The Egg-supper given Thursday evening at the Lutheran Hall by the Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church was well attended and successful in spite of the fact that the rainy night prevented many from coming who would otherwise have attended. The three tables were very prettily decorated with centre-pieces of cut flowers and greens, and bowls of pansies. A delicious supper had been prepared by the committee in charge, Mrs. Tiedgen, Mrs. M. C. Horton, Mrs. W. S. Nicholson, Mrs. F. G. Horton, Mrs. A. L. Barker, and Mrs. C. H. Walter, embracing almost every known delicacy of eggs. The coffee was contributed by the Bazar. Mrs. Barker, assisted by Miss Marian Seaman, Miss Ruth Horton and Miss Freida Holm, served at one table; Mrs. D. A. Jones, assisted by Miss Laura Hendry and Mrs. Meyers, at another; and Mrs. H. I. Hyde, with helpers, Miss Helen Dow and Miss Gladys Diment, at a third. Mrs. A. T. Haines received and seated the guests. Every detail was beautifully managed and highly creditable. About fifty dollars was cleared.

The Junior Baptist Union under the direction of Mrs. G. L. Hall gave very delightful star social last evening at the South Marshfield home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jones. The work of the past quarter was represented in the record of stars on the wall chart kept by the secretary. The members having no blanks were awarded Junior badges, and those having only two or three blanks were given suitable rewards. A business session, presided over by Miss Joan Fitzgerald, took up a part of the evening and officers were named for the next quarter as follows: president, Howard McLaughlin; vice-president, Maybelle McLaughlin; secretary, Eddeva Wheeler; treasurer, Helen Gulovson. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Hall for her able work in fostering the society and the interest and work she has had in it. The rest of the time was employed with games and general merry-making. The prize for dressing the peanut-doll was awarded Miss June McLaughlin, and for quickness at the picture-puzzles to Miss Maxine Jones. At the close of the evening ice cream and cake were served and the Junior song was sung. Among those present were Joan Fitzgerald, Alta Soule, Maxine and Elizabeth Jones, Genevieve Gosney, Wayne Gosney, Genevieve Gosney, Ruth McLaughlin, Howard McLaughlin, Maybelle McLaughlin, June McLaughlin, Anna Downs, Margaret Lund, Eddeva Wheeler, Helen Gulovson, Thelma Hennerington, Willa Bonebrake, Cecil La Chapelle, Her-shal Clausen, Whitford Hall, Edith Ayre, Steen Magnus, Stella Magnus, Mrs. G. The Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church met for roll call and consecration meeting Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walter. The meeting was led by Mrs. Walter. About twenty of the young people were present.

From time to time notices have been received by friends here of the successes and triumphs of Frank A. Wickman in the musical world of Berkeley. The following clipping from the Berkeley "Independent" is most flattering to Mr. Wickman and cannot fail to be a cause of great rejoicing to all who remember him:

"Frank A. Wickman, one of the best known of the musical coterie, is planning to leave Berkeley for New York about the end of June, sailing for London a month later. Berkeley is to lose Mr. Wickman for several years for he goes abroad to continue his studies. His plans for study are not definite. He will be in Berlin next winter working under one of the masters there. London and Paris are to be visited this summer. Mr. Wickman's studio on Aetna St. has been one of the musical centers of Berkeley. He is a very frequent host at the studio and has gathered there the musical followers of the Bay cities. Before he leaves for abroad he will entertain his friends at a number of large affairs."
