

A. M. ROSS DIED AT HOME HERE

Well Known Coos Bay Man Succumbs to Short Illness on Wednesday.

A. M. Ross, a well-known citizen of Coos Bay, died at his home on Isthmus Inlet, Millington yesterday afternoon after a brief illness of heart disease and other complications. While his condition was known to be critical, the news of his death came as a great shock to his friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Ross had not been feeling well for some time but his condition did not become serious until last Saturday, when he became bed-ridden.

Mr. Ross was about fifty-two years old, was born in Oregon near Portland and was of Scotch descent. He is survived by two sons and a daughter and his wife, the latter being the step-mother of his children. The two sons, Charles and George, reside here.

Mr. Ross came to Coos Bay about seven years ago to take a position as millwright in the E. B. Dean and Company mill. He retained this until the mill was sold to the C. A. Smith company. Since then he has been engaged in the real estate business, being one of the proprietors of the Home Land company.

Mr. Ross was a member of the Masons, the Moose and the Woodmen of the World.

An autopsy held today revealed that the immediate cause of death was the rupture of the gall duct. There were also other complications. The funeral will probably be held Sunday and will probably be in charge of the Loyal Order of Moose.

The things that men appreciate above everything else are the practical gifts of things for everyday use—things that the recipient would buy for himself.

And then, too, you raise his opinion of you just another bit higher when you present him with something practical and sensible—something he would buy for himself.

Every time he wears the Scarf, the Shirt, or the Shoes or the Cravat or the Slippers, or the Hose or the Suspenders, or the Gloves which you gave him, he thinks of you. Every time some friend speaks a word of admiration for the gift you made him, it brings a happy recollection of you.

Every time he sees the ornamental, perhaps, but useless gift of someone else, he unconsciously remembers you for your practical, useful and sensible gift of something to WEAR.

So when you select a present for "him," remember, men are practical. They cherish the memory of a practical, useful gift, but soon forget the opposite kind.

And make your present to "him" something he will really like better than all the other gifts he receives—let it be something he can wear.

And don't lose sight of the fact that most men instinctively know that anything which bears this store's label is absolutely right in style and dependable in quality.

ELK FOR COOS COUNTY.

Binger Hermann Wants Government Herd Sent Here.

The Roseburg News says: "At the regular meeting of the Elks lodge, Hon. Binger Hermann brought up the question of applying to the government of the United States in hope of securing 500 elk, to be distributed between Douglas, Coos and Curry counties. The proposition met with favor and a committee, consisting of Binger Hermann, Frank G. McCall and Charles Parrott was appointed to prepare a suitable resolution preparatory to sending the same to Oregon's representatives in the United States. In the event the resolution falls in its mission, a bill will be drafted and sent to congress in hope of securing its immediate passage. Binger Hermann argued that Douglas Coos and Curry counties was the native home of the elk, and for that reason he believes the counties are entitled to some recognition at the hands of the government. At present, the government has about 5,000 elk in Wyoming, many of which are perishing for the want of suitable range. In this section the elk would have little difficulty in obtaining ample feed, considering that the winters are open and free from blizzards such as are experienced in Wyoming and sister states."

MINER IS SOUGHT.

Myrtle Point Man Sought at Roseburg For Offense.

The Roseburg Review says: "Rightly believing that the authorities here would be on the lookout for him, Harry A. Miner, a fugitive forger from Myrtle Point, did not come to Roseburg, but diverged from the main road and went to Dillard, where he boarded the second section of southbound passenger train No. 13 this morning. He rode only as far as Myrtle Creek, getting off the train there and secreting himself. Officers there are now searching for him."
