LIFE'S PHILOSOPHY

Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man and writing an exact man.—Bacon. Water is soft and marble hard, and yet we see soft water through hard marble cut.—Dryden. Ingratitude is monstrous, and for the multitude to be ungrateful were to make a monster of the multitude.—Shakespeare. A wrongdoer is often a man that has left something undone, not always he that hath done something.—Marcus Aurelius. Blessed is he who has found his work; let him ask no other blessedness.—Carlyle. No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage ground of truth.—Bacon.

Where He Got It

"Where did you get that hat?" "At the hat store," replied the funny man.

"I am surprised. I should think such an original person would buy his hats at the shoe store or the tin shop."

Wanted to Punish Him. "I thought she never wanted to see him again when they were divorced." "That was what she said." "Then why did she marry him again?" "She thought he was having too good a time as a single man."

Attractive. "Do you know Miss Barth?" "Yes." "Is she handsome?" "Well, she is easy to look at." "What do you mean?" "She's worth half a million."

A WISH. MINE be a cot beside the hill. A beehive's hum shall soothe my ear. A willow brook that turns a mill With many a fall shall linger near.

The swallow oft beneath my thatch Shall twitter from her clay built nest. Oft shall the pilgrim lift the latch And share my meal, a welcome guest.

Around my ivied porch shall spring Each fragrant flower that drinks the dew. And Lucy at her wheel shall sing In russet gown and apron blue.

The village church among the trees. Where first our marriage vows were given. With merry peals shall swell the breeze And point with taper spire to heaven. —Samuel Rogers
