SOME SENTIMENTS OF CHRISTMAS TIME.

MERRY Christmas to us all, my dears, God bless us. God bless us, my one, said Tiny Tim the last of Charles Dickens.

EN cannot live isolated. We are all bound together. No higher man separate himself from the lowest.—T. S. Arthur.

ALIZE that doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.—Sir Philip Sidney.

CHRISTMAS time I have always thought of as a good time—a kind, giving, charitable, pleasant time.—Charles Dickens.

EAP on more wood. The wind is chill; but, let it whistle as it will, I'll keep our Christmas merry still!—Walter Scott.

EN arose a joyous clamor from the wild fowl on the mere, and a note within cried: "Listen! Christmas carols even here!"—Charles Kingsley.

AIN at Christmas did we weave the holly round the Christmas tree. The silent snow possessed the air and calmly fell on Christmas.—Tennyson.

CHRISTMAS SUPERSTITION

elling Time when a Peculiar Popular Prejudice Existed.

well known fifteenth century carol says:

olly and ivy, box and bay put in the church on Christmas day.

at the customs of those times were regarding the removal of all decorations from churches and dwellings on Candlemas day, Feb. 2, for people had superstitions about their remaining longer. Herrick alludes to popular prejudice in the lines:

ven with the rosemary, and so even with the holly, ivy, all these with ye dress the Christmas hall, but so the superstitious find that one least branch there left behind, look how many leaves there be detected there. Maids, trust to me, many goblins you will see.

haps the superstition was a part of the particular old housewives knew that by Candlemas day the red green things, dried by Yule and many torchlights for illumination, would be nuisances of falling leaves and berries to tread underfoot. ever this may be, the belief ob-
