COQUILLE SHOOTING AFFAIR CAUSES MUCH COMMENT TODAY

Popular Sentiment There and on Coos Bay Apparently Favors W. R. Foote.

SAY CIRCUMSTANCES ARE EXTINUATING

Developments in Killing of Chas. Wilcox at Coos County Seat Yesterday.

The shooting of Chas. Wilcox at Coquille yesterday by W. R. Foote is arousing more discussion than any crime that has occurred in Coos county in years.

The developments in the case have been few. Coroner Wilson is conducting the inquest at Coquille and at noon today it had not been concluded.

W. R. Foote is in the county jail but no formal charges have been preferred against him pending the verdict of the coroner's jury.

D. L. Foote of Marshfield and another son, it was stated today, may be taken into custody soon for complicity in the affair.

Yesterday, popular sentiment was decidedly in Foote's favor in Coquille but today there seemed to be a noticeable change.

It is stated that Foote had appealed to Deputy District Attorney Liljeqvist for immediate action to prosecute Wilcox and had intimated to some that unless the law was quickly invoked that he would take the matter into his own hands.

Foote's daughter is said to be in a delicate condition. Rumors about Wilcox having previously caused trouble in the Foote home are also rife.

W. R. Foote served on the jury that last month convicted Frank Garrison of murder in the first degree for the slaying of Roy Perkins on Coos Bay a year ago last summer.

Today, several well-known Coos Bay men, declared that they had the greatest of sympathy for W. R. Foote and some even went so far as to offer to subscribe money to aid in his defense.

Chas. I. Reigard, who returned from Coquille today noon said that many there were complaining of the slowness with which the law was being enforced on law-breakers and he attributed the demand now for any early trial of Foote to this feeling.

The announcement of Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Liljeqvist in The Times the other day that there were five cases of alleged statutory offenses, similar to the one that caused yesterday's shooting, under investigation is also arousing much comment.

WHAT DID COL. ROOSEVELT SAY?

Former President Makes Talk About Candidacy—Reporters Barred.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Just what did Theodore Roosevelt say about his possible candidacy for the presidential nomination in his speech at the Aldine Club last night? This is the question that is vexing many New Yorkers today.

The first man to leave the club quoted Roosevelt as saying, "I am not candidate for the presidency but if nominated will run."

Another man declared that all that Colonel Roosevelt said was, "I am the most misrepresented man in America."

COLD IS FATAL TO TIMBERMAN

E. E. Everts Dies on Smith River While Companion Is Seeking Relief.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

ROSEBURG, Ore., Jan. 10.—Exhausted and overcome by the cold after several hours' tramp in the wild, snow-laden region of the Smith river, 48 miles northeast of Gardiner, E. E. Everts, aged 53, a timber cruiser of Roseburg, died while awaiting the return of his companion, B. O. McGee, of Eugene, who went to a cabin a mile away to get matches and kindling for a fire to resuscitate Everts.

Death occurred on December 31, while the men were cruising a section of timber for Eugene owners. McGee, who is aged 60 years, made his way to the nearest settlement after four days of great hardship and telephoned to Gardiner to summon the coroner at Roseburg.

The Eugene Guard says: "Everts and McGee were cruising some timber belonging to A. H. Hinkson of Eugene, and the men were in his employ. The first news of the death of Everts Mr. Hinkson had was in a brief letter received Sunday from McGee, who said that he did all he could to keep Everts alive and going until they could reach a settlement, but after struggling along for days Everts finally dropped and could go no further. The snow was two feet deep at the place where the man died, and the weather was cold and raw. Everts is known in Eugene and McGee lives here."
