LOCAL NOTES

THE WEATHER

(By Associated Press.)

OREGON, Nov. 28.—Fair tonight, and Wednesday fair in east, increasing cloudiness followed by rain or snow in west portion.

Redondo to Sail—The steamer Redondo will sail at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for San Francisco.

Leaves Hour Earlier—The Coos Bay wagon road stage for Roseburg will hereafter leave at 6 o'clock instead of at 7 o'clock.

Leave on Stage—Rev. Bonebrake, J. L. Crane and Mrs. Clara Smith were the outgoing passengers on the Roseburg stage last evening.

Hears Case—The case of Meyers vs. Jay Wilcox is being heard by Judge Coke in chambers today. It is an appeal from justice court in North Bend. It involves a book account.

Undergoes Operation—Mrs. Peter Breiler of Coos River today underwent an operation at Mercy hospital. She is reported doing nicely. Her husband died a few months ago after a prolonged illness.

On Drydock—The Nann Smith is on drydock for an overhauling. She will leave San Francisco Friday for Coos Bay. C. A. Smith wired Arno Meehan today that he will be here on her.

Bad Carbuncle—M. H. Mulloy is suffering from one of the most severe carbuncles that anyone has ever been afflicted with. In a week or ten days, he has lost fifteen pounds in weight from suffering. He is now on the road to recovery.

Elks' Ball—The Elks' ball will be held at the Eagles' hall tomorrow night and everything is in readiness. All the invited guests are required to present their invitations at the door. There will be no meeting of the lodge tomorrow night.

Grocers Close All Day—All the grocery stores in Marshfield will close all day Thursday to give the bosses and the boys plenty of time to eat and enjoy their turkeys. If you want yours and all the trimmings you will have to get in your orders tomorrow.

Will Speak—Rev. J. T. M. Knox has been secured to deliver the memorial address at the annual memorial exercises of Marshfield Lodge of Elks at the Masonic hall next Sunday. The "Lodge of Sorrow" will be open to visitors. The exercises will be held in the afternoon.

Buy's Ranch—It is announced that Vince Pratt has bought sixty-eight acres of the Rezin ranch on North Inlet. Part of the tract is now planned to plant cranberries and Mr. Pratt expects to plant more of it to the fruit which appears to do particularly well in that section.

Get Inquiries—Miss Violet Henderson, secretary of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce, is in receipt of many inquiries concerning this locality by parties in all sections of the United States whose attention to Coos Bay was attracted through the article on the C. A. Smith company in the recent issue of the American Lumberman.

Summer Leaves—Engineer Sumner of the North Coast Line left this morning for his camp at Winchester Bay. Mr. Carty, a draughtsman, who was here with him making some maps of the country around Reedsport, left yesterday for there. Mr. Sumner before leaving stated that there was nothing to give out.

Potato Crop Fair—Mrs. S. A. Yonkam of Coos River, who was in Marshfield today, reports that the stories about the Coos county potato crop being unusually small this year, are not correct. She thinks the crop was a fairly good one, both in quality and quantity. She is figuring on moving back to her old ranch on Coos River.

Turkeys Plentiful—There is a plentiful supply of turkeys on the local market for Thanksgiving. The prevailing price is about twenty-five cents per pound dressed, the same as a year ago. Quite a few ducks, both wild and tame, and geese were being brought in today.

Like Coos Bay—A few weeks ago, the Italian bootblacks in Marshfield went to San Francisco expecting to get rich quick. Today, Harry Bradford had a letter from Antonio, who formerly worked for him, saying "Lots of sunshine in California but if you want money, stay on Coos Bay." He expects them all to return here soon.

Schools to Close—The public schools will close tomorrow afternoon for a two days' vacation for Thanksgiving. Programs will be held in nearly all of the rooms.

Noted Ship Wreck Scene—Powerful tale of Deep Sea Perils pictured during the famous Santa Rosa wreck at Surf, California, showing the Santa Rosa lying upon the beach a complete loss.—Royal Theatre tonight.

Was Other Man—Capt. Holland stated today that two sudden deaths near Elkton had been confused by parties who informed The Times that the J. Harvin, who dropped dead, was Mrs. Holland's uncle. He states that I. L. Harding of Cottage Grove was stricken on the stage near Elkton last week was Mrs. Holland's uncle. The body was taken to Cottage Grove for burial, the funeral taking place yesterday. Mr. Harding was a highly respected pioneer of Cottage Grove.

For Electric Logging—T. P. Jones, who has charge of the logging operations for the Potlatch Lumber company at Boville, Idaho, is on the Bay to look into the experiments recently conducted by the Smith-Powers company with electric donkeys instead of steam. His company is figuring on utilizing electricity instead of steam. S. E. Hodge and L. S. Haskins of Spokane, representatives of the Westinghouse Electric company, are also here to show him what was accomplished in the local tests. Mr. Hodge installed the electric donkey here. He intended to come via Drain Saturday morning but finally went on to Roseburg and thereby escaped the holdup. Roy Bleaker wired him to be sure to come by Drain owing to the road being so bad the other way and he has a slight suspicion that perhaps Roy framed up the whole affair for his benefit.

