well will be a candidate on the independent ticket for district attorney in the fall election, according to a statement by him in the Roseburg papers. Cardwell is well known on Coos Bay, having had horses entered in most of the race meets held here. He was defeated for the Republican nomination four years ago by District Attorney Brown.

Fine Concert—There was a large turnout at the concert given by the Coos Bay Concert Band at the Masonic Opera House yesterday despite the fact that the fine weather lured scores away on auto and launch trips. The concert was one of the best that the band has given and the various numbers won great applause.

Funeral Today—The funeral of O. G. Landrith of Coos River is being held at the Coos River cemetery this afternoon. A large number of the friends of the deceased left here on the Alice H. to attend the services. Judge John F. Hall will deliver the funeral address. Mr. Landrith was opposed to having any minister officiate at his funeral.

Not Dead—Tom Hall has received word from Medford that Geo. Stough, "the Old Man Chimney Sweep" who was recently reported to have been killed in an accident in Eastern Oregon, is alive and well. The report was brought here by some other chimney sweeps who evidently circulated the report in hope of cutting on Stough's regular customers.

Gets Wild Cat—Chris. Hickox killed a big wild cat yesterday on a sheep range on the ridge between Coos River and Willanah Inlet. The wild cat was just getting near a flock of sheep when Mr. Hickox' hounds got on the trail. During the day Mr. Hickox found a young dog that he had lost in the vicinity a week ago. The pup had remained in the same locality all the time.

Wrong Market—Through an error it was stated in The Times the other day that Keo. W. King, who was convicted in Justice Shuster's court at North Bend of cruelty to animals, was proprietor of The Empire Meat Market. Mr. King is proprietor of the Enterprise Meat Market on Commercial avenue in Marshfield. He has given notice of appeal to the Circuit Court.

Improve Pine Street—According to rumors an effort is being made to revive the movement to have Pine street improved by cutting it down to grade. E. K. Jones, in front of whose property a nineteen-foot cut would be made, and other property owners on the street are opposing the movement, claiming that it will not be warranted until the city grows sufficiently to make the street desirable for business property.

Father Dead—Mrs. Sarah Wilson of South Broadway late Saturday received a telegram from R. M. Rau, a Portland liquor salesman, that his father had died in Portland. Mr. Rau wired from Drain. While here, he received word that his father had been taken very ill and started for Portland, but his parent succumbed before he could reach there. Louis Rau, the deceased, was seventy-six years old and pioneer merchant of the Rose City.

Back to Coast—Mrs. J. T. McCormac reached San Francisco Saturday en route home from her southern and eastern trip and is expected to reach here the latter part of the week. She may visit her son, Fred, at Corvallis, before returning to the Bay. Mrs. Henry Sengstacken and daughters, Doris and Genevieve, proceeded to San Diego, where they will spend a few weeks, returning here the latter part of April, probably.

Troch to Play—Jens Troeh, who played with the Marshfield teams two or three years ago under Manager Burkhardt and who subsequently played with the Portland Northwest League team, has joined Nick Williams' Northwest League team at Sacramento to tryout for a place this year. Troeh has been a member of the police force at Vancouver, Wash.

Henderson Pleases—A Portland paper says that Earl Henderson, the former Marshfield pugilist who is training in Bud Anderson's camp at Vancouver, Wash., for a bout with Denny O'Brien at Gresham, Oregon, March 20, is making a hit with the fans there. It is claimed that he is a cleverer boxer than O'Brien and is rounding into excellent shape.

MRS. HERBERT HAYNES, of Isthmus Inlet, is a Marshfield visitor today.

MRS. CARL McCULLOUGH, of Haynes Inlet is a Marshfield shopper today.

C. L. JOHNSON was in from Beaver Hill Saturday on business and pleasure.

P. A. SANDBERG went to Myrtle Point and other valley points on business this morning.

ALFRED MATSON and Joe Schott went to Coquille this morning to spend the day with friends there.

BELVA FLANAGAN returned to Coaledo this morning to resume her duties as teacher in the district school.

WARNER OGREN returned on the Redondo from San Francisco, where he has spent a couple of weeks.

CLAIRE SWAIN, who has been on the sick list for a few days, departed on a tour of the Smith-Powers camps this morning.

