THE WEATHER.

(By Associated Press.)
OREGON—Occasional rain in west tonight and Wednesday; rain or snow in east tonight and Wednesday; easterly winds.

Baby Ill—The 16-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, of upper Isthmus Inlet, is reported very ill of pneumonia.

Extensive Improvements—The Pioneer Hardware Company is making extensive interior improvements of their store, including the building of a large skylight.

Meet Tomorrow—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran Church will meet tomorrow, Feb. 7, at 2:30, at the church parlors. Mrs. Hillstrom and Mrs. Liljeberg, of West Marshfield, will serve refreshments.

Few Birthdays—Cal C. Bridges, the well-known Coos River rancher, February 29, will be 40 years old, although he has had but eight birthdays. This year, he will celebrate his ninth birthday and friends are planning to help him make it an appropriate celebration.

Plan Action—The special committee appointed by the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce to ask the Marshfield City Council to assist in maintaining the Coos Bay Concert Band held a meeting yesterday and decided to appear next Monday night before the Council and set forth all the facts in the case. It is likely that they will be accompanied by a big delegation.

Sought Here—Marshal Carter is in receipt of a letter from Andrew Murphy of 142 Sixth Street, Milwaukee, Wis., asking him to locate Roy Brooks. He says that Brooks was in Coos County when he last heard from him. He didn't know what he was doing here but said that Brooks formerly was a switchman. Although he has made diligent inquiries, Mr. Carter has been unable to find any trace of Brooks.

Divorce Case—The divorce case of A. H. Allbrecht, the Coquille photographer, vs. Grace Albrecht, is scheduled to be heard by Judge Coke today or tomorrow. Desertion is the grounds and the present whereabouts of the wife is unknown. The couple formerly lived at Myrtle Point.

Visits Here—Morton Tower, the United States engineer in charge of the government work on Humboldt Bay, is here from Eureka to visit his parents, Major and Mrs. Tower, of Empire. Today, he is the guest of his uncle, Dr. C. W. Tower. Mr. Tower had charge of the jetty work here several years ago and is a firm believer that the jetty system is the best means of improving the Coos Bay bar.

ALONG THE WATER FRONT.
The Breakwater sails this evening from Portland for Coos Bay.

The Excelsior sailed late Sunday with a cargo from the Smith mill for

The Advent arrived on Sunday to load at the Simpson mills at North Bend.

The Randolph crossed out today for Gold Beach and Port Orford. San Pedro.

The steamer Daisy Freeman left today with a full cargo of lumber for San Francisco.

The San Gabriel and Daisy Freeman arrived in Sunday from the south to load with lumber.

The Alliance is due in tomorrow from Portland, having sailed from there last evening. She will probably sail late tomorrow or early next day from here for Eureka.

Goes to San Pedro.

The Redondo will take part of a cargo to San Pedro on her next trip from here. She will stop at San Francisco while en route each way. The San Pedro trip will require several days longer than the San Francisco trip. The Redondo sailed from San Francisco yesterday for Coos Bay and should reach here about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. She will sail from here Friday.

CHANGE ON HAZEL DOLLAR

Captain Alexander Gow, overseer for the Dollar Steamship Company, probably will take the British steamship Hazel Dollar, which is loading lumber at St. Johns, to Shanghai. Captain J. C. Bruce, her regular master, fell ill on her arrival at San Francisco from China and Captain Gow went to the Bay City and brought her to Portland. Unless Captain Bruce has recovered his health by the time the steamer completes her cargo Captain Gow says he will take her across the Pacific.—Portland Telegram.

MR. MARRIED MAN: After you are dead and on your way to the PEARLY GATES, how about the good wife whom you have left on earth; do you want her to take in washing to pay for your shroud and to care for the children you left with her? Of course you do not; then get a good life policy with EDGINGTON and the PACIFIC MUTUAL, while you are financially and physically able. Over 90 per cent of business men fall before they attain the age of 45; you may be one of the 90 per cent. R. M. EDGINGTON, 177 FRONT ST.

SOUGHT IN PORTLAND

Marshfield Man Wants Police to Locate Missing Relative.

The Portland Journal says: "Friends and relatives of Andrew King, a young Norwegian, have applied to the Portland police department for aid in locating him. He has been missing for over a year. It is feared he met with foul play. Until a letter was received at Marshfield yesterday by John King, a cousin of the missing man, stating that payments on a loan made by a local concern had not been made for some time, nothing was thought of his failure to write. The last heard of the man was in January, 1911, when he wrote to his cousin that he was going to a place he called Blakely Wille, Ore., but such a place is not known to the police. With the letter from the loan office came a letter from the man's aged parents in Norway, asking that the son be located. Circulars will be sent to all the cities in the northwest describing the man and showing his last photograph. He was 25 years of age, rather tall, dark and smooth shaven."

CATCHING INLET.

"Judge" Wright was a welcome visitor in this community last week and was a caller at the Wm. Bonebrake home while here. Now one of the boys is telling a story that goes something like this: They were sitting in the parlor with the lights turned low. The hour was pretty late. He and she had talked about everything, from the weather to the latest Coos Bay railway news. He yawned and she yawned, but he made no attempt to move toward home, and she was becoming weary.

At last she said: "I heard a noise outside just now. I wonder if it could be burglars?"

Of course, he tried to be funny. "Maybe it was the night falling?" he said.

"Oh, I guess not," she exclaimed, "guess it was the day breaking."
