harrington	r h	Van Zile
S. Clarke	f b	Weiling
Larson	l h	Haesen

Officials—Umpire, Pat Flanagan; referee, Hartman; field judge, R. O. Graves.

In the first quarter, Van Zile injured his knee which has been weak through injuries in previous years.

YOUTH'S HARD TRIP TO BAY

Alfred Berry, Aged 17, Walks Most of Way From Maine to Coos Bay.

Tired and weary after a rather strenuous trip from Machias, Maine, to Coos Bay, and having walked the greater part of the distance, Alfred Berry, seventeen years old, reached here a couple of days ago. He is a cousin of H. M. Albee, an employe of the machine shops at the C. A. Smith mill, whom he had not seen in years until his arrival on the Bay.

Berry tired of the east and wanted to come west to the "land of opportunity" and somewhere learned that Coos Bay was the best of all. He decided to come but was short on traveling money. However this did not deter him and he started out afoot. He left Machias August 24 and has been on the road continually ever since.

On account of his youth and lack of experience in "roughing it," making his way across the continent was far from a snap. His little cash was soon depleted. At one town in the middle west, he bumped up against the officers and because he lacked money to show that he wasn't a hobo, was thrown into jail but he found an opportunity to make his get away and continue his westward hike. He wanted to get through in a hurry and at one time not having the nerve to try for a "hand-out," he lived on apples alone for four days.

An indication of what he went through is shown by the fact that when he left Maine he weighed 160 pounds and when he reached here footsore and weary his avoirdupois was only 125. In making inquiries for his cousin on his arrival here, he found new friends who advanced some money for him and he was able to get a hair cut and a shave in order to make himself presentable to Mr. Albee. The latter quickly found him a job and Berry is now delighted over the outcome of his venture.

"That's the kind of fellows we want," said one man who heard young Berry's story this morning. "He will make good and while he possibly will always remember the experiences he had, they will be mollified by the fruits that will come to him. Incidentally it shows that Coos Bay is pretty well advertised and pretty favorably too, in order that a man will start to walk from Maine to get here."

A MAIL CARRIER'S LOAD

Seems heavier when he has a weak back and kidney trouble. Fred Duchon, mail carrier at Atchison, Kansas, says:—"I have been bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and had a severe pain across my back. Whenever I carried a heavy load of mail, my kidney trouble increased. Some time ago, I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills and since taking them I have gotten entirely rid of all my kidney trouble and am as sound now as ever." WATER WORDS FLOW AGAIN

J. W. Bennett Issues Another Lengthy Statement on Situation.

J. W. Bennett has issued the following statement in reference to the water situation: "Where are we? On the 20th ult. we commenced to 'talk it over' and now that the water committee will be called on to report in a short time, the question arises, where are we at?"

Proposition No. 1
"The first proposition was that the cities of North Bend and Marshfield go into the public utility business, buy the plant and bond the two towns. Has anyone been able to discover what the sentiment in the two towns is, as to joining in an enterprise of this kind if they can do so under the law? When one considers that Marshfield is already bonded for Fifty-four Thousand Dollars, with a city hall yet to build, and streets to pave; that the Marshfield school district is bonded to the extent of about Fifty Thousand dollars; that the Port Commission liability is Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars; that there are a large number of outstanding street improvement bonds; that there is a proposition on hand to bond the community for a million dollars for improvement of roads; that taxes are already over four per cent per annum; the question is, what conclusion have the people come to in regard to incurring further liabilities in the purchase of the water works?"

Proposition No. 2
"As to the second proposition,—That in case the two towns do not agree, then that a franchise be given to some one who will purchase the plant and put in Sixty Thousand Dollars in addition to the improvement of it, which is considered desirable, and with a clause in it, that the city be authorized to purchase the plant at any time after a stated period at the actual value thereof, without including in the estimate of the actual value, any sum whatever for the franchise or the increased value of the plant by reason of the franchise. Mr. Nolan has an option to purchase the plant at the present time, which option makes provisions for the submission of this question and is what might be called a sliding scale option, and this is what the committee of the two towns seem to be up to at the present time. The one later on is the deal with the present company and extending the franchise so as to justify the expenditures. Is the question not here at the present time? When nobody else wanted to purchase, Mr. Nolan and his associates got an option and then, for the first time, it dawned upon the agitators, who love sensationalism, that this was an opportunity to be heard. I am satisfied that, if Mr. Nolan and his associates are granted a franchise, which will bring reasonable returns on the investment, they will, in addition to purchasing the plant, which they have a right to do anyway, put in the additional $60,000 in making the improvements which are said to be desirable and the mayors and city councilmen of both North Bend and Marshfield, being good square business men, with lots of good, common sense, and not swayed by sensational articles, will carefully consider what is best under the circumstances; but don't forget that the three situations referred to in my article in the Times of last Monday, are the ones which confront the people, as it is entirely immaterial to the water company, whether they sell to the cities or to Mr. Nolan or whether they retain the plant themselves. They are not losing a moment's sleep in regard to either one of the propositions."

