

COOS BAYITES IN SOUTHLAND

Mrs. T. E. Dow Writes Interestingly of Coos Bay Colony in San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 22, 1911. Editor Times:—

On Oct. 10th, the women of California were graduated from the class of incompetents, namely aliens, convicts, lunatics, and idiots, and took their rightful place as American citizens.

None rejoiced more over the victory than the little colony of Coos Bay women and on Nov. 17, none were more eager to join the procession and march to the various polling places, there to celebrate by casting their first ballot.

It was interesting to note the independence of those new voters. Bright and shining automobiles were everywhere in evidence, with smiling drivers, all anxious to give the ladies the glad hand and a ride to the voting place. I was at the home of Mrs. Fisher, one of your townspeople, when a fine auto was sent to take them to vote about three blocks away. Miss Anna politely declined, preferring to use her new freedom by walking and voting according to her own intelligence. As she neither smoked nor drank there was nothing more to offer and the tempter drove away in quest of others, but I am told that all of the women who could walk or rode on the electric cars.

Our Coos Bay colony now numbers 14 women and some men and children: Mr. and Mrs. Dibble and family; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall and family; Mr. and Mrs. Sunderland; Mr. and Mrs. McCray; Mrs. Flom; Mrs. Preuss, Mrs. Gribbs, Mr. and Mrs. Gribbs and Mrs. Brown, nee Nina Lyon.

The latest to arrive are Mrs. White and little daughter, who have come to occupy a pretty home purchased by her son Fay in the Mission Hills suburbs.

These all agree with Mr. and Mrs. Dow that Marshfield and San Diego are good and very good—the first in the summer time and the latter for the winter, and we are hoping and waiting for one or more of those railroads to materialize on Coos Bay to make it possible for us to enjoy both the rains and the sunshine.

Respectfully,
MRS. T. E. DOW

P. S.—We are watching and praying for the conversion of that tabernacle into a play-house for the young people of your progressive city.

The children of today are the citizens of tomorrow. Children whose energies are well directed in honest, kindly play will make honest, intelligent men and women. When the Marshfield pocket book has had a change of heart, the conversion of the building will be assured.
—Mrs. T. E. D.

ISTHMIAN COMMISSION PURCHASES OREGON FIR

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—W. P. Ramsey, representing the Chas. Nelson company here, has sold 4,000,000 feet of Oregon fir to the Isthmian Canal commission, to be delivered at Balboa, beginning January 15th. This brings the total of Oregon fir sold to the canal commission up to 18,000,000 million feet.

During the construction of the fortifications, probably 8,000,000 feet additional will be needed there. The demand for forage from Oregon in Panama is increasing.

CITY POLITICS GETTING WARM

among employees of the C. A. Smith company and others, Mr. Powers is arranging, according to the report, to have some of his most efficient employees campaign for Mayor Straw.

Socialists Stirred Up.

A report in circulation yesterday that two members of the Socialist party were trying to divert votes from E. Don McCrary for mayor to Mayor Straw created somewhat of a furor among the local socialists. A. J. Stephan, secretary of the socialists' local organization and candidate for city recorder, stated today that he did not believe it was true. Furthermore, he declared that if any member of the socialist party was caught campaigning for either of the opposing candidates or trying to trade votes, he would be ousted from the socialists' party immediately. Organizer T. J. Lewis of the socialists, who is here from Portland, stated that no socialist is permitted under any circumstances to vote for an opposing candidate. Violation of this rule would result in the offender being ousted from membership and prevented from ever joining again.

Secretary Stephan stated that the socialists are gaining rapidly. He said that Saturday night, ten new members joined, twelve or more joined Sunday and quite a few have joined since.

Plan Big Meeting.

It was stated by one of the people workers were planning for a mass meeting either next Saturday night or the Monday night preceding the election.

