Tuesday was the anniversary of the birth of R. H. Mast of the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Coquille, and this was made the occasion of a very enjoyable surprise party by a host of friends here. Tuesday is also lodge night of the Knights of Pythias of which Mr. Mast is a prominent member and while he was in attendance at lodge about forty-five friends gathered at his home and filled it to overflowing upon his return. His advent was greeted with laughter and good wishes. After the greeting co-incidental with Mr. Mast's arrival games and cards were indulged in until the hour of eleven when the guests were summoned to a bounteous birthday banquet. The center piece of the banquet tables was a beautiful birthday cake decorated with sixty colored candles, supposed to represent the number of years which have passed since Mr. Mast's birth. But Rebub stated emphatically that it was an exaggeration of at least seven years. At the close of the banquet L. H. Hazard, with a few well-chosen words, presented Mr. Mast with elaborate gifts as tokens of the regard of the assembled friends. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Hazard, Sherwood, Hawkins, Linegar, Kistner, Davis, Lawrence, Dunham, Hersey, Watson, Perkins, Freland, Folson, Fox, and Robinson, and Mesdames Flig, Baxter, Hite and Lawborne, Misses Eva Schroeder, Grace Savage, and Edna Gilkey, and Messrs. The A. N. W. tendered a delightful tea party at the Swedish Lutheran church hall Tuesday afternoon. While a nominal charge for refreshments was made, the affair was largely a social one and the attendance was large despite the inclement weather. The club will meet next Thursday with Mrs. F. Hazard. Committees on arrangement and reception were appointed; one, the former, Mrs. McCormac, Mrs. O'Connell, Mrs. Hyde, and Mrs. S. Lando; on the latter, Mrs. Kaiser, Mrs. Noble, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. McCormac, Mrs. S. Lando, Mrs. O'Connell and Mrs. Reed.

The Minnie-Wis Club met for an afternoon chat and art-work Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. A. Jones. There was no business transacted at this meeting as the last was a business session. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her two little daughters, Maxine and Elizabeth.

Mrs. R. M. Jennings, assisted by Mrs. A. H. Powers, Thursday afternoon was hostess at a delightful little informal gathering. It has been erroneously stated that Mrs. Jennings was giving a series of farewell parties but owing to the fact that they will leave so soon for their new home at Eugene any further entertaining by her will be out of the question. Thursday Mrs. Jennings' guests were Mrs. L. J. Simpson, Mrs. C. M. Byler, Mrs. W. T. Merchant, Mrs. Herbert Lockhart, Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, Mrs. Wm. Horsfall, Mrs. J. Albert Matson, Mrs. H. S. A jolly party gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Miller Friday evening for an informal dance. The hostess led the way to the ballroom on the third floor where all had a delightful time dancing and talking. Merrily, a double file of dancers, led by C. R. Peck and Mrs. F. M. Parsons, to the tune of the Wedding march, trooped downstairs where delicious sandwiches, coffee and cakes were served. Here not a moment passed that bright wit and repartee did not fly back and forth, keeping the company in a continuous state of laughter. The young people could not bear to stop dancing so trooped back upstairs and once more started up the hard-working music. There were two graphophones, which made it lively. The dance, which was given in honor of Miss Marie Waller who is visiting Mrs. F. M. Parsons, was thoroughly delightful in every way.

The guests of the evening were: Messrs. and Mesdames E. F. Morrissey, A. T. Haines, A. L. Houseworth, E. Crosswhite, Dorsey Kretzer, C. R. Peck, Chas. Van Duyn, F. M. Parsons, Misses Marie Waller, Blanche Fortman, Eugenia Schilling, Helen Bradley, Charlotte Murch, Messrs. Hugo Quist, Ansgar Lagerstrom, Ray Kaufman, Thayer Grimes, Arthur Peck, and Archie Johnson.

A committee was appointed to secure new books for evening service and it was also decided to hold a twenty-minute song service at the beginning of each Sunday evening meeting.

