A WOMAN CHEMIST.

THE consideration of Mme. Curie for the place in the French Academy of Science left vacant by the death of the eminent chemist, Louis Joseph Troost, calls attention to the fact that women are achieving notable prominence in the fields formerly considered quite alien to their intellectual qualifications.

Mme. Curie's probable choice for this distinctive honor will be a decided advance and a material triumph for those feminine intellectuals who contend that brains are not a masculine monopoly and that a woman may succeed in the realm of science as well as that of art, where she has long demonstrated a conspicuous ability.

REPORT HUME ESTATE SOLD

Big Curry County Property Again Said to Have Changed Hands For $250,000

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—The Journal prints the following: "The Hume estate of 15,000 acres at the mouth of the Rogue river was sold for $250,000 to the Macleay estate, of which R. L. Macleay of Portland is president.

The deal has been pending, it is said, for the past six months. The unwillingness of the Hume estate owners, most of whom are resident in California, is understood to have been a retarding factor in completing the sale.

Overhung with the romance of gold-hunting days, rich in timber, with a control over the river mouth and its banks on both sides for 15 miles back, and including a five mile coast line where centers the famous black, goldbearing sand, the transfer of the great estate is accounted one of the most important and significant in the history of Oregon.

Hundreds of miners and gold seekers came in the early days from California to try for fortune in the black sands of the coast. Gradually the slow panning processes were supplemented by gold mining plants. Although the center of the gold producing region, modern mining plants have been installed on the Hume estate, but now that it is Macleay property, said Mr. Macleay, the rich possibilities will be developed to the maximum. Recently the government has sent its experts to look into the region and it is said reports were highly favorable provided the method of mining is right.

Without the gold the estate has a value thought by those familiar with the property, much in excess of its quarter-million purchase price. Four thousand acres are heavily timbered; 7,000 acres are open grazing land and the remainder is brush and second growth.

On the property now are 4,500 sheep, with quite a number of horses, cattle and Angora goats.

"We shall stock the place to its capacity immediately," said Mr. Macleay. "This does not necessarily mean that we will transform it into a stock ranch, for we do not want to have so extensive an arrangement interfere with a liberal policy of settlement and development."

SKIPPER COPIES AT "EXAM."

Inspectors Suspend Johnson's License for Thirty Days.

On a charge of misbehavior, in that he is alleged to have copied from a slip of paper while taking examination at the office of Local Inspectors Edwards and Fuller for a license to pilot vessels into Coos Bay, Tillamook, and Columbia river and from Astoria to Portland, Captain John A. Johnson was found guilty by the inspectors and his license as master and pilot suspended for 30 days.—Portland Oregonian.

MARSHFIELD PUBLIC LIBRARY'S GROWTH

Editor Times:—Just at this time when so much is being said and done to boost Coos Bay, it seems to me that no better inducement has been offered than the report of the Librarian in Saturday evening's Times.

The Marshfield Public Library has been in existence just 16 months and by comparison of the reports furnished by Miss Jamieson, the Librarian, the result speaks for itself.

Month of July, 1910.

Circulation,	456
Adults,	134
Estimated attendance,	900
New Registrations,	111
Total registration,	212
New Books,	472
Total number of books,	1112

Month of November, 1911.

Circulation, adults,	696
Circulation, children,	804
Total	1,500
Estimated attendance	1,755
New registrations	92
Total registrations	989
New books	21

Total number volumes 1,894. These figures will show that the money expended by the town board has been of great benefit to both adults and children, and the officials of the town are to be commended for the interest they have taken in the supporting the Library.

According to the last census, giving a population of 3,000, the circulation would mean one book to every two persons in the town, and while as before stated, it is of great benefit to the whole community, it is more especially so to the children of the public schools.

The writer is of the belief that it is the duty of every citizen to help this library work and lend all assistance possible to the ladies of the library board.

BUOY INSTEAD OF SHIP

Port Orford Reef May Get Mark Before Congress Acts.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 6.—Even though Congress makes an appropriation at the next session for a modern lightvessel to be stationed off Cape Blanco, to mark Port Orford Reef, she could not be constructed in time for service next season and Inspector Beck, of the 17th lighthouse district, has taken up with J. S. Conway, chief constructing engineer of the Bureau of Lighthouses, the subject of marking the reef with a mammoth gas buoy.