Mike's Shoes Won't Fit.
"Newspapers in discussing these matters should not be led away by their enthusiasm in the matter, and although I admit the papers seem to be more readable when there is something splotchy on hand, still it is not fair for a paper like The Times, in the spring of the year to condemn the system on account of the water being contaminated with colon bacilli and in the fall of the same year, try to get the city to buy these nasty things, and sell them to the public. It is true The Times says that it published the reports of the Oregon State Board of Health, in the spring but if it didn't believe in these reports, it should not publish them and give the town a bad name and if it did believe in them, then it should not ask the city of Marshfield to purchase them and peddle them around to the public. There was no excuse for publishing the reports in the spring at all, after the committee went openly and purchased the bottles at a drug store, went openly to the very same faucets from which samples had been taken before, sealed them openly, and put them in Wells Fargo express openly and each sample was reported from the Oregon State Board of Health, saying that all three of these samples did not contain any colon bacilli. 'All these I would regard as good water for domestic uses.' Now Mike, you must have believed one or the other of these reports. If you believe the above report and ignored all the rest which you published, then you have the perfect right to say, 'I believe the water,' as Mr. Calvin says, 'is good water for domestic uses.' Then you can go, with a smiling countenance and clean hands and say to the dear public, 'This is the class of water which I think the city should purchase and distribute for the health and good of the community,' but if you believe the other reports you published last spring, then you certainly could not, with a clear conscience and a sanctimonious twinkle in your eye, say to the council, 'I think we should buy all of these nasty bugs and colon bacilli which the reports as published show were in the water last spring.' No, Mike, that would never do. You will land in that place which burns with fire and brimstone, just as sure as you do it. Now, which foot will you stand on? It's up to you!"

Nolan and Jackson Here.
Messrs. Nolan and Jackson, on learning of Mr. Richardson's report of the appointment of the committee from the cities of North Bend and Marshfield, arrived last evening for the purpose of taking the matter up with the committee and the city councils. But I have no authority to speak for them. Mr. Nolan, I understand was here over a year ago. I didn't have the pleasure of meeting him,—never heard of him until he came recently after getting the option to purchase, when he appeared before the town board. Upon obtaining the options, he telegraphed Engineer Cummings of Seattle, whom he had never met, but whose reputation justified him in paying Mr. Cummings Twenty-Five Dollars a day and all expenses from the time he left Seattle until he returned to his home, and upon his report, Mr. Nolan and Mr. Jackson came from Denver, Colorado, at their own expense to look into the situation. So far as they are concerned, I do feel that they are entitled to some consideration, in view of their having gone to this expense and that the full time of their option should be given them before any steps are taken in any other direction. They have the right to purchase, whether the city wants the Sixty Thousand Dollar improvements or not, and just what they will do in the premises is a matter entirely within themselves, but it is a certainty that if the city council has concluded that it is not wise to bond the towns and purchase the water system themselves, then it is a fact that Messrs. Nolan and Jackson are ready to purchase the plant and make the sixty thousand dollars worth of improvements, which are claimed to be desirable, upon their being given such a franchise as will justify this expenditure and allow a reasonable profit on that investment. I am satisfied that an arrangement can be made with them by which the city can purchase the plant at any time for what it is actually worth, without considering any other value, any allowance whatsoever for the franchise or the increased value thereof. Such a provision as that is good in law and can be made in fact. We have done enough of 'talking it over.' Now let's think it over and get down to business and come to some conclusion, and including the old-timer and Mike's two hundred thousand dollar man, I would again repeat, 'God bless us all, God bless me, too.'"
