

LITTLE GIRL SEES FIGHT

and Jesse Day, started off with a rush and for the first two rounds it looked as though Chisholm was going to be able to make a strong showing. However, Chisholm's showing ended and it was realized by the crowd that it was only the matter of a few rounds until he would be put out by Day.

Chisholm showed lack of experience and ring generalship and was not trained for a long go. He was quick, although he generally swung wild and trusted to luck for results.

The first round started with Chisholm rushing and swinging while Day was apparently slow. Chisholm landed several to Day's head.

The second was pretty much the same as the first and two or three of Chisholm's swings dazed Day for an instant. As the gong sounded Chisholm dropped his hands and started to return to his corner. Day was leading at the time and struck him just as he turned, knocking him to his knees. Chisholm protested against the foul but the referee would not allow it.

In the third Chisholm started to use the pivot and was warned against it by the referee. In a clinch Day got Chisholm leaning over so that he landed several short jabs to the back of Chisholm's neck. In another clinch Day was able to reach with his right by short undercuts to Chisholm's right eye.

In the fourth Day continued to play for Chisholm's sore eye and soon had him bleeding profusely. Chisholm began to show signs of tiring and of being worried.

Again in the fifth Chisholm was warned against the use of the pivot. Day was punishing him considerably and Chisholm was giving little in return.

Early in the sixth Chisholm went down and took a count of nine. Instead of following his early start of leading on Day, Chisholm was trying to avoid Day's punishment. He was practically helpless. Day landed on him again and he went to the floor and took the count. It was not a knockout but Chisholm was all in.

Even before this, a number had called to Chisholm's supporters to throw up the sponge and save a possible knockout, but they did not do so.

Wins on Foul.

In the eighth round of what was to have been a ten round go, Sing Hosan, the Beaver Hill Chinaman, was given the decision over "Chuck" O'Connell on a foul. Some claimed that this go was even better than the main event, although others who had seen previous bouts between the Chinaman and O'Connell did not think it was as good as the other one. This is the second time the Chinaman has won on a foul.

The bout was a decidedly bloody one. O'Connell bleeding profusely from the nose and mouth after the fifth round. His face was badly bespattered and the Chin's shoulder and back where O'Connell leaned on him in clinches was red.

The Chin showed special cleverness in ducking O'Connell's swings and landed some heavy rights to the face at regular intervals. About the only punishment O'Connell was able to inflict was in the clinches when he would get some short arm upper cuts to the Chin's stomach.

Just as the gong sounded in the fifth round, the Chin slipped to the floor but was quickly on his feet again.

In the eighth, in a rush, O'Connell landed a stiff one below the belt. The blow did not injure the Chin but the foul was so plain that the decision was immediately given to the Chinaman.

While the Chin had a little the best of the go throughout, it was far from being a decisive victory.

Wilson Is Victor.

Billy Wilson was given the decision over Kid Holbrook of Bandon in the fourth round of the first preliminary on a foul by Referee Joe Schott. Wilson was larger than his opponent and had more experience, easily out classing him. However, some of the Bandon lad's friends protested vigorously over Schott awarding it on a foul.

Day was apparently in excellent condition for the go, not showing any signs of tiring. L. M. Bivens, his physical trainer, was greatly pleased over his showing.

Referee Gleason of Day-Chisholm and the Sing Hosan-O'Connell bouts gave general satisfaction with the way he handled the goes.

NEWS OF NEARBY TOWNS

MYRTLE POINT POINTERS

News of Upper Coquille Valley as Told by The Enterprise.

A. T. Coach and John Coy of Bandon were in town over night Sunday en route home from a hunting trip to the Remote section. They got the belt of only one wild cat on the three-days trip.

Miss Grace Black has resigned her position as teacher in the Fishtrap school in favor of another, and on last Saturday went to Coquille where she has charge of the third grade room in city schools of that place.

Miss Vera Talbot has resigned as head operator and manager at the local office of the Coquille Valley Telephone Co. Miss Cala Chandler is the new manager.

Gustave Schroeder last week sold his jewelry business and stock to George Rackleff, and expects to move onto a ranch near Fishtrap. Mr. Rackleff is well known to the jewelry trade here, having been employed in watch repairing a couple of years, when C. H. Bender was in the business here.

Mrs. Lucinda Sarter of Marshfield returned to her home last Saturday after a week's visit at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. C. A. Clippinger, of this city.

