BIG CANTALOUPE CROP.
Over 50,000,000 Will Be Produced in Imperial Valley This Year

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—The growers of cantaloupes in the Imperial Valley, California, estimate this season's production at 50,000,000 melons. Approximately 5,500 acres have been planted this spring, the yield, under normal conditions being computed at 50,000,000 melons, about 1,000,000 crates or 2,600 carloads. At least 30,000 tons of ice will be required for the shipping of this fruit to the markets of the country. The Southern Pacific, which handles practically all of this crop, is already beginning to assemble its refrigerator cars in that section.

To get the melons to their various destinations in good condition necessitates considerable skill in packing the crated cantaloupes inside the cars. In addition to seeking an attractive appearance in the arrangement of the fruit in the car, which appeals to the car-lot buyer when he inspects it at its destination, the shipper must see to it that the crates are securely fastened to prevent them from shifting and to see that they are loaded and packed as to allow free ventilation and refrigeration.

LOCAL NOTES

COOS BAY TIDES.
Tide w is given the time and height of high and low water at Marshfield.

The tides are placed in the order of occurrence, with their times on the first line and heights on the second line of each day; a comparison of consecutive heights will indicate whether it is high or low water. For high water on bar, subtract 2 hours 24 minutes.

Childs and others. Marshal Carter has just received a letter from Gerald Bunker, agency director of the National Casualty company of Detroit, saying that Arnold was formerly agent for them but is no longer connected with the company and that they have no knowledge of his present whereabouts.

Will Build Home.—C. O. Gosney is building a home on the lot he recently purchased in First Addition to Marshfield from the Reynolds Development Co.

Band Dance.—The band boys will give another of their pleasant dancing parties at Eagles' hall Saturday evening. They will present an entire program of new music.

Closes Store.—J. W. Umatatt, proprietor of the Anona Cash Grocery, closed the store yesterday to readjust the business. He plans to reopen it within a few days.

Wiseman Moves.—W. K. Wiseman has moved from South Broadway to North Front street where he recently opened a second-hand store in the Nelson building, opposite the city hall.

Settles Case.—August Hoelling, of North Bend, last evening adjusted the troubles he became involved in with a San Francisco firm and prevented the threatened closing of his store on the judgment they secured against him.

Boat Recovered.—The boat stolen from the R. G. Rooke ranch last Thursday night and advertised in The Times was discovered tied near the oil house yesterday. The parties taking it evidently became frightened and thought they would be discovered before repainting it.

Is Fined.—Fred Aldo, the Eastside man who was bound over to the grand jury by Justice Pennock for wifebeating, pleaded guilty before Judge Benson in circuit court yesterday and was fined $50 and costs. Aldo didn't have the money but it is expected that he will raise it soon.

For City Hall.—Mayor C. E. Jordan of Eastside was a Marshfield visitor today. He reports that the city of Eastside bought the old school house at auction there the other day for $275 and will move it onto the city's property and convert it into a city hall.

New Factory.—G. H. Rood, who for some time has been connected with the Nelson Iron Works, has severed his relations with the company and is now in Portland arranging to open a new ironworks on Coos Bay. He expects to return here shortly and start the installation of the new plant.

Is Nominee.—C. A. Pennock is the republican nominee for justice of the peace in this district, and O. S. Torrey is the democratic nominee. Some got confused by the fact that the two tied for the democratic nomination and Torrey won. This means that they will again be opposing candidates at the November election.

Injured by Fall.—A. R. O'Brien while assisting some workmen in placing some new machinery last evening slipped and fell from a scaffolding about five feet high. He struck on his back and was painfully bruised and jarred but no bones were broken. Although he suffered considerably last night and this morning, he is reported getting along nicely this afternoon.

Neime in Trouble.—Fred Neime, who operates a local auto line, was haled before Justice Pennock this morning on charges preferred by Dr. Geo. E. Dix. Neime claimed that he had merely borrowed the part. Justice Pennock found him guilty and imposed a fine of $25. The payment of the fine was suspended, Neime only being required to pay the costs.

