SCHOOL NOTES

A boy like my Herbert should ne'er Shed tears like a baby, and cry Because a new plaything or knife, Mama may be forced to deny.

His Latin he always must say, And puer is Latin for boy, And donum is Latin for gift, And gaudium's Latin for joy.

When Herbert can say all his nouns, And likewise the four conjugations, How much it will please his papa His aunty and all his relations!

HIGH SCHOOL.

Work was begun this week on the fitting up of the tabernacle for a temporary gymnasium. It will take about $500 to make the necessary improvements, the extent of carrying out these improvements depends upon the success of the soliciting committee. The North Bend schools are having the tabernacle there also remodeled in the same way they had secured over $400 same time ago for the improvement. The Senior class in chemistry as part of their laboratory work this week have been making hydro-sulphuric and sulphurous acids. The Senior class have begun a review of American history.

The basket ball teams have been unable to do much practicing this week on account of the work being done on the tabernacle, and also on account of some of the members rehearsing for the Senior play. The team will play a practice game with North Bend tonight. The next scheduled game will be with Bandon next Friday night.

The girls basket ball teams have not practiced this week on account of their coach, Miss Carpenter, having to give her time to the Senior play. They will resume practice again next week.

The zoology class have been studying the clam this week. Pictures for use in the Latin and history classes have been ordered and are expected soon. These pictures are to be put up in the room, their purpose is to acquaint the pupils with mythology and important historical characters.

The Classical Association of the Pacific Northwest will hold its second session at the University of Washington on December 29, 30 and 31.

The Coos County High School Association will meet December 15 at Marshfield. Members will come together at the Chandler hotel at six p. m. They will attend the Bandon-Marshfield basket ball game at eight, and will hold a business session following the game. Representatives from all high schools of the county together with supervisor McCormac and superintendent Bunch are expected to attend.

All citizens of the state should be interested in Reed College, Portland. It began its first year's work in September of this year with an excellent faculty, a college campus without buildings, and a liberal endowment. The standard of its faculty may be judged by the fact that Edward Octavius Sisson, formerly professor of pedagogy and head of the department of education in the University of Washington, will have charge of the department of education in Reed after September 1912. The ideals of Reed college as set forth in the college bulletins remind one constantly of old Amherst in Massachusetts. Amid all the clamor for utilitarian education in these days, it proposes to offer the old and tried courses leading to a liberal, cultural education.

Eighth Grade

Edith Pendergrass and Evelyn Flanagan have been absent this week on account of illness. The "A" division have begun a review of the Physiology preparatory to the Semester examinations.

Pupils handing in especially good history papers this month follow: Lorán Cooley, Eddie Bolt, Eva Hansen, Glenn Rahskopf, Isabelle Ferguson, and Ralph Dresser.

Alfred Jutstrom of Ferndale entered the "B" division on Monday. Lucy Bonebrake has sufficiently recovered from a recent operation to be able to be in school again.

The two divisions of the Eighth grade are much interested in their current event papers which come each week, they are especially interested now in the Chinese revolution, the Russia-Perian trouble and the Turkish-Italian war.

Sixth and Seventh Grades. The Sixth and Seventh grades sent flowers to Madge Yarbrough who is ill and has been absent from the Sixth grade for two weeks.

Anna Downs was absent two days and Norman Wilson was absent one day this week.

Mrs. Knox visited the Sixth and Seventh grades. Mrs. Rood sent her compliments with a box of candy to the Seventh grade for winning the spelling contest.

Fourth and Fifth Grades.

Some of the grade teachers had the satisfaction of learning that all their efforts to teach practical physiology were not fruitless, as they are often lead to believe, when Arthur Whereat, a fifth grader, astonished them by his application of "First Aid to the Injured" as taught in his text. When William Josephson cut his wrist the other day, Arthur had the presence of mind to tie a handkerchief around it and then by twisting it with a stick, stopped what might have been a serious hemorrhage. A surgeon was called and the boy was soon cared for. Both boys merit much praise not only for their keen forethought but for their pluck.

Third and Fourth Grades. Emma Louise Douglas has been transferred from the Central to the High school building on account of an overflow in the Fourth grade in the Central building.

Rosy Knox from Ten Mile entered the Fourth grade this week. The telling of stories of pantomime in the Third grade was well worked out by Beatrice Crossen, Walter Moore, Stella Magnus, and Harry Moore.

Some good art work in the sketching of winter snow scenes and the painting of Holly sprays was done by Clara Abel, Edith Ayre, Arthur Lee, Esther Holm and Charles Sneddon.

Second and Third Grades.

Arthur Johnson was absent on Monday because of sickness. Helen Barker from Rochester, N. Y., is a new pupil in the Second grade.

Pearl Lapp has returned to school after several days' absence because of illness in the family.

The Christmas tree has been the topic of nature study and painting this week.

Third grade pupils are reading "The Little People of the Snow" and the Second grade pupils have also begun the new readers.

First Grade. Mesdames Walp and Sneddon visited this grade Thursday afternoon. Louise Conner was absent Monday morning on account of illness.