MYRTLE POINT IMPROVING

New City Hall and Two Blocks of Paving Projected There.

The city council met last Monday evening with all members present and there was a larger number of interested citizens present at this meeting than usually are. The building committee on the new city hall reported that they had secured a preliminary sketch from Architect Turpin of Marshfield of a municipal building, three stories and basement that can be built at a cost of not to exceed $2500, finished to the present needs of the city.

A petition signed by the property owners of 700 out of the 800 feet of the frontage on Spruce street between Fourth and Sixth streets and asking that that portion of the street lying between the center of Fourth street and the center of Sixth street be paved with a hard surface paving, was then read. The petitioners pledged themselves that they will be governed by the law as regards the payment for the improvement of streets as it may be after the election, when the proposed amendment will be voted on, and will in all probability carry throwing the cost of the improvement of the intersections of the street on the property owners instead of onto the general fund of the city. The petition was granted.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

MYRTLE POINT CREAMERY

Directors Are Elected for Ensuing Year.

The Myrtle Point Enterprise says: The Myrtle Point Canning Company held their annual meeting at the city hall in this city yesterday afternoon. A large number of stockholders were present, 167 shares of the stock being represented. Minutes of last year's meeting were read and approved, and the reports of the board of directors and treasurer read and ordered filed with the secretary. The treasurer's report showed was present. The Coquille valley contributed largely to the crowd, the special train bringing over 134 in addition to those who arrived on the early train Saturday.

Several Free-for-Alls.

Several times during the evening it looked as though some lively free-for-all would be side attractions for the crowd in the rink. Most of the participants in these were pretty much under the influence of liquor and friends suppressed their pugilistic tendencies before anything serious happened. However, it kept Marshal Carter and Special Watchman Chambers on the jump. One of them started just as Jesse Day got into the ring and Day started through the ropes after him. The crowd thought Day kicked at one of them and hissed him considerably for it.

FLORENCE TO GET LIGHT

Voters Grant Franchise for Electrical Plant of 100 Units.

Construction work will be begun soon and the plant will be ready to furnish light by September. The plant will have a maximum lighting power of 100 kilowatt units. The town of Florence reserved a right to purchase the plant at any time after ten years from the date of the franchise.

that the company paid out to the growers of the valley and for help last season thirty-three hundred and some odd dollars.

A pipe line was surveyed out a few days ago from the head of Riley Creek to the town, with a view of supplying the town with good, pure mountain water as well as for fire protection. A storage reservoir will be built on some elevated place near town that will give a sufficient pressure to throw a stream of water over the courthouse or any other building in town in case of fire.—Gold Beach Globe.

COOS COUNTY GOLD

Phil Guthardt, who is mining on some leased ground on Salmon mountain, was in town from there this week. Among the gold, which he brought in was one nugget that tips the scales at one ounce and is valued at $20.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

McKenzie, as treasurer, gave bonds for a thousand dollars and reported that the sheriff had collected and turned over to him $200 of the one mill port tax, which money will be used to defend the pending suits—one an injunction to restrain the sheriff from further collection of the tax, and the other a mandamus suit against Secretary Loney for refusing to file certain papers hostile to the port. It is to be hoped that both suits will fall.

J. Huntley announces his candidacy in this issue of the Tribune for the republican nomination as county judge.

CREAMERY STARTS SEASON

Coquille Valley Institution Plans for a Big Year.

The Coquille Sentinel says. The Coquille Valley Creamery Company commenced operations on March 4. They churned 490 pounds of cream on that date, which yielded 230 pounds of butter. The new building constructed by the company is a two story structure 40 by 75 feet and was erected at a cost of approximately $3500. The capacity of the plant is not less than 4000 pounds of butter per day, and it is estimated that within three months from date the output will probably reach from 12-15 to 1500 pounds per day.

TROUBLE WITH STRIKERS

Half a Dozen Officers Wounded in Massachusetts. (By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)

BARRE, Mass., March 16.—Several shots were exchanged between strikers and the civil officers here today. Half a dozen officers were slightly injured and five men, all Italians, were arrested. The trouble followed an attempt of the company to send several loaded freight cars out of the yards. The train moved without interference, but suddenly about two hundred strikers surrounded and attacked a half dozen officers and many shots were fired. The riot was quickly quelled and the street cleared.

They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Recall Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents and 80 tablets 50 cents.