It was stated that by one of them that the campaign in Mr. Cople's behalf had already been made—that the sole issue in the campaign was the water question and that every voter in Marshfield was familiar with it and had already made up his mind how to vote. The only matter to be looked after now, they stated, was to see that all the legal voters got out next Tuesday.

GET NEW JUROR

Strokes Shooting Case to Proceed in New York (By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)

New York, Nov. 28.—The attorneys in the Strokes shooting case today started to select the jury to replace the indiscreet member who was dismissed from the jury yesterday because the court heard he said outside the jury room the defendants would be convicted. By stipulation of both sides they will retain the rest of the jury and the new member be allowed to read the testimony already given.

LUMBER NEWS AND SHIPPING

GOSSIP CONCERNING MILLS AND SHIPYARDS ALONG THE PACIFIC COAST FROM MANY POINTS

The harbor master's report from Puget Sound shows that export and domestic out-sound lumber shipments greatly improved in October. With 14,002,822 feet exported and 12,330,000 feet sent coastwise, the total was only four million feet less than the port record. The best showing in Sound movements by water was in August, 1910, when 30,928,090 feet was floated. Mills are closing in numbers, because of the market depression but they are mostly inland mills on the railroad. Probably 30 per cent of the shingle mills of Western Washington are idle. Manager F. A. Trull of the Washington Red Cedar Shingle association says he believes the shingle mill suspension will be more general this winter than ever before, though some other authorities do not think it will be more nearly complete than last year.

Dollar Company Gets Big Contract.
The Robert Dollar Steamship company submitted the lowest bid for furnishing the United States Quartermaster with 2,795,000 feet of lumber, for use in Manila. Its bid was $10.40 per 1000 delivered to Puget Sound or Portland, totalling $29,077.98 for the entire order. Other bidders were the Tacoma Mill company, at $10.98; the Charles Nelson company, $10.50; the Pacific Fir Sales Company, $10.62, and the Port Blakeley Mill company, $15,977.83 for half the order or $34,751.51 for the entire order.

Pacific Company Sells Timber.
A timber deal has been consummated recently whereby McKay & Company operating the lumber and Shingle mills in Eureka, have purchased from the Pacific Lumber Company of Scotia a tract of 2,400 acres of timber land on Ryan's Slough, adjoining the McKay property in that vicinity. The new owners will therefore be able to log the tract at a very low cost, as they have all of the necessary equipment on the ground. The McKay mill has been operating very steadily since the installation of the new band mill early this spring.

Bendixon Shipyard Sold.
As a result of the foreclosure suit brought by the Bank of Eureka against the H. D. Bendixon Shipbuilding company to recover on mortgages made by the Bendixon Company to the bank several years ago, a deed has been filed this week with the county recorder, conveying to the bank of Eureka, for a consideration of $61,000, the entire plant of the shipbuilding company at Fairhaven and the property on which it is located. Since H. D. Bendixon ceased to operate the yards in 1907 they have been leased at various times to Chas. R. McCormick & Co. and later to the Hammond Lumber company. Just at present the yards are idle, as is also the mill belonging to the concern, but the prospects are good for next year's work.

Dodge Lumber Co. Reorganized.
The directors of the E. J. Dodge Lumber company, at a special meeting held in San Francisco a short time ago, reorganized the personnel of the officials of that concern, this being made necessary by the death of the president, E. J. Dodge. Mr. Dodge was made president of the company, although the actual management of the entire concern, which operates a line of boats in connection with their Humboldt mill and retail yards, was vested in Charles W. Seffens, vice-president and general manager, for years manager of the plant at Newberg operated under the name of the Eel River Valley Lumber company.

TIDELAND FISHING LEGAL.

Trespass Law Does Not Apply Against Fishermen in Row Boats.
TILLAMOOK, Ore., Nov. 28.—A person who rows a boat over tideland when it is overflowed is not a trespasser in the opinion of Circuit Judge Kelly. The decision was reached in the cases of several fishermen who were accused of having trespassed upon lands leased by the Oregon Fisheries company. The company had leased tidelands abutting on the Wilson and Kilchis rivers and by virtue of its lease attempted to prohibit all fishermen who did not deliver fish to its cannery from fishing in the streams. Dan Nicholas, H. B. Karr and others fished in the prohibited district and an injunction was asked to prevent their continuing the practice.