Besides serving as a day and night mark one type of the buoy is equipped with a submarine bell signal, so in fog those vessels having receiving apparatus aboard can get their bearings the same as from the lightvessels along the Coast. The Bear, Beaver and Rose City, have the apparatus. Vessels of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company also carry it, and other passenger carriers are to be given the same protection.

SOMETHING DOING SOON.

(From Eugene Register.) Yet a few days and the railroad news promises to be better and more interesting than ever. Announcement of letting of contracts cannot be put off more than a few days long if reports are to be relied upon.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

President Taft has issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation, calling on citizens of the United States to celebrate Thursday, November 30 next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. The proclamation says:

"The people of this land having by long sanction and practice set apart toward the close of each passing year a day on which to cease from their labors and assemble for the purpose of giving praise to him who is the author of the blessings they have enjoyed, it is my duty as chief executive to designate at this time the day for the fulfillment of this devout purpose.

"Our country has been signally favored in many ways. The round of the seasons has brought rich harvests. Our industries have thriven far beyond our domestic needs, the products of our labor are daily finding enlarged markets abroad. We have been free from the scourges of pestilence, of famine and of war. Our National councils have furthered the cause of peace in other lands, and the spirit of benevolence has brought us into closer touch with other peoples, to the strengthening of the bonds of fellowship and good will that link us to our comrades in the universal brotherhood of nations.

"Strong in the sense of our own right and inspired by as strong a sense of the rights of others, we live in peace and harmony with the world. Rich in priceless possessions and abundant in resources wherewith the unstinted bounty of God has endowed us, we are unselfishly glad when other peoples pass onward to prosperity and peace. That the great privileges we enjoy may continue and that each coming year may see our country more firmly established in the regard and esteem of our fellow nations is the prayer that should arise in every thankful heart.

"Wherefore, I, William Howard Taft, President of the United States of America, designate Thursday, the 30th of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, and I earnestly call on my countrymen and on all that dwell under the flag of our beloved country then to meet in their accustomed places of worship to join in offering praise to Almighty God and devout thanks for the loving mercies He has given us.

"In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Chicago, this 30th day of October in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-sixth. By the PRESIDENT."

"P. C. KNOX, Secretary of State."

Alleged Confession of Spokane Suspect Not Believed.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7.—No action has been taken by the police here regarding the alleged confession of Henry Barr at Spokane yesterday, in which he is declared to have attempted to implicate Barney Stevens, a really agent of this city, as an accomplice in a series of burglaries in Spokane, Helena, Salt Lake and other cities. Barr is said to have named Stevens as the man who had disposed of the loot he (Barr) had secured, receiving therefor a share of the proceeds. The chief of police said today that no evidence bearing out the statements ascribed to Barr with regard to Stevens had been secured and that there are no likelihood of any arrests in the case being made in this city.

REGARDING BACON.

Bacon, when carefully selected, cured and prepared for the table, is one of the most delicious breakfast dishes that one can eat.

There are many ways to cure bacon, but the best bacon is cured dry with pure sugar and salt. It is in this manner that we cure Columbia Bacon.

The most extreme care is exercised in the selection of the sides and these are cured as above described in dry, tight, sanitary boxes. Dry curing adds to the firmness of the meat and the method employed insures the most delicious, uniform flavor.

Owing to the firm dry cure, Columbia Bacon should be put on a cold skillet and allowed to fry very slowly. A slice or two used in garnishing fish, fowl and even roasts will be found to add richness to their flavor. All of our products are Government Inspected.—Union Meat Co.

He Got the Job

A young man having applied to a wholesale house for a position recently found himself before the manager for examination. "Have you a bank account?" was his first question. "I have," was the reply. "Let me see your bank book," was the next request. After glancing over it and noting the long list of regular, though small deposits, he said: "Young man, you are engaged, and I want to compliment you on your saving ability. I always insist upon employing only men who have the good sense to save their money." We invite every young man in this community to open an account at this bank.

Twenty-Five Years Ago, Bill,

—when I was married, we went to a hardware store and picked out a coal range costing $45, and dirty all the time.

"The other day our daughter was married and her husband had to spend less than half as much for a modern gas range, with no coal or ashes to bother about.

"Times change, Bill, and somehow women seem to stay younger, lots longer than they used to."
