

FULL LIST OF MARSHFIELD VOTERS

COMPLETE ROASTER OF ALL WHO CAST VOTES AT THE LAST MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

Owing to the extremely large vote polled in the last city election in Marshfield, much interest has been expressed as to the names of the 841 electors who cast their ballots. The list became accessible when the city council canvassed the vote, one of the poll books then being opened to the public. The clerks of election in haste and possibly through unfamiliarity with some of the names made a number of evident mistakes in initials and spelling of names of some of the voters. Owing to the list book being considered the official list The Times has followed the spelling and initials given there as closely as possible. Here is the list:

TROUBLE IS ENDED.

Chas. Bansch Finally Vacates Ranch at Beaver Hill.
After long delay and a great deal of litigation, the controversy over the Bansch ranch at Beaver Hill is now ended. Mr. Bansch vacated the ranch last week and brought his family and belongings to Marshfield, and left on the Breakwater for Portland. Jas. Merchant and Mr. Madden, who brought their household goods to the depot months ago, at that time expecting to move onto the ranch, finally left here Saturday to take possession of the contested farm property without further interference. Mr. Bansch is leaving on the remptory order of the Sheriff. The property in question is a favorably situated tract of land traversed by the railroad to Beaver Hill, including part of that town and some of the hill lands known to be rich in coal.
