

DR. MINGUS ON PLAN TO LET WATERWORKS CONTRACT NOW

of them being taken in without making proper inquiry into the regularity of our filing and the value of the work done. As a general thing one's attitude toward others is the reflection of his own methods and when Joe Bennett imputes irregularity to the stockholders of the Coos Bay Water and Power Company in their offer to the city for their Clear Lake supply rights, one is constrained to feel, in view of this theory, that he considers it proper to unload any old thing on the public.

Further on Mr. Bennett says: "Better let them sweat a while." (Coos Bay Times.) No doubt Joe would like to transfer the sweating process to somebody else; he has been doing it for four or five years and as time goes on the situation does not improve. The present City Council are an unwieldy set and will not submit to a center rush; they are not lured on by divers tactics to purchase a frog pond and junk pipe in excess of scrap price. Mr. Bennett, as long as you can guzzle choice imported bottled waters to satisfy your own thirst while the public pays you for the domestic use of unwholesome water that has been condemned by the State Board of Health things appear about right but when someone proposes better water for the public, for the betterment of their health and protection of their lives then there is an awful protest goes up, a protest which is so vindictive in its manifestation that you forget the instincts of a gentleman and proper regard for the English language. I think, Mr. Bennett, the conduct and integrity of the stockholders of the Coos Bay Water and Power Company will compare favorably with yours. Some of them go to church occasionally to show they have an interest in the betterment of morals and the promulgation of Christian principles; I will grant, however, they have not, so far as I know, become so effusive in their demonstrations at prayer meetings that they were impelled to rise and say: "Brothers and sisters—hlc—we ought to—hlc—love each other—hlc—hlc—more—hlc; I say brothers and hlc—sisters we ought to hlc—love—hlc—each other more—hlc.

Doyle and Farren to Have Construction Start on the New Road to Coos Bay Soon.

SPOKANE, Wash., March 15. The Spokane Chronicle Monday evening published the following: George Godfrey of Seattle, treasurer of the Oregon & Southern Railway Company, is in Spokane today to confer with J. Arnold Doyle, president, and H. M. Farren, first vice president, at the Victoria hotel, regarding the letting of a contract for the construction of 63 miles of electric railway. It is expected that the contract will be let and that construction work will be commenced at once. A number of Spokane contractors are bidding on the work. The new road will connect Medford, Grants Pass, Roseburg, Ashland and Marshfield, Ore. The general offices of the company are at Roseburg.

EUGENE RAILWAY NEWS

The Eugene Guard says: R. C. Crowell, master mechanic for Twoby Bros., came in from Portland yesterday and went to the tunnel today to superintend the erection and installation of machinery. W. R.