NOW IN GERMANY.

Biltmore Forestry School Students Write of Their Experiences
The Biltmore Forest School students, who spent several weeks on Coos Bay the latter part of the summer are now in Germany. In the semi-monthly pamphlet which the school issues is the following:
"We are sorry that in this paper we cannot dwell longer on the instructive things we have seen in the West. We consider this Western trip, made at an expense of less than 200 dollars per capita, the most instructive tour ever made by the Biltmore Forest School, which means a lot.

"On October 3rd, we sailed for Germany on the 'New Amsterdam,' embarking from Hoboken. We were joined by twenty fine freshmen who are entering into the spirit of the school with all their energy. On the boat there were daily lectures by Dr. Schenck on "the foundations of syl- viculture."

"For the past two weeks we have been in the Odenwald at Lindenfels, inspecting German nurseries and German forests. Our practical experience in forest planting goes hand in hand with our lecture work. The contrast between practical forestry in Western America, and practical forestry in Eastern Europe is wonderfully telling. There cannot be any such thing as one single type of forestry. Each country, at each stage of its development, must needs develop and possess a distinct type of forestry, in keeping with the economic conditions of the times and of the places.

"The last day of October finds us installed at Darmstadt, Germany, our headquarters for the winter."
LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE
Will meet this evening. Nomination of officers and other very important business to be considered. A full attendance is desired.

He says the old home town doesn't look like it formerly did and after being there a couple of days, he began to long for Coos Bay.

SURVEY DONE TO MAPLETON

Southern Pacific to Finish Work here in Two Weeks.

The Eugene Register says: "C. E. Breck and party of surveyors who started to survey the line from Eugene to Coos Bay for the Willamette Pacific (S. P. Co.) some several months ago, has completed every detail of the work except the cross section, as far as Mapleton, and he and his crew have come out and gone to San Francisco. There are two other surveying parties at work on the line between Mapleton and Marshfield. These will finish up the work they have inside of two weeks and the entire line will then have been surveyed. It will be up to the right-of-way agents then to get busy and secure all the right-of-way from the tunnel site to Coos Bay, where work can be started from the other end."

DON'T make any arrangements that will interfere with your attending the THANKSGIVING BALE given under the management of the MARSHFIELD BAND at Eagles' hall THURSDAY EVENING.

OPERA COMPANY COMING.

Teal Musical Comedy Company to Open Here December Ninth.

Vince Pratt has arranged for the Raymond Teal Comedy company to open a week's engagement at the Masonic Opera House here December ninth under Pratt's direction. Today he received the following telegram from Mr. Teal concerning the company:

"I have a musical comedy stock company equipped to present fifteen different shows. Have special scenery and columns for each production. Have twenty-three people. Can open for you December ninth for eight days and then play the smaller towns for five days. Then play three-day return engagement in Marshfield, including Christmas, and return to Eureka or Frisco."

Mr. Pratt has wired them to come and from all that he has been able to ascertain feels confident the production will be the best ever presented here.

MAJOR TOWER'S VIEW.

Says There is Likelihood of Change in Customs Office.

There is little likelihood that the Port of Coos Bay will be changed so as to become a subordinate to the Portland Customs office, according to Major Tower, collector of customs for District of Coos Bay and in charge of Port of Coos Bay, with headquarters at Empire, Oregon.

The District of Coos Bay includes Port of Coos Bay as Port of Entry, with Port Orford, Gardiner, and Ellensburg as ports of delivery, subordinate to the Port of Coos Bay. The recent visit to this port of Special Agent Watkins has, according to Major Tower, no bearing whatsoever upon the alleged intention of changing the port. Mr. Watkins has merely made the annual visit as the Government Inspector of Customs, as the law requires, with no other duties to perform. In direct reference to change of the port, Major Tower said:

"This Customs District and the location of Port of Coos Bay was created by direct act of Congress, and it cannot be changed except through act of Congress. The law states specifically even that the 'Collector of Customs for Port of Coos Bay shall reside at Empire,' and not even the removal of my office from Empire to Marshfield, which in many ways at the present time would be a desirable thing, cannot be undertaken except through act of Congress. This agitation for a change of Port of Coos Bay is all a fabrication with nothing whatsoever to warrant it from a governmental viewpoint."

NORTH BEND NEWS

The steam schooner Brooklyn is loading at North Bend with shingles and lumber for San Francisco.

The North Bend Knights of Pythias lodge held an enjoyable initiation and social session last night. Supt. A. G. Raab and Emil Cardinal were the candidates. At the banquet, a number responded to toasts. There was a big attendance.