TO TEACH RURAL HYGIENE.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 18.—A course in rural hygiene is to be inaugurated this winter at the Oregon Agricultural College during the short course. A popular course of lectures will be given on the factors favorable and otherwise to health in rural communities. Prof. T. D. Beckwith, head of the bacteriology department, will give these lectures.

"The farmer ordinarily gives far more attention to the health of his stock than to that of himself and family," said Prof. Beckwith speaking of the proposed lectures. "The point that the health of the people may be reckoned in dollars and cents to the community escapes the average citizen in his mad scramble for more evident wealth. For example, it is computed that the annual loss to the United States through human tuberculosis amounts to $690,000,000 which is approximately three-fourths the value of the entire wheat crop of the country. This immense annual loss, about 75 per cent of which is preventable, is due solely to carelessness and ignorance of the most rudimentary rules of life and health. So vastly greater in importance than the money loss is the pain and suffering most of which can be prevented by a little care and knowledge."

The short course lectures, which will be illustrated with stereopticon views, will cover such subjects as water supply (especially from wells), their location and construction as to health; sanitary methods of sewage disposal, the use and abuse of septic tanks; transmission of disease, such as tuberculosis and typhoid; flies and germs carrying; cause of colds and grippe and other epidemics.

MYRTLE POINT POINTERS.

News of Upper Coquille Valley From The Enterprise.

S. D. Pulford, secretary of the local horticultural society informs the Enterprise that the county commissioners have agreed to assist the horticultural societies of the Coquille valley to the extent of $200 for each society for the purchase of spraying machines. The machines will cost approximately $400 leaving $200 that will have to be raised among the fruit growers themselves. The growers about Coquille have subscribed nearly the amount required, and the fruit men in the vicinity of Bandon are confident they can raise the money. About $75 has thus far been subscribed by growers of the Myrtle Point section.

Arthur C. Hermann and Miss Letha A. Neal surprised their friends last Sunday evening by being quietly married at the home of Rev. Thos. Barklow in this city. IN JAIL BUT WANTS TO WED

JESS DAY, FORMER COOS BAY PRIZE FIGHTER GETS MARRIAGE LICENSE BUT SHERIFF GAGE WON'T LET HIM USE IT.

COQUILLE, Ore., Nov. 18.—The Sentinel says: "Jess Day, a prize ring 'hero' who some time since was bound over by the Justice Court to await the action of the grand jury, for the destruction of property, in a house of ill fame, in Coquille, secured a marriage license last week to marry Lillian Dean. Day is still in jail, owing to his failure to give the necessary bonds. Gage refuses to let them get married while Day is in jail, unless he gets permission from the court. The sheriff has plenty of evidence that Day and the Dean girl have lived together for the past two or three years and does not think it will hurt the morals of either if they have to wait to get married until Day gets out of jail."

SOCIALISTS SCORE REVIVALIST.

Make Bitter Attack on Gipsy Smith at Portland.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 17.—Socialist agitators and street-corner orators are, it is claimed, making an effort to offset the results of the Gipsy Smith campaign in this city, by a series of denunciatory speeches, by systematic work within the tabernacle and by the issuing of thousands of leaflets decrying the whole system of religion as represented by Christianity and by the followers of the great evangelist in particular. At the socialist headquarters it was announced that thousands of leaflets written in the form of a mock prayer, and entitled "The Outcast's Prayer," would be distributed to the crowds as they emerge from the evangelistic services. The leaflet was written, it was announced, by Tom Lewis.

TROUBLE IN THE GRANGE.

Serious Charges Preferred Against Head of Order in Washington.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17.—Insurgents succeeded today in getting the charges made against Master C. B. Kegley of the Washington Grange, by S. J. Hill, son-in-law of James J. Hill, last August read into the minutes of the National Grange. The charges are that Kegley is not a resident of Washington and that he secured his election by unjustifiable methods. Kegley and his friends want the charges aired at once, believing that so-called machine methods alleged to have been used in fixing the jurisdiction of the Idaho Grange, will be exposed. Kegley lives in Idaho. The matter involves the action taken by National Master N. J. Batchelder of New Hampshire in fixing the jurisdiction.
