Bay Traction company is one organized by Geo. F. Averill to build an electric line via Allegany to the Southern Pacific main line.

Fine Apple.—Chas. Stauff yesterday placed on exhibit one of the finest boxes of apples that has been seen here in many a day. They are the Northern Spy variety and were grown by V. R. Rood. The size and coloring of the fruit has attracted much attention.

Coming West.—F. J. Devenue, father of Mrs. Hills Short, in a letter to R. C. Cordes, states that he is planning to spend most of the coming summer on the Bay with relatives and friends. He is now traveling for the H. J. Heinz company of Pittsburg.

Penalty Attached.—Marshal Carter announces that owners of dogs in Marshfield are slow in complying with the city ordinance which provides that the annual licenses must be paid before January 31. He announces that after January 31, a penalty of $1 will be collected on all licenses not paid before that date.

Plan Benefit.—Local friends of Gregory Canty, former steward at the Millcooma club, who has been suffering from knee trouble for the last year and been incapacitated for work have arranged to give a big benefit dance for him at the Eagles' hall Friday evening. Canty is now at his old home near McMinville.

Chinese Trouble.—One of the women residents of Chinatown last night became intoxicated and started to cause a disturbance around Gow Why's place whereupon Gow Why and another Chinaman half hauled and half carried her up the street to her home. No arrests were made although the woman's shrieks attracted considerable attention.

Furnished Ball.—W. Crouch, the Haynes Inlet rancher who was arrested yesterday by Fruit Inspector P. M. Hall-Lewis charged with selling diseased fruit and not properly marking his boxes, furnished ball for his preliminary hearing, the date of which has not been fixed. Milo Sumner and Mr. Moon signed his bond. Mr. Lewis says that he is now investigating several other charges against Mr. Crouch.

Seek Divorce.—Mildred May Jamison has begun suit against Ervin Jamison for a divorce and asks the court to restore her maiden name, Mildred May McIntosh, and grant her such other relief as it may deem fit. She doesn't know where Jamison is now and had to get service in the suit by publication. Geo. M. Battey is also suing Mary E. Battey for a divorce and he does not know her present whereabouts.

Lost at Ten Mile.—Word has just received here that Bobbie Wilson, the well-known jockey who is visiting at the Bowron ranch, got lost in the wilds there the other day while varmint hunting with Hills Short and others. Not only had he to suffer the ignominy of getting lost but it caused him to miss out on the killing of a wild cat which the dogs treed. After several hours search, the balance of the party found him all right.

Buys at Ten Mile.—Carl Schroeder of Marshfield, who has recently returned from Alaska, is still at Ten Mile, where he has purchased the land adjoining the Nasburg property from Peter Menegat, and contemplates the erection of a bungalow.

Has Birthday.—Last Saturday, Mrs. Esther M. Lockhart, one of the oldest pioneers on Coos Bay celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday and was the recipient of congratulations from old friends who remembered the event. Mrs. Lockhart came