The pupils receiving the highest grades the past month are Maybelle McLoughlin, Elizabeth Jones, Erma Hodson, Mabelle Haldeman and Walter Sneddon. The subject for the art lesson Thursday was a moonlight scene. Floyd Hayworth, Frederic Hoagland, and Louise Conner did exceptionally good work. On Friday, Alton Kardell, Byron Knox and Adraime Gardner made the best winter scenes.

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS.

The primary pupils are greatly interested in getting ready for Christmas.

There is to be an Art Exhibit of the work of the first seven grades the week preceding Christmas.

The First grade pupils are learning new songs and are preparing for Christmas.

Second Grade.

Fred Harris, Luella McLain and Helen Perkins have been promoted and feed your horse will do more work and do it more willingly. It is poor policy to give a horse poor feed and then expect him to do good work. The kind of hay, feed and grain we sell puts muscle on the horse. Give him enough of it and he'll do twice as much and look twice as well. Why not start the improvement today?

to the high second. They are doing excellent work and will probably go into the Third grade at the end of this semester.

The entire grade has finished the work for the first semester and is now reviewing.

Vera Albrecht, who has gone with her parents to Los Angeles, will not return to school until next term.

Third Grade.

The following pupils have not missed a word in spelling for a whole month:—Stella Christensen, Dempsey Downer, Stella Erickson, James Eddy, Elvie Grant, Fred Hillstrom, Leotta Smith, Louis Gidley and Gertrude Robertson. Gordon Sandberg is out on account of illness.

Florence Flanagan was absent last week, having injured her eye.

Fourth Grade.

Hilma Kulju, Hilmore Grant, Doris Sengstacken and Elsie Hillstrom made 90 or more in all of the written tests last month.

Emma Lou Douglas has been transferred to the High school building.

James Knox is doing excellent work in muscular movement writing.

Raymond McKeown was absent Monday and Hilma Kulju Wednesday morning on account of illness.

All pupils of the A class have had perfect lessons in spelling this week, except Elvin Hall and Gladys Falnes who missed one word each. Alice Denning who has been spending Thanksgiving with her parents at the lighthouse, has returned after a two weeks' absence.

The following pupils had 100 in deportment the last month: Elsie Hillstrom, Agnes Johnson, Hilma Kulju, Jane McLain, and Doris Sengstacken.

Fifth Grade.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Horton, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Quatermass, and Mrs. J. W. Bennett visited the room Thanksgiving.

Rufus Byerly entered school last week. Harris Copple and Lester Dally are absent, both suffering from an attack of poison oak.

Ruth Golden, Clara Ferguson, Abigail Ledward, Edward Johnson, Mabel Lingo and Eddeva Wheeler had 90 or more in every subject on their report cards for the past month.

Sixth Grade.

The A class have taken up longitude and time in arithmetic and the B class are working in measurements.

Twelve boys and twelve girls of the grade will be in a Christmas play "The Greatest Day in the Year." Those who have been absent during the past month are Agnes Burke, Ignatius Chapman, Harold Carlile, George Englund, Ellis Grant, Walter Rehfeld, Helen Rees, and Harry Rice.

The following pupils had perfect in deportment last month: Agnes Burke, Hazel Cook, Katherine Dyer, Kathryn Horton, Cecelia Post, Helen Rees, Helen Fish and Estella Grant.

Those who made 90 or above in all of the written tests for the past month are: Hazel Cook, average 98 2-3; Katherine Dyer, 98 1-3; Geo. Hongell, 98; Lloyd LeMieux, 97; Joe Milner, 93 2-3.

Ignatius Chapman, Helen Rees, and Helen Fish had 90 or more in all but one of the tests but their averages were still in the nineties, being 93, 90 and 92 1-6, respectively.

Helen Rees, Katherine Dyer, Joe Milner, Bert Tribbey, Harold Walrath, Helen Fish, Agnes Burke, Marguerite Wiseman and Hazel Cook passed in very neatly written test papers, taking into consideration the short period given to write the long answers required.

Seventh Grade.

The pupils making an average of 90 or over in the last month's tests are: Albert Burroughs, 97; Emil Backman, 97; Lillian Cook, 93; Jack Carter, 93; Rudolph Hillstrom, 92; Milton Johnson, 91; Edna Lando, 92; Leona McLeod, 92; Rudolph Nieme, 96; Geo. Pratt, 93; Helen Smith, 92; Hector Stephan, 91; Monroe Upton, 91; Ruth Walrath, 95.

The pupils of the grade are preparing postal card albums for the Art Exhibit on Christmas.

The pupils are reviewing geography. The sanitary drinking fountains have been installed on all of the floors of the Central school.

GIVES CANKERS TO PEARS AND APPLES.

O. A. C. Expert Inoculates Trees to Study Disease; Will Prove Valuable Test.

CORVALLIS, Or., Dec. 9.—Bark canker spores have been used to inoculate pear and apple trees in an experiment which is being conducted by H. L. Rees, of the plant pathology department of the Oregon Agricultural College, in order to discover whether the disease is a primary or secondary one. Over forty acres were treated, the individual spores of the canker being first isolated, so that infection other than the scabs should not be present. The test is an important one as it will throw much light on the nature of the canker, and thus make it easier to combat.
