The fight occurred in the central part of town when the crowd attempted to prevent Supt. Geo. W. Kiefer of the Pine Hill Coal Co. from taking two men in his auto to the jail. Peculiar Situation in Republican Primaries in Maryland—Roosevelt's Leaders Feel Safe.

(By Associated Press to The Coos Bay Times.)

BALTIMORE, Md., May 8.—The attitude of the Taft leaders in Maryland toward the peculiar situation that might develop through the workings of the new state primary law was still undecided today. While the delegates elected to sit in the state convention appeared on the primary ballots with no designation to indicate their affiliations, complete unofficial returns indicate that leaving the matter of instructions aside a majority of them are personally friendly to Taft. Some of the leaders say there will be 68 such Taft delegates to the 61 known to favor Roosevelt. While the Taft leaders claim they can control the organization of the state convention and the personnel of the national delegates, Roosevelt leaders assert they have no fear of such a complication as would rob them of the fruits of the victory they claim on the preference vote. The complete republican vote figures for the state give Roosevelt 29,124, and Taft 26,000. The democratic vote was Clark 34,283, Wilson 22,436, and Harmon 7168.

PANAMA CANAL IS GREAT AID

Sec. Knox In Address Outlines Commercial Possibilities of Waterway.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Secretary of State Knox today inspected the site of the Panama Pacific International Exposition, had luncheon with the exposition officials, and this afternoon reviewed five thousand troops at the Presidio.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Urging the people of the Pacific coast to prepare now for the trade opportunities in Central and South America which the opening of the Panama Canal will bring them, Secretary of State Knox, in an address here at the annual banquet of the California Development Board, declared that three duties confronted the people of the west; to strengthen their commercial standing in the countries of the Caribbean through the efforts of capable representatives; to provide transportation facilities for the expected increase of trade; and to hold up the hands of the present administration in its efforts to develop the resources and commerce of those countries by placing them financially upon their feet.

Quoting the aphorism that "there is a tide in the affairs of men that, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune," Mr. Knox warned his audience that "it will not do for you far-westerners to relax your preparative activities and sit idly amid the splendors of your great exposition, watching your alert competitors responding instantly to the knock of opportunity. * * * Your agencies should be seasonably active in every country where you have a chance to gain a fresh commercial footing. * * * You need the ships to carry your wares and to bring back lucrative returns."

But, while painting a bright picture of the potential richness of the country to be brought by the canal to the doors of our Pacific ports, Secretary Knox warned them that, so long as political disorder prevailed in those countries, it was not to be expected that a commercial development could be forced upon them. "Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?" he quoted. "Can you expect an impoverished, perturbed and embarrassed community to throw open wide the door of practical opportunity?"

With this policy pursued where needed in the countries about the Caribbean and with the added impetus given to trade by the opening of the Panama Canal, Secretary Knox prophesied a similar development of markets for the products of the Pacific coast. The country which the Canal will open up to Pacific coast products, he said, includes Northern Brazil, Colombia, Venezuela, British, French and Dutch Guiana, the eastern coast of Central America and the West Indies. The foreign commerce of two of these countries which by the opening of the canal will become commercially tributary to the Pacific coast ports, Colombia and Venezuela, he placed at over $55,000,000. The opening of the canal, declared Mr. Knox, will give our Pacific coast an immense, immediate market in Central and Northern South America for the wheat, flour, lumber, petroleum, machinery and dry goods which it produces.

"It is, indeed, time," he said, "for the manufacturers, merchants, farmers and exporters of this country to consider the tremendous possibilities that the construction of the great waterway between the two oceans by the United States has placed within their grasp, and to consider, also, as directly affecting their interests, the diplomatic and commercial policies

MILLIS NOT GOING

It was stated this afternoon that C. J. Millis will not attend the meeting of the council this evening. It is understood that he feels that he has made his position plain and also the desires of the company and that it is now up to the council to do as they wish. The franchise which they grant will be referred by him to the higher officials of the company.

EXPECT ACTION THIS EVENING

Expect City Council to Grant Some Kind of Franchise This Evening.

According to talk around town today, it is likely that the Marshfield city council will this evening grant the Southern Pacific some kind of a franchise.

It was not generally expected that the franchise that the council will grant will comply with the requests of the Southern Pacific through C. J. Millis. However, Mr. Millis is understood not to be empowered to deviate much from the kind of a franchise which he first requested but will refer the franchise which the council may grant to the higher officials of the Southern Pacific.

It is expected that the council will insist on the "common user" clause being retained in the franchise. This is the principal difference between them and C. J. Millis.

Another problem that will probably come up tonight will be whether the franchise will be granted for Front street or for Broadway. Since the discovery that the Terminal Railway's franchise leaves Broadway in practically the same predicament as Front street, some of the city officials feel that as long as the Southern Pacific will have to make a legal fight for it probably that they would just as soon take the franchise for the west side of Front street. Although the Terminal is now doing active construction on Front street and not on Broadway, it is expected that they will get busy on North Broadway and double the track immediately if the Southern Pacific is awarded a franchise there, making the situation identical. This will probably be put up to Mr. Millis this evening and whether he takes the Front street or the Broadway franchise it will be for him to determine. The Terminal company is proceed-

Reputation of Would-Be Head of Mexican Rebels Causes Strange Mixup.

STILL HOPES THAT OROZCO WILL RELENT

Gomez Will Be Left in Bad Predicament Unless Situation Changes.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

JUAREZ, Mexico, May 8.—The provisional government established here last Saturday by Emilio Vasquez Gomez hangs in the balance. The reputation of the civil authority which Gomez as provisional president created to govern the destinies of the republic is worrying him greatly. Gomez and his associates declare a misunderstanding has occurred. A messenger from Gomez is hurrying to Orozco to place before him certain documents calculated to make him understand. Should Orozco and Gomez fail to agree eventually, Gomez will probably find himself in an embarrassing position. The Mexican government will arrest him on the charge of treason should he venture into federal territory and in Juarez or the rebel zone he is virtually a prisoner of Orozco.

Gomez today stated that he acted in accordance with Orozco for months and as early as March 2 the revolutionary junta at El Paso, he asserted, proclaimed him provisional president and simultaneously invited Orozco to join the revolutionary cause. Gomez exhibited documents to prove his assertions. He exhibited letters of Orozco accepting the office of military chief of the revolution and correspondence in which Orozco welcomed Gomez as provisional president. Pascual Orozco, Sr., assented to Gomez's statements.

TWO SLAIN BY INSANE MEN

Officials of Puget Sound Navy Yard at Bremerton Victims of Maniac.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

SEATTLE, Wash., May 8.—Chas. Ditton, aged 29, assistant dockmaster of the Puget Sound Navy Yard at Bremerton, Wash., was shot and killed, and George W. Trahey, aged 40, dockmaster, was shot fatally today by John Haley, aged 45, who had been declared insane by physicians, but was permitted to go about under observation. Haley was employed in the navy yard 20 years and harbored a delusion that the government owed him a large sum of money. Haley today purchased a pistol and went to the dockmaster's office and began firing at Trahey and Ditton.

ing with its work but not as actively as a few days ago, leading to some talk of there still being a possibility of an agreement being reached between them and the Southern Pacific. Today, teams are hauling the pavement removed from Front street for the tracks away. It is likely that piling will have to be driven along Front street to get a foundation for the roadbed.

The track has been laid on Broadway south of Mill slough and the planking will be put back as soon as the lumber can be secured.