The proof showed that the defendants had fished from rowboats during high tide and that they had not entered upon the lands. Judge Kelly held that this did not constitute trespass and dismissed the charge.

TRIAL WAITS FOR FUNERAL

McNamara Hearing Delayed While Juror Sexton's Brother Is Being Buried.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 28.—The McNamara murder trial stopped for a while today while Charles Sexton, brother of Juror J. B. Sexton, was buried. It has been suggested that as a result of the death of his brother, Sexton would be excused further jury service, but this was vetoed by the counsel for the defense. It is probable the case will proceed this afternoon. In the meantime, Judge Bordwell conducted the wedding out process of the eleventh venire.

GUARD SEATTLE HEALTH.

Over 500 Miles of Water Mains to Be Flushed Out.

(From Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 28.—In order to insure the citizens against possible infection from impure water, the city health department will flush out all the 500 miles of city mains. In addition to flushing they will be disinfected with a solution of chloride of lime.

New Jersey Italian Slays Five and Himself.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Ignappia Ploppa, an Italian storekeeper, killed his wife, his mother, his sister and his two children and then shot himself to death in rooms back of his store at Lodi, N. J., today. Ploppa had quarrelled with his family and had been away for a week.

NAME KEPT SECRET.

Additional Cardinal Created by Pope Pius Today.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
ROME, Italy, Nov. 27.—Beside the new cardinals who received the red hat today, Pope Pius created another whom he reserved "in pectore" (kept secret) and whose name will be published in a letter consistory when the Pope wishes that to be done. In ordinary cases the name of the prelate thus chosen only becomes known after the death of the Pope.

COST OF PERFUMERY.

United States Spends Large Amount in Year For It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—Twenty million dollars worth of perfumeries, cosmetics and other articles of this character were imported into, and exported from the United States in the last dozen years, and more than 2 1/2 million dollars worth of it in the single year, 1911. This illustrates the great variety of articles now forming the international commerce of the United States and is an explanation of the constant demands made upon the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor for greater detail in its statements regarding this growing commerce.

A dozen years ago, in the fiscal year 1900, the total value of articles imported under the general title of "perfumeries, cosmetics, and all toilet articles" amounted to only a half-million dollars, and the exports, one-third of a million. In 1906, the imports passed the million dollar line and the exports passed the half-million dollar line. In 1911 the imports exceeded 1 1/2 million dollars and the exports for the first time exceeded one million dollars in value. Taking the 12 fiscal years beginning with 1900 and ending with 1911, the total value of articles imported under this general title amounted to $12,060,447, and those exported, to $6,733,625. While the mere item of 2 1/2 million dollars worth of this class of merchandise imported and exported in a single year forms but a very small part of the 3 1/2 billion dollars value of foreign commerce in that year, the rapid growth indicates the increasing disposition of the citizen of the United States to draw upon all parts of the world for comforts and conveniences and of the citizen of foreign countries to look to the United States for articles of higher grade of manufacture and luxuries.

France supplies by far the largest part of our imports of the class under discussion. Of the 1 1/2 million dollars worth of articles classed as "perfumeries, cosmetics and toilet preparations" imported in the fiscal year 1911, 1 1-3 million dollars' worth came from France; Germany and England ranking next as sources of supply, but far below France, the total from Germany being $58,450, and from England, $82,199. The total number of countries, however, from which merchandise of this character is imported is over 30 and includes, aside from nearly all the European countries, Japan, China, Turkey in Asia, Cuba, certain other of the West Indies, and several of the countries of South America.

