Homer In.—The Homer arrived in today with a good cargo of freight from San Francisco. She is scheduled to sail from here Monday afternoon at 2:30 for San Francisco.

Watch Night Service.—There will be no evening service at 7:30 in Emmanuel Episcopal church on Sunday, but instead there will be a watch night service at 11 p. m. with special music.

Injures Ankle.—Oscar Gulovson slipped on the frosty sidewalk during the Fire Department drill last evening and dislocated his ankle. Although it did not lay him up, the injury is very painful.

Rebuilding.—The Nelson Machinery shop is being rebuilt so as to permit an extension of the machine department into the front of the shopbuilding previously devoted to residence quarters. A garage and auto repair shop will be run in conjunction. New floors are being laid and the walls are being sealed with good siding.

Is Paroled.—Fred Johnson of Myrtle Point, who was serving a five year's sentence in state's prison for burning a barn and considerable livestock there a couple of years ago, has been released on a parole. Johnson arrived home Christmas Day and en route is alleged to have uttered threats against his relatives and District Attorney Geo. Brown.

Mrs. Anna Holland

wishes to inform the ladies of Marshfield that she has taken the agency for the FAMOUS SPIRELLA CORSET. Any orders received will be promptly and carefully attended to. Address Mrs. Holland, Fifth street, South Marshfield, Oregon.

Many citizens of the Myrtle Point section are reported to be highly indignant over the release of Johnson.

Elect Next Thursday.—The Marshfield Fire Department will hold its annual election of officers next Thursday evening, all of the officers except chief and assistant chief being elected then. The candidates for the latter will be nominated. It is likely that Dan Keating, the present assistant chief, will be one of the candidates and Vince Pratt will probably be a candidate for assistant chief.

Boat Swamped.—Matt Erickson, residing near Ferndale, started for home in a row boat late last evening. The bay was rough and his boat swamped. He called loudly for help and Nightwatch Buttz mistook his calls for the last appeals of a drowning man. Several boats started out to the rescue and finally Erickson was found.

Funeral Today.—The funeral of Mrs. Arnot of Cooston took place from Dungan's chapel this afternoon. The service was in charge of Mr. Shirrel, assisted by Rev. G. Leroy Hall of the Baptist church. A large number of relatives and friends from Cooston attended, coming on a specially chartered boat. There were some very fine floral offerings. The following members of the Knights of Pythias lodge at North Bend acted as pall-bearers: Geo. M. Sells, C. J. VanZile, J. Hodson, A. H. Woodin, P. L. Swearingen and F. E. Glazier.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

The Nann Smith arrived in today from Bay Point and will probably sail Sunday from the Smith mill.

The Breakwater will leave here at 8 o'clock tonight for the lower Bay and will cross out for Portland early in the morning.

The Randolph is due in today from Gold Beach and Port Orford, several days late, owing to the rough weather there.

The M. S. Dollar left San Francisco at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and will possibly reach here so as to cross in on the early morning tide. The weather off the coast is a little rough and this may delay her until Sunday. Capt. B. W. Olson is piloting her up the coast.

SHIPS TO RELY ON WIRELESS.

It is reported that the French government is about to undertake the installation of "blind lighthouse." This will revolutionize marine signaling in the future. The process consists of substituting signals for the light signals, though probably both kinds of signaling will be used in conjunction. Experts, however, expect that coast lights will be altogether done away with, and that ships will soon get their bearings from the talking of "wireless" receivers.

An official of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company, Ltd., discussed with a representative of the Standard the technical aspect of the change. Though the prospect of the immediate installation of such signal stations is probably a little premature, he said, the lines of a practical scheme are already mapped out. Hitherto a man on board ship might receive a message from a transmitter that has no idea of the direction from which the message has come.

The Marconi company has been working at what is called a radio-compass. This will act in the following way. It will be fixed on a compass and the operator with the telephone apparatus to his ears will turn its needle over the face of the ordinary compass until the high strength give out by the signal is reached. The "blind lighthouses" or shore stations, would be fitted with the usual wireless apparatus, acting automatically, and probably geared to the automatic apparatus which lighthouses carry at present.

Some experiments were made between shore stations and his majesty's ship Furlous, in which the directions were given to the shore operators and then transmitted by message to the ship. Conversely, the coming method of signaling will make the ship's installation the receiver of directions.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

For the balance of the winter, there will be a boat at the O'Kelly landing that can be chartered day or night.

"BEST ON EARTH"

This is the verdict of R. J. Howell, Tracy, O., who bought Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for his wife. Her case was the worst I have ever seen, and looked like a sure case of consumption. Her lungs were sore and she coughed almost incessantly and her voice was hoarse and weak. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound brought relief at once and less than three bottles effected a complete cure.—RED CROSS DRUG CO.
