The Day of Fashion and Feasting

If you're going to dress well on Turkey Day you've got to wear Benjamin Clothes. Not because we say so, but for the reason that authoritative New York style, known to all well-dressed men and young men as the only true style, can be had only in Benjamin Clothes made in New York.

Benjamin suits and overcoats are made only from fabrics of the utmost quality. The tailoring is of the unerring sort that can be accomplished only by the most skilled hand workers. Every Benjamin garment is distinctive, both as regards to quality and style, and there's not a deceptive stitch or undesirable feature to be found in any garment.

Granting that it costs you no more to wear clothes having the grace and durability that mark our Benjamin Clothes—direct from New York—why do you consider any other?

If you can afford to pay $20 for a business suit or overcoat, you will practice false economy to pay less.

LOCAL OVERFLOW.

Start Tunnel Near Here.—C. H. Pinkerton of North Inlet was in Marshfield today on business. He stated that parties from near Ten Mile had informed him that the Southern Pacific or the Summer people were planning to start work on one of the tunnels between Coos Bay and the Umpqua this fall and prosecute it throughout the winter. He said that his informant claimed that difficulties in securing the right-of-way near the tunnel site had delayed matters.

Lenses Brickyard.—Taylor Siglin has leased his brickyard on Isthmus Inlet to Mr. Reynolds of Portland for five years and he is arranging to start it soon. He expects to use electrical power in the work, the Oregon Power company which is stringing a line to Beaver Hill, promising to put in a branch to the brick yard.

Build House.—Mrs. Rebecca Luse-Stump is arranging to erect a cottage on her property in Clement's plat, North Marshfield. It is to be started at once.

Cost of Road.—County surveyor Gould yesterday informed the North Bend Commercial club that the new road from Allegany to Terminal Point, connecting up the inlets on the east side of the bay north of Coos river, will cost about $38,700. The road will be nearly fourteen miles long. The county commissioners have approved of the report of the viewers on the road and now the North Bend Commercial club is arranging to see that funds for its construction are raised so that it can be built next year.

CONFESSES BEFORE DEATH

was given some degree of credence, but within a day or two, suspicion began to point to him and he was kept under the closest surveillance. Bloodhounds, taken to the scene of the crime, refused to leave the place, circling around the bloodspot on the road.

Beattie, it eventually transpired had thrown the shotgun into the tonneau of his automobile after the shooting but in passing over some railroad tracks not far from the scene it had been jolted out and was picked up later by a negro. This gun, which Beattie alleged had belonged to the mysterious highwayman, proved the means of sending the young man to the electric chair. At the coroner's inquest the weapon was identified by Paul Beattie, a second cousin of young Henry, as the weapon he had purchased for Henry with money furnished by the latter. Beattie was arrested immediately after the inquest. This was on July 21, and on August 19, one month and a day after the day of the murder, the trial was begun before Judge Walter A. Watson. In the picturesque little Chesterfield county courthouse, sixteen miles from here.

The jury was made up almost entirely of farmers, and on this fact Beattie based his claim that he had been convicted, not for the murder of his wife, but because of his relations with Beulah Binford, a notorious young woman. He insisted to the last that a jury composed of city men would have freed him. Beattie was defended by H. M. Smith, Jr., and Hill Carter. The prosecution was conducted by L. O. Wendenberg and L. M. Gregory. The trial moved swiftly, though many witnesses testified, and on September 8, after 58 minutes of consideration and prayer the jury, in chorus instead of through its foreman, declared Beattie to be guilty of the murder of his wife. Motion for a new trial was denied and November 24 set as the day for the execution.

On November 13 the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals refused to grant an appeal on a writ of error, and two days later, Governor Mann, who had been appealed to for commutation or reprieve, issued a statement declaring that the interests of the people of Virginia demanded that Beattie should die in the electric chair.

REAL ISSUE IS IMPORTANT

A Taxpayer Says It is a Matter of Measures and Not Men.

Editor Times:— Being a taxpayer to some extent in your city, I will take the liberty to give my opinion on the present condition of affairs effecting our city's welfare. Can it be possible that we as taxpayers should give any consideration to the particular man or set of men at the coming election as distinct from any other set of men, regardless of the principle represented? No doubt all the parties named for mayor are good citizens, but they represent widely differing ideas of government. The socialist candidate represents many splendid ideas and if they could be put into effect would no doubt prove of great benefit to the people, but there are too many and radical ideas advanced by this party to be of practical use at this time and beyond doubt the real issue lies between the other two candidates. Of these one represents that faction which favors the granting of further franchises to the present water company, and is opposed to municipal ownership of city water, while on the other hand, Mr. Cople stands firmly for municipal ownership and for compelling the present water company to furnish water under its present franchise in proper quantity and quality. From this standpoint it is perfectly plain to the water, that a vote for Dr. Straw means a vote saddling a private franchise on the people and in favor of the present water company, and to enable J. W. Bennett to be able to sell the rights of the people of this city to outsiders for the handsome sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. On the other hand a vote for Mr. Cople is a vote favoring the people's keeping this valuable franchise for themselves. It seems to the writer that the question is, shall we elect a mayor and council who will grant the rights of the people to Mr. Bennett for his personal benefit, or shall we elect such person who favors the reverse, that is, that all these valuable franchises shall be retained by the people for their own benefit? If this franchise is such a valuable thing for Bennett, then it is just as valuable for the people. Mr. Cople stands for the people's interest. Dr. Straw stands for the benefit of J. W. Bennett, Mr. Nolan and other outside parties. But the people of this city are wide awake and will not be fooled; they will protect their interest; they will vote for Mr. Cople and such persons for councilmen as stand for municipal ownership of city water works.

COUGHING AT NIGHT.

Means loss of sleep, which is hard on everyone. Mrs. A. Peizer, 25 W. Jefferson St., Omaha, Neb., says: "I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as a sure cure for coughs and colds. It cured my daughter of a bad cold, and my neighbor, Mrs. Benson, cured her whole family with Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Everyone in our neighborhood speaks most highly of it." For dryness and tickling in the throat, hoarseness, and all coughs and colds, take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Keep always in the house. Contains no opiates. The genuine in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes.—Red Cross Drug Store.

THESE LITTLE PIGS CAME TO MARKET but they won't stay here long after good judges and lovers of pork get a sight of them. Their meat is as white and tender as young chicken and sweet as the beech and hickory nuts on which they were fed. Try a loin, a ham, a shoulder or some chops. If you like ordinary pork you'll simply adore this.