Never before in the history of the Danish theatre has business been so bad as during the last main season. Lately the old Casino theatre was obliged to close and the new manager was compelled to resign. The staff is trying to continue the season by playing on a co-operative basis. The other theatres with the exception of the Royal Opera and the Norrebro theatre, which is managed by the popular parody actor, Frederik Jensen, would also be playing to empty seats did they not give out large numbers of complimentary tickets every night.

The managers ascribe the lack of attendance to the new tax on theatre tickets, but the real reason probably lies deeper. A large number of former theatre patrons cannot afford to attend on account of the prevailing hard times and the increased cost of living. Another reason is the class of dramas lately supplied to Danish audiences. The people are growing

GAMBLING ERA HITS DENMARK

SCANDALS ARISING FROM LOTTERIES AND RACE TRACK GAMING SHAKE COPENHAGEN.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Nov. 24.—Scandals arising from racetrack and lottery gambling have been growing to such an extent in Denmark for the past few years that the movement for the abolition of the practices is becoming strong. Although the number of lotteries has steadily increased the demand for tickets continues to grow and on both the running and trotting tracks enormous sums are wagered.

It is believed that the growth in speculation and similar crimes is directly due to this fever for gambling. Several cashiers of labor unions have lately been arrested for embezzling funds entrusted to their care and the causes of their pecuniations have been traced to the betting mania.

The movement for the control of lotteries and betting is growing, but there is no immediate prospect of its success. The government gains a considerable income from both lotteries and racetrack betting, and as there has been a deficiency in the state budget for the last few years, any attempt to sweep away this source of revenue will meet with strong opposition.

Never before in the history of the Danish theatre has business been so bad as during the last main season. Lately the old Casino theatre was obliged to close and the new manager was compelled to resign. The staff is trying to continue the season by playing on a co-operative basis. The other theatres with the exception of the Royal Opera and the Norrebro theatre, which is managed by the popular parody actor, Frederik Jensen, would also be playing to empty seats did they not give out large numbers of complimentary tickets every night.

The managers ascribe the lack of attendance to the new tax on theatre tickets, but the real reason probably lies deeper. A large number of former theatre patrons cannot afford to attend on account of the prevailing hard times and the increased cost of living. Another reason is the class of dramas lately supplied to Danish audiences. The people are growing wary of plays which contain interminable discussions about socialism, strikes and woman suffrage. The theatre patrons get enough of these discussions in their newspapers and at meetings.

The most successful plays of the season have their settings sixty or seventy years back, when the nervous tension was not so great as it is today. The final reason is one which has caused world-wide losses to the theatre and that is the growing popularity of the moving picture shows.

G. A. O'Reilly, who is an official of the government of the Philippine Islands, has just finished a six weeks' tour of Denmark which he made for the purpose of studying agricultural and industrial conditions. He was especially impressed with the agricultural progress of Denmark and expressed his surprise that in this country there is no question that farming pays. The investigator expressed the belief that this result had been brought about by the co-operative systems among farmers, the sympathy between these co-operative unions and the department of agriculture, and the scientific handling of agricultural problems by the department.

Another feature of agriculture which impressed Mr. O'Reilly was the regulation and control of the milk, butter and egg supply of the country. He considers that this system is responsible in a large measure for the health of the Danish people and for the high reputation of these products in the foreign markets.

The poverty of Danish orchards and the lack of handicrafts in the country were the only points which seem to have impressed the investigator unfavorably.

Mr. O'Reilly will visit other countries in Europe and on his return to the Philippines he will endeavor to make practical use of some of his observations for the improvement of agricultural and industrial methods there.

The vocal journalist is the latest novelty in Copenhagen and he is becoming a popular feature at festivals, exhibitions, and other entertainments. He is also seen and heard at fashionable cafes and restaurants where he delivers the news with comments during the band pauses.

The owner of one of the largest hotels here has developed the idea further, and in the palm court of the hotel after each theatrical first night, the vocal journalist will criticize the performance.
