This picture is three times as long as the usual subject, lasting an hour, and will be run continuously all day Friday. All scenes were laid in Ireland and the story is exceedingly dramatic and thrilling. Miss Gene Gauntier, world-famous motion picture actress, performs the leading part as Arrah Meelish, the title of the picture having been selected from a scene where Arrah gives her foster brother a kiss through the bars of the prison; hence Arrah-Na-Pogue, or Arrah-of-the-Kiss. The Orpheum outbid all competitors on this extraordinary feature and although the bid submitted by this house for this subject was a considerable amount, it will be run at the regular price of admission.

HAPPY DAYS

The baseball season soon will open and joys for which we've long been groping will be our own once more; if we have cares we soon will lose 'em; the good old game will soothe each bosom, and heal the head that's sore. When we assemble on the bleachers we'll soon forget the tiresome creatures who fuss in politics; forget their ranting and their posing; the schemes and plots that they're disclosing, forget their Cheap John tricks. The grand old game must be suspended each year until the winter's ended, and while it's off the map we all get sour and cross and rusty, and fill the air with language gusty, and stand around and scrap. Then idle things gain our attention, pipe dreams too numerous to mention, and we are in a trance; we think to better our condition, that we must boost some politician to pomp and circumstance. But all such things go callyhooting when once we hear the umpire hooting his larynx at the mob; then grief and worry are forgotten, and politics seem stale and rotten, and care must jump its job. It's better far to seek the bleachers than share with patriotic creatures a big long campaign house; it's better far to win a pennant than to elect a bran-new tenant for Washington's White House.

LOGS BOTHER RIVER BOATS

Serious Menace to Launches In Coos River Reported by A. O. Rogers.

Coos River navigators are complaining of the large number of stray logs afloat in the river as being a serious menace to launches plying in those waters. The logs broke out of various booms and rafts during the last freshet and are now floating, some partly submerged, in the river.

A. O. Rogers, who was in town today, says that some bad accidents have been narrowly averted. Late Tuesday afternoon the 5-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson of Daniels Creek fell and broke her arm. Dr. Horsfall was called and he characterized the launch kid for the trip. In the darkness they ran into one of the logs near Al Smith's ranch and damaged the boat some. Another was encountered further up the river that did more serious damage and resulted in their not reaching the Nelson place until about 2 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Rogers is trying to find some way of having the logs removed from the river before more serious harm is done.

TEACHERS ARE RE-ELECTED

At a recent meeting of the Coquille board of education all the teachers at present employed in the city schools were re-elected. Miss Benson of the eighth grade and Miss Hopkins of the high school will not accept their positions for another year, but practically all the others have accepted. It is fortunate for the school that so many of the teachers are holding over for another year since a teacher's work is always worth a great deal more after she has become acquainted with the children and the community. The list of teachers for next year so far as the places have been filled is as follows: C. H. Howard, superintendent; A. J. M. Robertson, principal of the high schools; Miss Ida Gamble, eighth grade; Miss Rena Anderson, sixth grade; Mrs. Elena Minard, fifth grade; Miss Carrie Rae, fourth grade; Miss Grace Black, third grade; Mrs. Ed Lorenz, second grade, and Mrs. W. C. Chase, first grade.—Coquille Sentinel.

THEY PUSHED HIM IN

Roosevelt's idea of "accepting" the nomination puts us in mind of a boy we once knew, says an exchange, who, having promised his mother that he wouldn't go in swimming would undress and stand on the bank and get the other boys to push him off into the water.

and Curry counties, arrived here today. He is a candidate for renomination on the republican ticket and will spend some time here looking after his political fences and also getting ready for the trial of several cases at the next term of court at Coquille.