Boat Ruined.—James Wasson's fishing launch was ruined by the storm at Big Creek. He had it anchored near the mouth of the creek at a point that he thought was perfectly safe. The storm and high tides reached and tore it away from its moorings and drove it up on the rocks. The hull was battered to pieces and about all he will be able to save will be the engines. The loss is considerable.

Rogue River Fishing.—Warren P. Reed, of Gardiner, announces that he and others will put in a small plant on Rogue river this year to care for the salmon caught there. While under the law, salmon can only be caught by hook and line on Rogue river, still the big runs of the fish there enable good fishermen to make big catches and Mr. Reed plans to take care of them. The salted fish will be shipped from there to Gardiner and cared for at the cannery there.

AMONG THE SICK

John Herron is laid up with a severe attack of la grippe.

SPRING STORM IS ABOUT OVER

Rainfall Since Saturday, 3.11 Inches—Interesting Weather Data.

One of the severest spring storms that Coos Bay has experienced in a long time has been prevailing for the last few days and the indications today are that it will soon cease. The barometer is rising, going up to 29.90 this morning and the wind veered from the southwest to northwest.

Although the storm has made the weather most disagreeable, no damage has resulted from it aside from the interruption of outdoor operations.

The total rainfall since September 1, 1911, up to today is 54.52 inches. The total precipitation for the same period a year ago was 54.88 inches. The precipitation during the month of April this year was 6.38 inches, while it was 4.01 inches during the month a year ago. In 1907, the precipitation during the month of April was the heaviest for that month in the history of the local weather office, the rainfall totalling 7.66 inches.

Since last Saturday night 3.11 inches of rain has fallen, according to the official records of B. B. Ostlund, local weather observer.

Rivers Rising.
T. M. Walker, of Coquille, who came over this morning, stated that the Coquille river was bank full and still rising when he left there. If it overflows its banks, considerable damage will result.

A. O. Rogers, Jr., of Coos River, who was in Marshfield today, reported that a considerable rise was noticeable on the upper river and many logs were coming out.

NEPHEW WRITES AGAIN

P. A. Graffort, of Los Angeles, Answers Criticism of Him.

Editor Times:
I am in receipt of a copy of your paper of April 29, which contained an account of the horrible death of my uncle, Jacob Evans.

There are several statements which are misleading, but not your part, I assure you. Not until my last visit to my uncle's last December, was I aware of the fact that he was what was termed a "squaw man" of the earlier days, nor did I know he had any children from this mode of living, nor did this cause me to think any the less of my uncle, who revealed the greater share of his past life and experiences to me. These, however, he considered a bitter remembrance.

I learned of uncle years ago through his sister, Mrs. Martha Graffort, my grandmother, whom he had not seen since '53 when he left Indiana and located in the west. Prior to her death she often expressed a wish that I might visit him and about four years ago I began correspondence with him, he urging me to come at that time. My first visit was last July, since which time there was continued correspondence between us.

While visiting him the second time in December in response to being notified of his illness, he placed explicit confidence in me and entirely unsolicited revealed his entire business affairs to me, realizing he was becoming aged and living, as he told me, with a constant fear on his mind, the full details of which I am familiar but deem it unwise to exploit at this time.

Contrary to rumor, we parted in January the best of friends, which statement I can verify if the young man who spent the winter with uncle is still in those parts. It was through uncle's suggestion that I came to California, he paying my fare to this city, to make arrangements for treatments for him, his system being filled with quicksilver, as his friends knew.

In reference to Mrs. O'Malley claiming me to be an "impostor," I can produce the necessary credentials and also uncle's letters, which show he was satisfied of our relationship. Only Tuesday we received the last letter, dictated by uncle and written by a neighbor, bearing the initials, per "B. W. B.," stating he would be down some of these days and trusted we would not be disappointed in his not being able to come just now. The letter was signed and have always been signed "Your uncle" Jacob Evans. My visits were most enjoyable and my thoughts far from that of grasping his interests, as inferred. My reputation for honesty and uprightness bears inspection, having held public offices for the past six years in my home town, Buchanan, Mich., and I can refer anyone to the banks of that city or any county official of Berrien county.

We sincerely trust that the sheriff with his deputies will put forth every effort in bringing the cowardly assassin to justice.

—P. A. GRAFFORT.
