CONQUEST OF DISEASE PRESENTS PROBLEMS

THE people's health is one of the social, industrial and economic issues that in the main are to present the political problems of America and Europe in this century.

The problem is that of the whole world. No nation is great enough to cope with it single-handed. It is not enough to exterminate bubonic plague at San Francisco, cholera at New York, yellow fever at New Orleans.

When governments cease to spend millions to prevent and cure diseases among cattle, but nothing for the stoppage of diseases that mercilessly destroy helpless children; when they cease to spend $10,000,000 for a battleship and yet spend not one cent to train sanitarians, then we shall see international congresses of scientists and medical experts frame international programs for the betterment of the health of the human race.

HOME MAKING CONTEST ON

Coos Co. Educational Board Issues Statement Concerning Plan.

The following circular letter has been addressed to the teachers and patrons of the county by County Superintendent Bun L. The boys and girls of Coos County are entitled to every advantage that modern conditions make necessary. Older and to some extent more favored states find that the proper employment of children during their leisure hours at home has not only better fitted them for useful lives but has greatly contributed to the general prosperity of the community.

Every phase of the competition is open to both boys and girls. Each is to do the planting and cultivating of the produce and the selecting and packing of the fruit he or she exhibits. The Coos County Fair Association is planning to hold a fair in the county some time in September and we have requested that one day be given us for an exhibit of the best the school children have raised or made.

We recommend that contestants get their advice and all necessary assistance from the Oregon Experiment Station at Corvallis, whose literature and written instructions will be sent to any one free on application. Keep the fact constantly in mind that quality not quantity will be the standard by which awards will be made, therefore limit the amount but strive for the best.

All poultry and stock entered for prizes should be pure blood, but not necessarily registered. At the proposed fair prizes will be given for the best of the following: Field corn, sweet corn, pop corn, musk and water melons, pumpkins, squashes, all garden and field vegetables (necessary to the dairyman), corn, vetch, peas, carrots, beets, kale, grasses and clovers, including alfalfa, common to this county; any article manufactured from our native timber: bread, cake, canned fruit, jelly, mending, darning, sewing, flowers, fruits and berries, chickens, ducks, turkeys, pigs, calves, sheep, goats, all to be of this year's growth.

The girls' skill in sewing is to be shown by exhibiting each article made. The garments may be white or colored, plain or ruffled, hand or machine made. Neatness and taste rather than elaboration will be the standard. No extra credit will be given for the use of lace, embroidery or expensive materials. In cooking each girl may exhibit one loaf of bread, one cake, one pint or quart of fruit, one glass of jelly or any or all of these. All work exhibited must be done by the girl without help.

For this contest the children will be divided into two classes those 12 years or older, and those under 12 years of age. Those of each class whose exhibit is adjudged the best will receive prizes of equal value. Prizes for second and third best of all exhibits will also be given. We wish to say that suitable prizes of stock poultry, commodities and cash contributions will be thankfully received from those who think this enterprise should be encouraged and who feel that they can give something to reward the young people who win in this contest. Please send a list of your contributions to the office of the County School Superintendent as soon as you have decided as to the assistance you can give.

WALT MASON THE POET PHILOSOPHER

TIMELY ADVERTISING. "There is no good in printer's ink," with emphasis says Jabez Dink. "I tried that graft for many years; it brought me bitterness and tears. Last summer I blew seeds in droves announcing low priced heating stoves; such bargains as I offered then were never known by mortal men, and not a customer arose—I didn't sell a doggone stove! This winter I have tried once more to bring the people to my store; I advertised some useful wares—porch furniture and garden chairs, and didn't sell enough to pay ad expenses for a day! To one great truth I'll put you wise—it doesn't pay to advertise!" But Gaffer Spink, across the street, says advertising can't be beat. "I think of what the people need, and then write ads that they will read," says Gaffer Spink, who gets the dough, while rivals wring their hands in woe. "I don't cry 'fans!' when winter's nigh, or Christmas trees in mid-July!"

Both men reside in Bandon. Both are business men. Mr. Morgan on March 9 arrested seven more men on similar charges: three on Gold Creek, two on Ferry Creek, one on Lampa Creek and two on Big Creek. They were Y. Palmer, A. Tucker, George Chapman, Donald Morf, Emil Coppendale, Merl Newman and J. Loob.

TEN LITTLE SUFFRAGETTES

Ten little suffragettes stading in a line; One spied a bargain sale, then there were nine. Nine little suffragettes at a debate; One strained her vocal chords, then there were eight. Eight little suffragettes out until eleven; Her husband came after one, then there were seven. Seven little suffragettes, up to cunning tricks, One criticised another's hat, then there were six. Six little suffragettes, for votes they did contrive; A tiny mouse scared one away, then there were five. Five little suffragettes, making noise galore, A big cop arrested one, then there were four. Four little suffragettes, glad that they were free, A mere man proposed to one, then there were three. Three little suffragettes, to their movement true, One tried to make a speech, then there were two. Two little suffragettes, with their work undone; Half sailed back to England, then there was one. One little suffragette, in it just for fun, None to listen to her talk, then there was none. —Exchange.

Good Electric Lighting Is Impossible Without Proper Lamps and Shades

Satisfactory lighting results rest not alone upon the generating plant and distributing systems of the Electric Company.

Receiving adequate electric current at correct voltage in itself will not produce good lighting.

The new (Mazda) tungsten lamps give almost three times as much light for the same consumption of current as do the carbon incandescent lamps.

We maintain representatives who are experts in illumination and who will prescribe for householders not satisfied with lighting results.
