Issue Invitations.—The invitations for the Elks ball at the Eagles hall, Wednesday evening, November 29, were issued today.

Takes Census.—Tom Hall has started taking the annual school census of Marshfield and will probably finish it in another week.

Hold Social.—The Marshfield Epworth League will hold a social session at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Rutledge this evening.

Meet Tonight.—Today the stockholders of the company organized to drill for oil on Catching Inlet, will meet at the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce to perfect their organization.

Has Operation.—Mrs. F. M. Mahoffler underwent an operation yesterday for appendicitis at Mercy hospital. It was a very acute case but she was reported getting along today as well as could be expected, and her early recovery is hoped for.

Investigate Cutoff.—The Marshfield Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from Congressman Hawley in which he says he has taken up with the Engineers of the War Department the question of getting an emergency appropriation to close the Coos River cutoff. The engineers have promised him to investigate it at once and determine what shall be done to protect the channel.

To Speak Here.—Miss Kenworthy, who recently returned from India where she was engaged in missionary work is expected here today on her tour for the advancement of foreign missionary work. She is to address a meeting of the Marshfield Methodist Foreign Missionary society at the home of Mrs. Perkins in West Marshfield this afternoon and Sunday morning will speak at the Methodist church.

Meet Friday.—The Marshfield Chamber of Commerce will meet Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock to discuss the sending of a representative to Washington, D. C., to represent Coos Bay at the Rivers and Harbors Congress and appear before the Rivers and Harbors committee of the National Congress to urge an appropriation for Coos Bay harbor improvement. All members of the executive committee and other members are requested to be present.

Season Ends Too Soon.—Parties from Ten Mile are bemoaning the fact that the fishing season didn't last longer or the run of salmon there did not start earlier. The season closed November 20, the day after the run of silversides reached its height. Wm. Ingersoll alone had 4,000 salmon piled up out of his

"TAR PARTY" CASE IS SLOW

Rebuttal Testimony Offered in Noted Kansas Trial—Accused Deny Guilt.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times)

LINCOLN CENTER, Kan., Nov. 22.—The defense in the "Tar Party case" closed its direct testimony today and the state began to present evidence in rebuttal. The defendants A. N. Simms, John Schmidt, and Sherrill Clark were on the stand today and told the same story. They admitted knowing of plans to tar Miss Chamberlain and where the crime was to be committed, but denied any participation in the assault or ever intending to take a hand in it.

Miss Chamberlain yesterday told the details of the attack.

RAILWAY NEWS OF COOS BAY

Vice-President Sumner Expected Here Soon From Gardiner—Other Gossip

Vice-president Sumner of the North Coast Line is expected here from Gardiner where he is with his son checking up some of the survey work done north from Coos Bay.

So far, no additional information could be obtained as to the possibility of a connection between his project and that of the Northwestern Railway, announced in The Times yesterday. In fact, one Coos Bay man who has a relative who is an official of the Northwestern many months ago was given assurance by his relative that the Northwestern was headed for Coos Bay.

It was also learned from a reliable source today that the Northwestern Railway had three representatives on Coos Bay a few years ago making a careful investigation of this section.

Alva Doll who returned from Gardiner today saw Vice-president Sumner there. He said that Mr. Sumner was not very communicative but intimated that they still hoped to get construction started this fall. He did not say anything about the Eugene report of the starting of work by them on the tunnel near Eugene.

Mr. Doll was also informed by Warren Reed that the State engineer had informed him that he held the water rights to Clear Lake, claiming the Coos Bay men had not done the development work necessary to retain their rights within the time specified.

General Manager Cattell of the Coos Bay and Eastern started for Myrtle Point this afternoon in company with Chief Engineer Aston to inspect the route of that company. Mr. Cattell will later make a statement of his plans.

PUGET SOUND FLOODS OVER

Conditions Are Rapidly Reaching Normal But Seattle Lacks Pure Water Supply

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—Conditions in the flood swept country around Seattle are rapidly approaching the normal. The Great Northern and Northern Pacific have opened their lines across the mountains and trains are running regularly. The Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound road is still detouring its trains but expects to be able to use its own line tomorrow. The Great Northern Coast line to Bellingham, Wash., and Vancouver, B. C., was opened today for the first time since Friday.

"Boil the water." This warning was issued to the people of Seattle together with the announcement that contaminated water in lake Washington is being pumped into the city mains to relieve the water famine caused by the breaking of the supply pipe lines across Cedar river Sunday. Engineers expect to be able to supply the entire city with water under light pressure before night.