GEO. W. ARTIS, who recently was appointed deputy assessor to assess North Bend and vicinity, was in Marshfield today on business.

A. E. MATHEWS, a Portland timberman who has been spending a few weeks in this section, left for home Saturday. He is planning to move here.

ED RICHMOND is planning to dispose of his interest in the Blanco billiard parlors and leave shortly for The Dalles, Oregon, to engage in business there.

MRS. W. J. BUTLER and Miss Alice Butler arrived home on the Redondo today from Colfax and other California points where they have spent several months with friends and relatives.

PETER CLAUSEN, who has been spending the winter in California, has gone to San Diego where he will spend some time. It is expected that he will return to the Bay after his stay there.

DUNCAN DOUGLAS, son of W. U. Douglas, who had to give up his studies at Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis and go to Portland for medical treatment, is expected here this week.

DR. GEO. E. DIX returned Saturday overland from Portland, where he was summoned as a witness in the $20,000 damage suit of Thorson vs. the C. A. Smith Company which was tried in federal court there.

MRS. JENNIE M. STEWART of North Bend was in Marshfield today closing negotiations for the purchase of four more lots near her home at Bangor. They are converting the place into a duck ranch and expect to raise 1000 this year.

SHERIFF W. W. GAGE came over from Coquille today to look after some civil matters. He says there has not been any new criminal business since he brought Wm. Thom, of Myrtle Point, back from California on the charge of failure to support his family. Thom will probably have his hearing tomorrow.

RAYMOND E. BAKER, of Bandon, is in Marshfield in the interest of his candidacy for County School Superintendent on the republican ticket. Mr. Baker was superintendent of the public schools in Myrtle Point for four years and is well qualified both by education and experience for the position. He possesses a pleasing personality and makes a good impression.

JOHN LAFON and wife and baby will leave on the Nann Smith tomorrow or next day for Asheville, N. C., where they will make their future home.

JAS. MAGEE, who is an officer on one of the big boats running out of San Francisco, arrived here Saturday en route to Empire, where he will spend a week's vacation with his parents, Capt. and Mrs. Magee. He came overland because that would give him a day or two longer stay here. He had a very hard trip in via Myrtle Point.

CAPT. C. W. HARRIS of Sumner was in Marshfield today. He reports that the Larson dredge, which has been laid up for repairs, was brought to Marshfield today to be fixed up. The damage to the dredge is delaying the Catching Inlet improvement considerably.

AMONG THE SICK.

Mrs. D. C. McCarty is rapidly recuperating from a severe seige of la grippe.

G. H. Hermann of Myrtle Point, who has been receiving treatment at Mercy Hospital, is recovering rapidly and expects to be able to return to his home this week.

A. L. Freeman of North Bend, who has been quite ill at Mercy Hospital for some time, is reported to be in a rather critical condition.

Mrs. F. A. Grinolds of Bunker Hill, who was very ill, is reported improving.

Mrs. F. G. Horton is reported quite ill at their home on Second street, near The Chandler.

W. H. Lingo, who has charge of the city scavenger work, sustained a bad gash over his eye the other day by being hit by a flying wedge. He was cutting up a tree and was using a wedge to split it when it flew out and struck him.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

The Nann Smith is due in late today or early tomorrow from Bay Point.

The Alliance is due in early tomorrow from Eureka and will sail at 4 p. m. for Portland.

The Redondo is scheduled to sail from here Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock for San Francisco.

The schooner Ruby, from San Francisco, and the Tillamook, from Portland, reached San Francisco yesterday.

It is reported that the steamboat captains of Coos Bay are planning to organize soon for social and other benefits.

The Randolph, which recently took a cargo of general merchandise from here for Port Orford and Gold Beach, is supposed to have made a special trip to Eureka and consequently will not return to the Bay for several days yet.

The Rustler has returned from Rogue River and is loading another cargo of supplies and equipment for the MacLeay Estate to be used in developing the Hume property in Curry county.

The Bessie Dollar, which is to take on a cargo of 3,500,000 feet of lumber at the Smith mill for China, reached San Francisco March 5 and it is expected that she will proceed here soon, although the exact date of her coming has not been announced.
